

THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE.

FOUNDED BY EDWARD ROSEWATER.

VICTOR ROSEWATER, EDITOR.

Entered at Omaha postoffice as second-class matter.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Sunday Bee, one year $1.20...

DELIVERED BY CARRIER. Evening Bee (with Sunday), per month $1.00...

OFFICES. Omaha—The Bee Building, South Omaha—25 N. Twenty-fourth St.

CORRESPONDENCE. Communications relating to news and editorial matter should be addressed Omaha Bee, Editorial Department.

REMITTANCES. Remit by draft, express or postal order, payable to The Bee Publishing Company.

APRIL CIRCULATION. 48,106

State of Nebraska, County of Douglas, ss: Dwight Williams, circulation manager of The Bee Publishing Company...

Subscribed in my presence and sworn to before me this 1st day of May, 1911. ROBERT HUNTER, Notary Public.

Subscribers leaving the city temporarily should have The Bee mailed to them. Address will be changed as often as requested.

The federal supreme court did not, however, uphold Miss Tarbell on every point.

Madero insisted on the United States recognizing his belligerency. We did.

The equanimity with which Mr. Rockefeller bears up under the blow is simply sublime.

The town of Chicago, Ky., has 185 population. It ought to get a cow to kick over the lantern.

Wu Ting-fang says he will live to be 200, and Uncle Joe aspires to 150. There is a beautiful race.

Fish are not annoyed with the toothache, a London scientist tells us. But who wants to be a fish?

It was Missouri that asked to be shown as to the Standard Oil, and the supreme court has shown it.

The attorney general probably will be accused of peanut politics if he went after the Goober trust.

The ratio in the United States supreme court is 5 to 1, but it cannot be a sacred ratio inasmuch as it changes so often.

Really, when it comes to weather-making, you have to give the prize to Forecaster Welsh, who makes all our Nebraska weather.

Governor Hay of Washington is so disgusted with the work of the legislature there he feels like expunging it. Where is the recall?

The Globe-Democrat takes time to observe that Nebraska has 4,000 more automobiles than Connecticut. It has more of everything that is good.

By practicing up his commencement oratory first at home, Governor Aldrich ought to be in fine trim for his forthcoming sortie into Ohio.

As soon as the St. Louis newspapers fight out the question of which one is entitled to the credit for the movement their "Get Together" project will proceed.

Which reminds us, a deposit guaranty law was also promised in the Denver platform, but has not yet been made part of the democratic house caucus program.

Madero's army is a good deal like McNally's Row of Flats, "There's Ireland and Italy, Jerusalem and France" and England, America and Holland, to say nothing of the India.

Those hall stones as big as hen's eggs will have to take a back seat in these days of big business. No hall stones smaller than cocoanuts have a right now to claim public attention.

Records show that farm work is more hazardous than city occupation. That affords another excellent excuse to the Sons of Rest for not responding to the Macedonian call from the wheat fields.

Some times it is quite possible for a court to render a decision that wholly pleases neither of the litigants, and the supreme court seems to have hit upon this happy medium in the Standard Oil opinion.

It will never be known whether those Mexicans made haste because Secretary of War Dickinson postponed his exit one week or because Secretary of War Stimson postponed his entrance upon official duties one week.

No sign of our national legislature following in the footsteps of the Wisconsin state legislature by making log rolling an offense punishable as a felony. For a large part of the membership of the national house and senate the abolition of log-rolling would leave these statesmen completely out of a job.

Arbitration Beginnings.

Through his letter in another column, General Manderson brings to light some interesting documents he has recently dug up that passed between the members of the British House of Commons and our American congress in the early nineties...

Men and Religion.

"Men and Religion" and all other parts of the "Forward Movement" of the evangelical church in recent years have, above everything else to commend them, a definiteness of purpose.

Another factor that highly commends this and kindred movements is that they are interdenominational, embracing all the evangelical churches on a common level.

To win to Christ and the church the largest possible number of men and boys by May 1, 1912. To make a permanent contribution to the best life of the continent, social, political, commercial and physical.

Uncle Sam—Empire Builder.

It is highly fitting that elaborate ceremony should attend the opening of great irrigation dams in the west, such as the Roosevelt dam in Arizona and the Shoshone dam in Wyoming...

