CHICAGO MAN BOOSTS FOR RECIPROcity BILL

Says It Would Do This Country a World of Good—People Are Now Paid Well. "Should schedule 'K' which is now before congress, be put into effect it would not only reduce the cost of a suit of clothes about 20 cents and a yard of woolen cloth about 5 cents," said one of the most prominent clothing manufacturers of Chicago, who was in the city Thursday. "The feeling of great interest which swept the country, and filled the people with the fear that the United States was going to pieces is all both. Reciprocity, should it become effective by its passage in congress, would do the United States worlds of good." According to the Chicago man, the railway rate decisions are not favoring the railroads any more than they are the people. There is no reason why the people should become alarmed as it does not affect them in the least. "This feeling of unrest," said he, "is caused by one man telling another that he has been made poor by the high tariffs. This feeling gets among the people and then into the papers and spreads over the country like an epidemic. "The reason the tariffs are so high in this country is because the help is of a better grade and labor costs more than it does in Europe. If the price of labor in this country was as low as it is in Europe, the railroads could not afford to pay the rates for their work and can afford to pay a higher price for goods than in other countries. There is no cause for uneasiness and unrest and the country will still go on as it has in the past. The idea of getting something for nothing should be a certain schedule go through is all guff. Little difference will be noticed by the people."

STANTON SENIORS IN JAIL

Mistaken for "Question Thieves," They Are Gathered in the Lockup. STANTON, Neb., May 26.—(Special.)—Thursday morning the police forces of Stanton succeeded in landing six seniors of the high school in the city jail. The class was out all night trying to hold their class pennant on the high school building and was just about to be successful when the members were told to stop and a revolver was pointed in their faces. Six of the boys accompanied the police to the lockup and the remainder of the class around the school board and Superintendent Welch and the boys were let out after an hour's stay in the city hall. The seniors say they will not graduate until this matter is fixed up, as this has always been the custom. The board had the officers guard the school building to keep the pupils from getting hold of examination questions and when the seniors were at work they were mistaken for "question thieves" and were thus arrested.

Aged Man Killed in Runaway.

LOUP CITY, Neb., May 26.—(Special Telegram.)—An old man named Hajeck of Buffalo county, aged 70 years, was so badly injured in a runaway at Rockville, fourteen miles south of here, this morning that he died about noon. He had his skull fractured, left leg broken, and was otherwise bruised about the body so that death was only a matter of a few hours. He was at Rockville helping a son build a house and was at the yards after a load of lumber when the team became frightened and ran away with the above results.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Chief Briggs, Mayor and the City Attorney in a Deadlock.

PLAN TO PAY POLICE HIITS SNAG

City Treasurer Gets Money from County Treasurer for Redemption of School Bonds and for Road and Scavenger Funds. Chief Briggs' proposed solution to the police question received a setback Thursday morning when Mayor Trainer refused to countenance the scheme on the ground that to pay the police during the months of June and July out of the police appropriation of the next fiscal year would be a transfer of funds not contemplated in the law and further because to apply the funds of the next year to the needs of the current term would create an overlap and cripple the service for the next year. The plan offered by Chief Briggs was to have eighteen men volunteer their services as patrolmen during the months of June and July, with the understanding that they would be remunerated by the city from the police fund of the fiscal year beginning August 1. The plan was drawn up originally with the concurrence of City Attorney H. C. Murphy, but the addition of a new clause to the original draft of the Briggs' plan caused the city attorney to retract his approbation. Mayor Has Plan of Owa. As the matter now stands the mayor has a new plan of his own which proposes to carry through a fire and police force each consisting of fifteen men with an application of $1,000 taken from the scavenger collections and taxes collected in excess of 20 per cent. The mayor has consulted the office of the city treasurer and has received assurances that his plan can be financed by the scavenger collection and excess taxes. The assurances of the city treasurer, however, extend only so far as the provision of the actual money is concerned. When informed of the plan proposed by the mayor, City Attorney Murphy bluntly said that "a dollar from any other fund should be appropriated to the use of the police board" in financing the police system during the months of June and July. The city attorney did not mince words in his characterization of the mayor's scheme. He said that he considered the proposition as an attempt to force the people into countenancing the debauching of the police appropriations on the expectation of having a deficit supplied by the transfer of other funds to that of the fire and police fund. Mr. Murphy concluded his remarks by saying that the mayor could not legally carry his scheme into effect.

