of Curporations. NEW TORK, June L-Theodore Roosewelt has an article on "The Standard Off Decision and After" in the Outlook. It mays: in part:

"The decision of the supreme court in the Standard Oil case has of course brought out many proposals for altesing or amending the anti-trust law. There are two classes of men whose respective attitudes in reference to this law are in theory diametrically opposed and in results almost identically the same: these men who wish no interference whatever by the government with any combinations or corperations; and those men who under the pien of being against all combinations and but corporations propose absolutely to prohibit their existence.

"In theory these two sets of men are diametrically opposed. In practice the ac-Dvities of the second class, who wish totaily to prohibit all corporations, can only result in practically faiffilling the wim of the first class by leaving the present simation fundamentally unchanged. Actual experience has shown that the anti-trust law does not and can not by any possibillty be made to do what the extreme antagonists of corporations desire or asnest that they desire.

Law Docs Same Good.

"As construed by the supreme court the anti-trust law accomplishes a certain amount of good, and it has been a good thing to obtain the decision that has been obtained against the Standard Oil company. But as a means of effectually grap-BIG BANQUET FOR EDITORS pling on behalf of the whole people with he problem created by what are comonly called trusts-that is, of enormous mbinations of corporate capital engaged interstate business-the anti-trust law is radically and vitally defective and any effore to strengthen it would be worse than futile, and would result only in proonging the time during which the curporams will excave control of the kind demanded in the interests of the people,

"The anti-trust law was framed on the theory that it was possible to turn back does accompilate a certain amount of good, One hundred automobiles will be required it was out of the question that framed as to convey the visitors from the Massnic it was in such a spirit and with such a temple. More Regulation Needed.

"What is orgently needed in the enact ment of drastic and far-reaching legislation which shall put the great interstate business corporations of the type of the Standard Off company, the sugar trust, the steel trust and the like at least as completely under the control and regulation of the government in each and every respect as the interstate railroads are now

"To break up the Standard Oil company as the recent decision has broken it up, does a certain amount of good; but it does not do anything the the amount of good that would be achieved from the standpoint of the public if the proper governnental body were given the same superision and control over it as the interstate Commerce commission has established over