The opening of Shoshone dam means the influx of another large number of home-builders into that section of Wyoming—the northern part, Big Horn Basin. Wyoming is in its maiden stage of development...

cities, infusing new life-blood into the nation, increasing its virility and opening up new sources of wealth and channels of trade.

Incorporated Lawyers.

Several eastern bar associations have been resolving against incorporated lawyers, or, to be more explicit, against corporations that do law business among other services which they render to their patrons.

Naturally, the lawyers who are not incorporated object to having business which they formerly monopolized invaded in this fashion. But if they would be frank they would admit that their real grievance is not against competition by incorporated lawyers...

Omaha as a Music Center.

Omaha has never had a music season to equal that which it has had this past year. Its own artists and musical societies have quite outdone themselves.

Musically, Omaha is acquiring standards and standing of high character, and if it will maintain this distinctive position as a music center it can add to its prestige immensely.

Tackling a Man's Job.

The government's action against the alleged Lumber trust deals only with the manufacturing or sale of lumber, not with the ownership or control of standing timber.

Whatsoever power over prices may arise from combinations in manufacture and distribution (as distinguished from owning), such power is insignificant and transitory compared to the control of the standing timber itself.

The distinctive feature of this dam is difficult to name, for there are so many distinctive features. One is that its wall holding back the great flood of water in the Big Horn river is the highest wall in the world...

British Cotton Raising.

British cotton manufacturers have tired of depending so largely on the United States for their raw material, having learned that it is no longer safe if they hope to keep their mills running.

ing too slowly with its work, stated that it had better proceed slowly than to make one mistake in the selection of its seed and thereby retard the ultimate progress of cotton growing in one of the colonies many years.

Not only have the British cotton mills found it impossible in the last few years to supply their demand for cotton from the southern states of America, but the New England mills have met with similar difficulty.

The rule of reason has been eagerly seized upon by law-breakers and near law-breakers as a welcome relief from discomfort of various kinds. But we believe that nowhere does it promise to fill such a long-felt want as with our automobile friends.

Rule of Reason for Autoists.

The rule of reason has been eagerly seized upon by law-breakers and near law-breakers as a welcome relief from discomfort of various kinds. But we believe that nowhere does it promise to fill such a long-felt want as with our automobile friends.

The Commencement Gown.

The commencement gown problem reappears with the approach of the graduation season. It is apparently as robust as it was a year ago and shows no signs whatever of having suffered from past attempts at its solution.

But it does seem, in all seriousness, as if young women filling their heads with practical education might not suffer by the admission of the most sensible ones upon this subject of dress.

People and Events

The United States supreme court will not know the worst until Chancellor Day speaks. A Connecticut experience tends to prove that beer is more effective than water in putting out a fire.

The Criminal Clause.

Governor Woodrow Wilson has the art of so phrasing his speeches as to catch the popular ear, though it is not necessary to impute insincerity to him for doing that.

alties shall be imposed on this class of lawbreakers. Mr. Bryan's Commemorative carries in his last issue a striking advertisement headed, "Prepare for Victory in 1912."

Give Father a Show. Washington Herald. There ought to be a father's day, too, and as a celebration what is the matter with letting him have his pay envelope all to himself one week in the year.

Sleep on, You Innocents. St. Louis Republic. Law-abiding corporations may sleep peacefully ten hours each night; only nefarious combinations whose ways are dark and tricks vain need fear the Sherman act.

An Interesting Educational Item. San Francisco Chronicle. A woman teacher, arguing for higher salaries for her sex, presents statistics to show that it is more expensive for a woman to live than for a man.

Fiction and Reciprocity. Wall Street Journal. In showing the senate committee what a dreadful thing reciprocity would be for the poor farmer, one delegation of Missouri "farmers" told the committee how much wheat was raised in Saskatchewan.

An Awful Prospect. Chicago Record-Herald. In opposing the proposition to pay members of the British House of Commons $2,000 a year Austen Chamberlain predicted that "in such a case the house with money-grabbing politicians seeking an easy livelihood."

Flying in the Paeanmaker. New York Sun. At Daytona, Fla., recently an automobile was driven a mile in twenty-five seconds, which was at the rate 140 miles an hour.

