Heat Has Slight Effect on Racers in Ad-Getter Contest.

ALL SPEED AHEAD OF MERCURY Workers Push to Front and Overtake Those Who Are Inclined to Staff When Weather Acts Up Inconsistently.

It certainly was hot yesterday. Whew! It probably will not be many days this summer. But hot weather has but little to do with the subject of this article.

The terrific heat of yesterday did not affect contestants in the Ad-Getter race in the least. They kept at their work in the best fashion possible and the number of votes brought in was the largest of any day since the contest was started.

The size of the vote was made possible only through the hard work of the contestants. Not a boy entered in the race permitted the heat to keep him from pushing right out after ads. That is the reason the contest is going to be a good one—everyone entered is working hard and none of the laggards will have a chance. It takes work to win in any contest.

Working Every Minute Wins. There now are more than 50 contestants entered in the race. They are all going after votes with consistent plugging every day. The boys who are a few votes behind their friends realize they must work harder than they have been in order that they shall be able to pass the leaders.

Only paid ads count in this contest. Every ad is worth one vote. If the ad is run twice it counts as two votes; if run five times it counts as five votes. No entry fee is charged for the contest.

Ada Must Be Paid. The rate for Bee want ads is 14 cents a word if run only once. If run more than once the rate is 1 cent a word. Bring the cash and the want ad to the Want Ad editor and you will be credited with votes.

All Prizes Very Attractive. The first prize is a $50 baby grand Ludwig piano. The other prizes are: Second, $10 graduation scholarship course in the Omaha Commercial college; third, $10 graduation scholarship course in the Omaha Commercial college; fourth, ladies' or gentlemen's solid gold watch, sold by T. L. Combs; fifth and sixth, ladies' tailored suits, valued at $50 each, sold by Novelty Skirt company, 24-26 North Sixteenth street; seventh and eighth, two National bicycles, value $25, sold by the Omaha Bicycle company, 26th and Chicago streets; ninth and tenth, value $13 each, two full memberships in the Young Women's Christian association; eleventh and twelfth, value $13 each, two full memberships in the Young Men's Christian association.

Technich Team Loses Contest. NEW YORK, June 1.—Announcement was made today that the Technich team was defeated here this evening by the Northwestern Business College team by the score of 11 to 2.

New Books

QUEED, by Helen Scott Harrison; 430 pp.; $1.25; Houghton-Mifflin company.

QUEED is a solitary, somewhat pedantic young man who drifts into a southern city, settles down in a boarding house, and applies himself to the composition of a learned tome on "revolutionary sociology."

DAWN OF THE MORNING, by Grace Livingston Hill; 350 pp.; $1.25; J. B. Lippincott company.

The scene of this story is laid in New York state about 1828. It has for its plot the somewhat unusual complications surrounding the marriage of a young girl to a worthy young man, who is substituted at the last moment, and without the knowledge of the bride, for a brother, who already has a wife and two children.

THE SECOND AMENDMENT, by Henry Clay Hensbrough; 350 pp.; $1.40; The Hudson Publishing company.

This story is supposed to be written some ten or a dozen years hence and portrays conditions as the author thinks they will be at that time. There is a charming love story running through the pages and a mystery which holds attention to the end.

THE GIRL IN THE OTHER SEAT, by Henry Kitchell Webster; 342 pp.; $1.25; D. Appleton & Co.

An automobile story, the action taking place largely in the Adirondacks. At the beginning of the story the hero, a winner of Vanderbilt cup races, is perfecting, with the aid of a chemist, a new explosive by which to drive automobiles. It is cheaper than gasoline, and safer; and a small revolution will happen in the automobile world when he gets it perfected. The girl plays a prominent part in the story, which ends happily.

ORPHANS, by Helen Dawes Brown; 288 pp.; $1.25; Houghton-Mifflin company.

This story portrays the effects of divorce on the children of separating parents. It begins with the inevitable separation of a husband absorbed in his business from his frivolous and pleasure-seeking wife. The two children, though nominally in the charge of their parents, are practically set adrift in the world. What becomes of them and how the effects of their parents' separation continue to hang over them, is part of the story.

TO LOVE AND TO PERISH, by Eliza Calvert Hall; 266 pp.; $1; Little, Brown & Co.

