Speaker Predicts the Creation of an International Court of Arbitral Justice Within a Short Time.

MOHONK LAKE, N. Y., May 24.—The first announcement of the plan and scope of the Carnegie endowment for international peace, with the appointment of directors of two of the divisions, was made here today by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler in his address as presiding officer of the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration.

Dr. Butler also predicted "with authority" the establishment of the international court of arbitral justice before the time of the third Hague conference. Dr. Butler said:

"The trustees of the endowment have taken a broad and statesmanlike view of its aims and purposes. While they do not overlook the value of the work of the propaganda and intend to aid in carrying it on, they believe that the time has come when the resources of modern scientific methods and of modern scholarship should be brought to bear on the problem of international relations. They believe that the leading jurists and economists of the world should be set at work in the service of humanity to ascertain just what has been done and what are the legal and economic incidents of war and just what are the legal and economic advantages to follow on the organization of the world into a single group of friendly and co-operative nations bound together by the tie of a judicial system resting on the moral consciousness of mankind, from whose findings there can be no successful appeal. The plan of the trustees have been formulated with these ends in view.

Scope of Organizations.
"It has been determined by the trustees of the Carnegie endowment to organize the undertakings in three parts, or divisions—a division of international law, a division of economics and history, and a division of international education.

Third Division Supplementary.
"The division of international law and education, the director of which has not yet been announced, will supplement the work of the two divisions by carrying forward vigorously and in co-operation with existing agencies the educational work of propaganda, the international hospitality and of promoting international friendship.

Cunard Liner Hits
Daunt Rock in a Fog Wednesday

Steamer Ivernia Reaches Queenstown with Twenty-Five Feet of Water in Forehold.

QUEENSTOWN, May 24.—The Cunard line steamer Ivernia, which left Boston May 18 for Queenstown and Liverpool, struck Daunt Rock at noon today during a fog as it was approaching this port after an eventful voyage.

The vessel is now resting at anchor close to the eastern bank of Kintloch channel in the inner harbor, with twenty-five feet of water in its fore compartment. Previous reports that it had been beached were erroneous.

The great hole in the fore part of the liner and the narrow margin of free board above the water sufficiently indicated what a narrow escape the steamer had from destruction.

The captain brought his damaged vessel safely into the inner harbor, where it was anchored. The passengers, who numbered 78, were quickly landed.

Senator Fletcher

Motion to Drop Him from Office Because of His Vote for Lorimer Fails.

BOSTON, May 24.—A proposition to drop the name of United States Senator Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida from the list of unitarian members of the Unitarian association because of his attitude in the Lorimer case last winter, failed at the annual meeting of the association today.

When the nominating committee presented its report, in which the senator's name was placed fourth in the list of unitarian members, Rev. John H. Holmes of New York offered a resolution declaring that "in view of the public services attached to the name of Senator Fletcher we do not regard him as eligible to leadership in that form of Christianity known as Unitarianism and protest against his nomination as vice president."

INSUBRECTOS STILL IN ARMS

Madero Sends a Telegram to General Samuel Garcia Cuellar When He Learns of Latter's Retirement Plans.

MEXICO CITY, May 24.—It is officially announced that President Diaz and Vice President Corral will not resign today, but that their resignations will be tendered to the House of Deputies tomorrow.

JUAREZ, May 24.—Whether Francisco I. Madero will be able to proceed to Mexico City so long as railroad traffic near there is interfered with was considered at the insurgents' headquarters today.

The plan to run a locomotive a short distance ahead of the Madero train to scout for bombs has caused comment. A spectacle of the latest liberator of the country going to Mexico City under armed protection against bombs is not the pleasant omen, said an insurgent chief.

The reason for any opposition to Madero lies in the jealousy of certain revolutionary elements who resent the power assumed by General Madero and Dr. Gomez in naming the cabinet and otherwise forming the personnel of the government which is to succeed Diaz.

Hates to Lose Cuellar.

Upon learning that General Samuel Garcia Cuellar, the federal general who fought against Madero at Casas Grandes, intended to retire from the army, General Madero sent the following telegram to him:

HOOR AND HALF IN CITY

Day Spent by Omaha Men in West Central Part of Nebraska Renewing Friendly Relations.

SCOTIA, Neb., May 24.—(Special Telegram.)—Ord. Omaha and Grand Island linked in history and bound together by chains of mutual interest, was the expression used by a good many people of Grand Island Wednesday afternoon, when the Omaha Trade excursion spent an hour and a half in the city, which is known as the jobbing center of central Nebraska.

When the train arrived in the city the band led one of the best parades ever given by any trade excursion. They marched down the main streets of the city and counter-marched to a position in front of the First National bank. Here surrounded by several hundred people and with every window for blocks filled with people, Rev. Samuel D. Bartle, representing the Grand Island Ad club, stepped out into the circle about the band and a big round voice asked the boys and girls to keep quiet for a few minutes. He then presented the Commercial club with a large silver loving cup, on which is inscribed, "Here's Luck to the Omaha Trade Excursion, May 24, 1911. Grand Island Ad Club."