Modern Specific for Banishment of Serpentine Dullness. Brooklyn Eagle. "Display advertising for the house of the Lord beats the church bell," says Robert Frothingham.

SECULAR SHOTS AT PULPIT. Minneapolis Journal. In enlarging upon the topic in his last Sunday's sermon "What Has Become of Hell?" Rev. Charles Bayard Mitchell said he did not want to be associated with certain persons in heaven.

New York World. The vested choir of Calvary church on Fourth avenue is said to be disbanded at the request of Dr. Sedgwick, its evangelizing rector.

People and Events. The United States supreme court will not know the worst until Chancellor Day speaks.

A Connecticut experience tends to prove that beer is more effective than water in putting out a fire.

American who insist on going to London for the crowning of King George should at least heed the friendly caution to fortify coronation room.

To make sure of a "safe and sane" Fourth of July without removing the debris of the frills, the city of New York has appropriated $50,000 to jubilate with fireworks and things.

In the absence of horse racing as a betting lure, Washington sports are offering odds that the British House of Lords will reform itself before the democratic house of representatives completes its economy reform.

It may be right and proper, in a commercial sense, to work the law for the ice man, but the "rule of reason" ought to be invoked in behalf of June brides who are obliged to work overtime trying on their fineries these days.

Four hotels in Chicago boldly defy the lure of the coin and tyrant custom by refusing to submit check room and wash room privileges to organized tipsters.

The village of Wausau, on the shore of Lake Minnetonka, Minn., is ready to provide and furnish a house for President Taft and his family during the summer.

Some girls have such a hard job in landing a man nowadays that one cannot but admire the strenuous pace of the bride-to-be who, when the groom ducked at the church door in Wyoming, Pa., chased him for two blocks and lost the foot race.

Hears disposed to pity the misfortune should reserve the throes until the courts dispose of the breach of promise.

The Bee's Letter Box

Contributions on timely subjects not exceeding two hundred words are invited from our readers.

Arbitration. OMAHA, May 18.—To the Editor of The Bee: The commendable project to settle all international disputes by arbitration has my hearty approval and I long for the time when this may be accomplished.

LONDON, Jan. 1, 1895.—Dear Sir: I have the honor to forward you a copy of a memorial signed by 54 members of the British House of Commons.

Hon. Charles F. Manderson, Senator. To the President and Congress of the United States of America: In response to the resolution adopted by congress on April 4, 1890, the British House of Commons supported in a unanimous affirmative vote the proposal to co-operate with the government of Great Britain in settling disputes between the two countries by means of arbitration.

THE BEE'S LETTER BOX. Contributions on timely subjects not exceeding two hundred words are invited from our readers.

Arbitration. OMAHA, May 18.—To the Editor of The Bee: The commendable project to settle all international disputes by arbitration has my hearty approval and I long for the time when this may be accomplished.

LONDON, Jan. 1, 1895.—Dear Sir: I have the honor to forward you a copy of a memorial signed by 54 members of the British House of Commons.

Hon. Charles F. Manderson, Senator. To the President and Congress of the United States of America: In response to the resolution adopted by congress on April 4, 1890, the British House of Commons supported in a unanimous affirmative vote the proposal to co-operate with the government of Great Britain in settling disputes between the two countries by means of arbitration.

THE BEE'S LETTER BOX. Contributions on timely subjects not exceeding two hundred words are invited from our readers.

Arbitration. OMAHA, May 18.—To the Editor of The Bee: The commendable project to settle all international disputes by arbitration has my hearty approval and I long for the time when this may be accomplished.

LONDON, Jan. 1, 1895.—Dear Sir: I have the honor to forward you a copy of a memorial signed by 54 members of the British House of Commons.

Hon. Charles F. Manderson, Senator. To the President and Congress of the United States of America: In response to the resolution adopted by congress on April 4, 1890, the British House of Commons supported in a unanimous affirmative vote the proposal to co-operate with the government of Great Britain in settling disputes between the two countries by means of arbitration.

THE BEE'S LETTER BOX. Contributions on timely subjects not exceeding two hundred words are invited from our readers.