Mayor Trainer's Explanation. The mayor, in explaining his plan, said that he could carry them through the present month without any more money. For the month of June he would need $500 for the fire department and $1,300 for the police department. A similar amount would be needed by the police department for the month of August, making a total of $3,000 for the two months. According to documents in the treasurer's office it appears that the scavenger collections have in other years been applied to various uses and supporters of the mayor are anxious to know wherein lies the validity of the city attorney's objections to the plan. The whole matter is a tangled skein in which the mayor, the city attorney, the treasurer's office and the city council are involved, together with the chief of police. The politicians are divided, the police want to get back to work and the merchants are crying for some relief that will afford them police protection. Railroad Presents Bill. South Omaha had a lesson in railroad financing when the Union Pacific railroad sent in a bill for a temporary viaduct built over the new Mud creek sewer that crosses the company's right-of-way. The bill is for the sum of $184,818. When it was first presented to the city, the officials filed the bill and waited. Later a second account was presented and now the city is in a position where it will have to pay for improvements necessary for the railroad. As I understand it, said one man, the city has the right to build a sewer at any place it becomes necessary. It so happened that the sewer had to pass under the Union Pacific tracks and I can not see why the city must pay for the viaduct built by the railroad. The matter will be threshed out between the city and the railroad. In the meantime the bill remains unpaid. H. C. Peterson Injured. H. C. Peterson, residing at Thirty-third and T street, while engaged in the erection of the new sheep barn at the Union Stock yards Thursday forenoon, fell from the building, a distance of twenty-four feet, and was seriously injured. The man was taken in an automobile to the office of Dr. Beck, where it was found that he had sustained a broken rib, a scalp wound and an abrasion over the eye. Dr. Beck was unable to determine whether Peterson had received internal injuries. Peterson, after his wounds had been dressed, was still in a dazed condition. He could not remember where he lived, but told the doctor that he would recognize his wife if he saw her. The injured man was conveyed home by his fellow workmen. Money to Treasurer. City Treasurer John J. Gillin received comfortable checks from County Treasurer Frank A. Purdy Thursday morning. Of the checks, one for $6,880.90 will be devoted to the interest and redemption of the bonds issued by the school district of South Omaha. Another for $4,995 will be devoted to the regular school fund and the last check will be $1,234.50. The scavenger collection by the county treasurer will be added to the interest and sinking fund. Eagles to Name Delegates. Next Tuesday at the meeting of the South Omahaerie No. 124, Fraternal Order of Eagles, fourteen delegates will be elected to represent the society at the state convention to be held at Columbus, Nebraska on June 14 and 15. The local society has a membership of 700 and has just completed a new home at an expense of $15,000. Two Women Hurt in Runaway. Injured to two women resulted from a runaway at Albright Thursday morning. Mrs. Charles Jarrett of Sarpy county and her guest, Mrs. Mary Taylor of Hannibal, Mo., were thrown from a buggy when their horse became frightened. Mrs. Jarrett's right ankle was severely sprained and Mrs. Taylor sustained a fracture of the right arm. Dr. R. E. Schindler attended them and they were taken to the Jarrett home. Mrs. Taylor's injuries are considered serious. Summer Camp for Boys. All the boys of South Omaha are looking forward with interest to the summer camp of the Young Men's Christian association, which will be pitched at Seymour Lake park from June 12 to 23. Starts After a Smoke, Runs Into Holdup Man

Craving for Tobacco Costs Joseph Paul Twenty Dollars and Railroad Ticket. While three highwaymen were robbing Ray Bennett on Nineteenth street between Webster and Burt at 2:30 last night, Joseph Paul, safe in his home, 242 Dodge street, was seized with a sudden craving for a smoke. He redressed himself and started to the corner store for some tobacco. Reaching Twenty-second and Dodge streets the same three highwaymen emerged from beneath some shade trees and took $20 and a railroad ticket to New York from his pockets.