The scene of this story is laid in Kentucky. A lawyer, rising from obscure surroundings and about to receive the nomination for the highest office in the state, is the hero, and his wife, a plain mountain woman who did not think she had the education that a governor's wife should have, is the heroine of the story.

ADVENTURES OF SCHOOLSBOYS, by John R. Coryell, M. E. Dittie, M. S. Mc-

Cobb, David Ker and others; 192 pp.; 60 cents; Harper & Bros.

This book affords a panorama of interesting and adventurous experiences which have an association with some phase of school life. There are boys from private and public schools of city and country in these tales, which range from races to deeds of heroism, and from an Indian school to the story of a strange night at an English university.

THE AIRSHIP BOYS IN FINANCE, by H. L. Saylor; 256 pp.; $1; Kelly & Britton company.

Another of the "Airship Boys" series. This story tells how the boys harnessed an association with some phase of school life. There are boys from private and public schools of city and country in these tales, which range from races to deeds of heroism, and from an Indian school to the story of a strange night at an English university.

THE RETURN OF CAROLINE, by Florence Morse Kingsley; 266 pp.; 60 cents; Funk & Wagnalls company.

A delightful story in Mrs. Kingsley's familiar vein, in which she again brings home to her readers an elementary and wholesome truth in life.

FAVORITES FROM FAIRYLAND, by Ada Van Stone Harris; 130 pp.; Harper & Bros.

This volume includes "Little Snowdrop," "Cinderella, or, The Glass Slipper," "The Ugly Duckling," "Jack and the Bean-Steak," "Beauty and the Beast" and "The Sleeping Beauty in the Wood."

BUDDIE: THE STORY OF A BOY, by Anna Chapin Ray; 266 pp.; $1.50; Little, Brown & Co.

Buddie is a genuine, warm-hearted, somewhat mischievous boy, who, being temporarily separated from his father, takes up a new home with his aunt in a town in New England. Both boys and girls will like "Buddie" and his dog, Ebenoser; Theresa, the girl next door, her brother, Sandy, and the other boys and girls of the book.

BOYS OF OAKDALE ACADEMY, by Morgan Scott; 312 pp.; 60 cents; Hurst & Co.

This is the fourth volume of the "Oakdale Academy Series," and describes life at the academy and the various school sports.

THE CLOTHESPIN BRIGADE, by Clara L. Smiley; 70 pp.; 15 cents; Broadway Publishing company.

A little volume of fantastic verse for boys and girls.

NEXT NIGHT STORIES, by Clarence Johnson; 142 pp.; $1; Broadway Publishing company.

A collection of eight little stories of interest to children.

JOE, THE CIRCUS BOY, by Alice E. Allen; 97 pp.; 50 cents; L. C. Page & Co.

The story of a little boy who runs away from a circus and is befriended by a sympathetic family. In the end he finds his own mother, who lost him in an accident when he was a baby.

STARS SHOWN TO THE CHILDREN, by Ellison Hawkes; 118 pp.; 50 cents; The Platt & Peck company.

In simple language children may read for themselves and be able to understand some of the wonderful things found out by astronomers. Illustrated with colored plates.

THE S. I. G's. are the "State Island Giants," a boys' club, organized for base ball and other sports. Besides engaging in their various sports they organize a boys' brigade, have tent circuses, assume Indian costume, are by turns mischievous and adventurous, win in athletics and are exposed to actual danger, the story finally winding up with a merry Christmas.

Treasury Makes Good Showing for Month

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The treasury made a much better showing for May than did for April, and its condition as compared with a month ago is materially strengthened. The pling up of gold coin and bullion in the vaults continues steadily. A little more than $1,815,000,000 was there today, the high-water mark for the treasury's gold holdings.

House Member Uses Fists On Negro in Street Car

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Representative S. A. Roddenberry of Georgia came to blows with a negro in a street car tonight. No great damage was done by the combatants. The incident, however, caused no little excitement. Mr. Roddenberry, Speaker Champ Clark, Representative Ollie M. James and Representative Ben Johnson of Kentucky were among a number of members who had boarded the car at the conclusion of the democratic caucus shortly before midnight. A negro man and woman got on and the woman sat beside Mr. Roddenberry. There remained between her and the Georgian a few inches of the longitudinal seat. Her escort sought to fill the space with a bulk fully twice that of Mr. Roddenberry, who is in the "bantam class."