Arbitration. OMAHA, May 18.—To the Editor of The Bee: The commendable project to settle all international disputes by arbitration has my hearty approval and I long for the time when this may be accomplished.

LONDON, Jan. 1, 1895.—Dear Sir: I have the honor to forward you a copy of a memorial signed by 54 members of the British House of Commons.

Hon. Charles F. Manderson, Senator. To the President and Congress of the United States of America: In response to the resolution adopted by congress on April 4, 1890, the British House of Commons supported in a unanimous affirmative vote the proposal to co-operate with the government of Great Britain in settling disputes between the two countries by means of arbitration.

THE BEE'S LETTER BOX. Contributions on timely subjects not exceeding two hundred words are invited from our readers.

Arbitration. OMAHA, May 18.—To the Editor of The Bee: The commendable project to settle all international disputes by arbitration has my hearty approval and I long for the time when this may be accomplished.

LONDON, Jan. 1, 1895.—Dear Sir: I have the honor to forward you a copy of a memorial signed by 54 members of the British House of Commons.

Hon. Charles F. Manderson, Senator. To the President and Congress of the United States of America: In response to the resolution adopted by congress on April 4, 1890, the British House of Commons supported in a unanimous affirmative vote the proposal to co-operate with the government of Great Britain in settling disputes between the two countries by means of arbitration.

THE BEE'S LETTER BOX. Contributions on timely subjects not exceeding two hundred words are invited from our readers.

Arbitration. OMAHA, May 18.—To the Editor of The Bee: The commendable project to settle all international disputes by arbitration has my hearty approval and I long for the time when this may be accomplished.

LONDON, Jan. 1, 1895.—Dear Sir: I have the honor to forward you a copy of a memorial signed by 54 members of the British House of Commons.

Hon. Charles F. Manderson, Senator. To the President and Congress of the United States of America: In response to the resolution adopted by congress on April 4, 1890, the British House of Commons supported in a unanimous affirmative vote the proposal to co-operate with the government of Great Britain in settling disputes between the two countries by means of arbitration.

THE BEE'S LETTER BOX. Contributions on timely subjects not exceeding two hundred words are invited from our readers.

Arbitration. OMAHA, May 18.—To the Editor of The Bee: The commendable project to settle all international disputes by arbitration has my hearty approval and I long for the time when this may be accomplished.

LONDON, Jan. 1, 1895.—Dear Sir: I have the honor to forward you a copy of a memorial signed by 54 members of the British House of Commons.

Hon. Charles F. Manderson, Senator. To the President and Congress of the United States of America: In response to the resolution adopted by congress on April 4, 1890, the British House of Commons supported in a unanimous affirmative vote the proposal to co-operate with the government of Great Britain in settling disputes between the two countries by means of arbitration.

THE BEE'S LETTER BOX. Contributions on timely subjects not exceeding two hundred words are invited from our readers.

Arbitration. OMAHA, May 18.—To the Editor of The Bee: The commendable project to settle all international disputes by arbitration has my hearty approval and I long for the time when this may be accomplished.

LONDON, Jan. 1, 1895.—Dear Sir: I have the honor to forward you a copy of a memorial signed by 54 members of the British House of Commons.

Hon. Charles F. Manderson, Senator. To the President and Congress of the United States of America: In response to the resolution adopted by congress on April 4, 1890, the British House of Commons supported in a unanimous affirmative vote the proposal to co-operate with the government of Great Britain in settling disputes between the two countries by means of arbitration.

THE BEE'S LETTER BOX. Contributions on timely subjects not exceeding two hundred words are invited from our readers.

Arbitration. OMAHA, May 18.—To the Editor of The Bee: The commendable project to settle all international disputes by arbitration has my hearty approval and I long for the time when this may be accomplished.

LONDON, Jan. 1, 1895.—Dear Sir: I have the honor to forward you a copy of a memorial signed by 54 members of the British House of Commons.

Hon. Charles F. Manderson, Senator. To the President and Congress of the United States of America: In response to the resolution adopted by congress on April 4, 1890, the British House of Commons supported in a unanimous affirmative vote the proposal to co-operate with the government of Great Britain in settling disputes between the two countries by means of arbitration.

THE BEE'S LETTER BOX. Contributions on timely subjects not exceeding two hundred words are invited from our readers.

