

TOPICS FOR THE DAY OF REST

Memorial Day to be Observed Everywhere.

HUMMON IN FAREWELL SERMON

New Methodist Episcopal Church at Benson to be Dedicated—Vesper Graduates at Walnut Hill Methodist.

George A. Carter, pastor of the Department of Nebraska, Grand Army of the Republic, and George A. Carter Women's Relief corps No. 1, will worship this year with the Cathedral Street Presbyterian church.

Sunday Rev. John L. Hammon will preach his farewell sermon at the Episcopal church of Benson, which will be dedicated Sunday.

The handsome new Methodist Episcopal church of Benson will be dedicated Sunday. The entrance to the new building, which is a modified colonial in style, is at the corner of Main street and Carter avenue.

Dr. E. H. Hilde, district superintendent, has charge of the morning services which commence at 10:30 o'clock.

At the Walnut Hill Methodist in the evening services will be the eighth annual commencement services of the Nebraska Methodist Episcopal hospital training school for nurses.

George Crook, Grand Army of the Republic No. 26 and Women's Relief Corps No. 1, will attend memorial services at the First Christian church Sunday morning.

Madame E. Anita Hackley, the leading soprano singer of the colored race, who made such a favorable impression here three years ago, is to be heard in Omaha at Jacobs Memorial hall, June 4.

The choir of the First Congregational church will give a special musical program Sunday morning.

Garfield chime, No. 11, will be the guests of Cherry Hill Congregational church, forty-second and Saratoga streets, Sunday morning.

Calvary Branch, Thirty-fourth and Sewall streets, will observe Memorial day services at 11:30 a. m.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Lord Miss Florence O'Neil, pastor of the First Congregational church, corner Forty-second and Saratoga streets, by the pastor, Rev. March, on Memorial Sunday.

Shelburne, on the Feast of Weeks, will be observed at Temple Israel Friday morning, when sixteen children will be confirmed.

The American Bible society has appointed Rev. E. A. Beck of University Place, Neb., to take charge of its Korean agency during the absence of Rev. D. A. Bunker from the field.

The paper service at the Young Women's Christian association Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock will be under the direction of the Bible study committee.

The following program will be sung by the choir of the North Side Christian church at the Plymouth Congregational church, Twenty-third and Sprague streets, Sunday evening.

The music at the North Presbyterian church on Sunday will consist of the following numbers: Violin Solo—The Holy City.

Garfield chime, No. 11, will be the guests of Cherry Hill Congregational church, forty-second and Saratoga streets, Sunday morning.

Calvary Branch, Thirty-fourth and Sewall streets, will observe Memorial day services at 11:30 a. m.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Rev. J. H. March, pastor of the First Congregational church, corner Forty-second and Saratoga streets, by the pastor, Rev. March, on Memorial Sunday.

Shelburne, on the Feast of Weeks, will be observed at Temple Israel Friday morning, when sixteen children will be confirmed.

The American Bible society has appointed Rev. E. A. Beck of University Place, Neb., to take charge of its Korean agency during the absence of Rev. D. A. Bunker from the field.

The paper service at the Young Women's Christian association Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock will be under the direction of the Bible study committee.

The following program will be sung by the choir of the North Side Christian church at the Plymouth Congregational church, Twenty-third and Sprague streets, Sunday evening.

The music at the North Presbyterian church on Sunday will consist of the following numbers: Violin Solo—The Holy City.

Garfield chime, No. 11, will be the guests of Cherry Hill Congregational church, forty-second and Saratoga streets, Sunday morning.

Calvary Branch, Thirty-fourth and Sewall streets, will observe Memorial day services at 11:30 a. m.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Rev. J. H. March, pastor of the First Congregational church, corner Forty-second and Saratoga streets, by the pastor, Rev. March, on Memorial Sunday.

Shelburne, on the Feast of Weeks, will be observed at Temple Israel Friday morning, when sixteen children will be confirmed.

The American Bible society has appointed Rev. E. A. Beck of University Place, Neb., to take charge of its Korean agency during the absence of Rev. D. A. Bunker from the field.

The paper service at the Young Women's Christian association Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock will be under the direction of the Bible study committee.

The following program will be sung by the choir of the North Side Christian church at the Plymouth Congregational church, Twenty-third and Sprague streets, Sunday evening.

The music at the North Presbyterian church on Sunday will consist of the following numbers: Violin Solo—The Holy City.

Garfield chime, No. 11, will be the guests of Cherry Hill Congregational church, forty-second and Saratoga streets, Sunday morning.

Calvary Branch, Thirty-fourth and Sewall streets, will observe Memorial day services at 11:30 a. m.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Rev. J. H. March, pastor of the First Congregational church, corner Forty-second and Saratoga streets, by the pastor, Rev. March, on Memorial Sunday.

Shelburne, on the Feast of Weeks, will be observed at Temple Israel Friday morning, when sixteen children will be confirmed.