Arbitration. OMAHA, May 18.—To the Editor of The Bee: The commendable project to settle all international disputes by arbitration has my hearty approval and I long for the time when this may be accomplished.

LONDON, Jan. 1, 1895.—Dear Sir: I have the honor to forward you a copy of a memorial signed by 54 members of the British House of Commons.

Hon. Charles F. Manderson, Senator. To the President and Congress of the United States of America: In response to the resolution adopted by congress on April 4, 1890, the British House of Commons supported in a unanimous affirmative vote the proposal to co-operate with the government of Great Britain in settling disputes between the two countries by means of arbitration.

THE BEE'S LETTER BOX. Contributions on timely subjects not exceeding two hundred words are invited from our readers.

Arbitration. OMAHA, May 18.—To the Editor of The Bee: The commendable project to settle all international disputes by arbitration has my hearty approval and I long for the time when this may be accomplished.

LONDON, Jan. 1, 1895.—Dear Sir: I have the honor to forward you a copy of a memorial signed by 54 members of the British House of Commons.

Hon. Charles F. Manderson, Senator. To the President and Congress of the United States of America: In response to the resolution adopted by congress on April 4, 1890, the British House of Commons supported in a unanimous affirmative vote the proposal to co-operate with the government of Great Britain in settling disputes between the two countries by means of arbitration.

THE BEE'S LETTER BOX. Contributions on timely subjects not exceeding two hundred words are invited from our readers.

MANDELBERG'S

$50,000 Auction Sale OF WATCHES DIAMONDS SILVERWARE AND GOLD JEWELRY NOW IN ITS 3d BIG WEEK

SAVE MONEY BY INVESTING IT You Can Buy DIAMONDS here at your own price. I will gladly "put up" any article you select from our stock—NOTHING WITHHELD—EVERYTHING FOR SALE

A Beautiful Present FREE to some lady at the close of each sale. Ladies are especially invited to attend. We have chairs for their comfort.

2 BIG SALES DAILY AT 2:30 and 7:30 P. M. MANDELBERG'S 1522 FARNAM ST.

DOMESTIC PLEASANTRIES. He—I feel, darling, that I am not half good enough to be your husband, but—She—But what, George? He—I'm a darn sight too good to be the step-son of your grouch parents.—Baltimore Transcript.

Emerald—She's going to marry her fourth husband—and she has always claimed to be a man hater! Gwendolene—Well, perhaps she is; that's her way of getting even with the hateful tribe.—Chicago Tribune.

"I proposed last night, and today I have to see the girl's father." "A painful ordeal." "Yes; I feel morally certain that he is going to borrow at least $500."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"I've been warning Clara Skeggs about allowing her husband to play so much base ball. Now, it's made her a widow." "What are you talking about?" "Nothing's the matter with Skeggs." "I tell you it's finished him; I saw myself in the paper where Bill Skeggs was playing a game and died on the base."—Baltimore American.

Husband (annoyed)—Why do you want me to go with you? You know I detest, dear wife—Oh, you won't have to shop, dear. You'll merely pay the bills.—Boston Transcript.

"And who," asked the Sunday school teacher, "was it that cried, 'Oh, King, live forever!'" "All the life insurance agents," suggested the small boy whose father was an adjuster.—Judge.

OPULENCE. Edmund Vance Cooke. The wee, wee kiss against the lips. The warm head in its shoulder nest. The little legs across my chest. The forward little finger tips. These common riches of the race. Are past all gains of pelf and place.

The sword may conquer throne and state. The song may win the poet's bays. Finance may make another great. Of learning widen out the ways. Choose as you will; My choice is best; The little life across my breast.

The Shakespeare were a petty name To mine and Plato were my foe! The songs were subjects to my rule And nations pawns to play my game; How poor I were had I not pressed This little life against my breast!

Highest Grades in Pianos Mason & Hamlin Kranich & Bach Krakauer Bros. Kimball Bush & Lane Cable Nelson Nothing Better Made Prices $350 up. Terms Easy. Monthly Payments. A. HOSPE CO. 1513 DOUGLAS STREET. P. S. Bring your certificates, any color, any kind, they will go farther for our prices are lower.