The American Bible society has appointed Rev. E. A. Beck of University Place, Neb., to take charge of its Korean agency during the absence of Rev. D. A. Bunker from the field.

The paper service at the Young Women's Christian association Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock will be under the direction of the Bible study committee.

The following program will be sung by the choir of the North Side Christian church at the Plymouth Congregational church, Twenty-third and Sprague streets, Sunday evening.

The music at the North Presbyterian church on Sunday will consist of the following numbers: Violin Solo—The Holy City.

Garfield chime, No. 11, will be the guests of Cherry Hill Congregational church, forty-second and Saratoga streets, Sunday morning.

Calvary Branch, Thirty-fourth and Sewall streets, will observe Memorial day services at 11:30 a. m.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Rev. J. H. March, pastor of the First Congregational church, corner Forty-second and Saratoga streets, by the pastor, Rev. March, on Memorial Sunday.

Shelburne, on the Feast of Weeks, will be observed at Temple Israel Friday morning, when sixteen children will be confirmed.

The American Bible society has appointed Rev. E. A. Beck of University Place, Neb., to take charge of its Korean agency during the absence of Rev. D. A. Bunker from the field.

The paper service at the Young Women's Christian association Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock will be under the direction of the Bible study committee.

The following program will be sung by the choir of the North Side Christian church at the Plymouth Congregational church, Twenty-third and Sprague streets, Sunday evening.

The music at the North Presbyterian church on Sunday will consist of the following numbers: Violin Solo—The Holy City.

Garfield chime, No. 11, will be the guests of Cherry Hill Congregational church, forty-second and Saratoga streets, Sunday morning.

Calvary Branch, Thirty-fourth and Sewall streets, will observe Memorial day services at 11:30 a. m.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Rev. J. H. March, pastor of the First Congregational church, corner Forty-second and Saratoga streets, by the pastor, Rev. March, on Memorial Sunday.

Shelburne, on the Feast of Weeks, will be observed at Temple Israel Friday morning, when sixteen children will be confirmed.

The American Bible society has appointed Rev. E. A. Beck of University Place, Neb., to take charge of its Korean agency during the absence of Rev. D. A. Bunker from the field.

The paper service at the Young Women's Christian association Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock will be under the direction of the Bible study committee.

The following program will be sung by the choir of the North Side Christian church at the Plymouth Congregational church, Twenty-third and Sprague streets, Sunday evening.

The music at the North Presbyterian church on Sunday will consist of the following numbers: Violin Solo—The Holy City.

Garfield chime, No. 11, will be the guests of Cherry Hill Congregational church, forty-second and Saratoga streets, Sunday morning.

Calvary Branch, Thirty-fourth and Sewall streets, will observe Memorial day services at 11:30 a. m.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Omaha Typographical union No. 28 will conduct its annual memorial services at the First Presbyterian church, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, Sunday morning.

Where the June Bride May Dream Her Fondest Dream

This store—the June bride's furniture store—is suggestive of the peaceful, comfortable, beautiful and ideal home, just as the June bride herself is suggestive of all that embodies happiness, bliss and contentment.

the peaceful, comfortable, beautiful and ideal home, just as the June bride herself is suggestive of all that embodies happiness, bliss and contentment. Actually the June bride may here dream of her future home—see it completely furnished, with the most charming and substantial pieces, the most inviting rugs of rich luster and soft texture, the most attractive draperies that hang in richest folds and make home cool and delightfully refreshing.

There are articles that her dainty, exacting taste cannot resist. That white enameled furniture, for instance—it is so beautiful. And how that cunning little dressing table delights her. It is simply an appealingly educational trip for the June bride to come here.

- Solid Brass Bed—One-piece tubing. Absolutely solid. No veneer. Substantial, beautiful and distinctive. One of the best beds made. Price $54.00. Others as low as $12.50.
Solid Mahogany Dresser—Magnificent article of the best construction. 42-inch top. Handsome French plate mirror, 24x39. It is a dresser that will lend charm to any room. $37.00.
Long-Lasting Refrigerator—Solid oak, one-piece porcelain lining. It is an economy ice box that will save ice and keep preserved all foods. $33.00. Others up from $8.50.
Solid Mahogany Chiffonier—Companion article for dresser, French plate mirror, 16x20. Distinctive, strongly made, and the kind you will delight to live with. $35.00.
Four Poster Mahogany Bed—Queen Ann style. It has an air that is bewitching. One can not gaze upon it without wishing to lie down. It is substantial and beautiful. $23.50.
Fumed Oak Extension Table—Tudor style, with 8-foot extension. The base is very heavy, and the table has every mark of thorough construction and artistic craftsmanship. $26.00.

Miller, Stewart & Beaton Co.

The Tag-Policy House. Established 1884. 413-15-17 South Sixteenth Street.

Kindergarten Class at Windsor School

