The wedding of Miss Jean Cudahy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Aloysius Cudahy, to Mr. Frank Edward Wilhelm, was celebrated Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cudahy on Thirty-seventh street and Dewey avenue, and was one of the most brilliant social events of the year. Bishop Richard Sennell performed the ceremony in the music room, the wedding party standing before an improvised altar of asparagus ferns and pink roses. A profusion of Kilmoryn and Dorothy Perkins roses and pink and white peonies gave the rooms the appearance of a rose garden. The Lohengrin wedding march was played by a string orchestra in the reception hall, back of an arbor of green. The ribbons were stretched from the stairway to the altar in the music room, by Miss Florence Cudahy, Miss Alice Cudahy, sisters of the bride, and by Miss Esther Wilhelm, sister of the groom. They wore dainty white lingerie gowns of lace and hand embroidered, trimmed with rose pink. The bridesmaids were Miss Josephine Cudahy of Milwaukee and Miss Mary Donaldson of Minneapolis. Miss Frances Nash and Miss Brownie Bess Baum. They were gowned alike in attractive costumes of pink satin cut with short, square trains. An overdress of Venetian lace was worn over the pink satin, the overdress held in place with Dutch bows of pink velvet. They carried dainty muffs of green ferns trimmed with Kilmoryn roses; from the muffs fell showers of lilies of the valley. Gold pendant rings set with pearls were the gifts the bride gave to her bridesmaids. Miss Helen Cudahy, sister of the bride, was charming and wore a gown of pink satin with square train draped in the same shade of chiffon, beaded with pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of pink Kilmoryn roses. The bride's gift was a lorgnette of platinum, set with diamonds. The bride was beautiful in her wedding gown of soft, white satin, with court train, made with overdress of embroidered marquisette. Real rose point lace formed the bodice of the gown. The long tulle veil was held in place with California orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, with a shower of lilies of the valley. The groom's gift was a circle brooch set with diamonds. Mr. Edward A. Cudahy, Jr., was best man.

The bride and her two bridesmaids from Omaha, Miss Nash and Miss Baum, have all been honored, by being chosen Queens of Ak-Sar-Ben. In only one other wedding in Omaha, have three queens participated. About 200 guests were present at the ceremony and 500 guests at the reception which followed. Many handsome costumes were seen. Mrs. Edward A. Cudahy wore white satin with over dress of white chiffon beaded in pearls. It was toned with black and white embroidery, with rose colored sash. Mrs. Baum wore a pretty imported gown of white lace, made over flesh colored satin with coral chiffon trimming, and a sash of coral chiffon. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilhelm left last evening for New York, where they will sail June 7, on the George Washington, for a three months' trip abroad. The bride wore her tailor suit of navy blue, with a black and white hat. They will be at home after September 1, at 2823 Harney street. Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Elizabeth Eulen of Franklin, Pa.; Miss Nora Fordman of Los Angeles; Miss Marjorie Edwards of Chicago, and Miss Gertrude Fitzgerald of Chicago, all of whom were school friends of the bride, at Mrs. Sumner's school in Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cudahy and Miss Cudahy of Chicago came for the wedding.

Ak-Sar-Ben Queen Engaged.
The wedding of a young woman who has been popular enough to have been chosen queen of Ak-Sar-Ben is always a social event of prime interest. And now rumor connects the name of one of Omaha's most charming daughters, and the one who has been crowned queen of Quivers, with that of a young eastern man, who has made two visits to Omaha in the last year, although one visit was not chronicled, as the young man remained but two days, and only visited the family of the attractive young woman. The engagement will probably not be announced, for some time, but the young woman's friends say "It is no secret," but the family are not ready to announce the engagement, as the wedding will not be celebrated for several months. To Have Sponsors or Not. Sponsor, to be or not to be, is one of the thrilling questions pending in twain the peaceful atmosphere circulating about the Omaha High school. That is, the question pertains to the next year. Some philosopher said once upon a time that all the world was balanced evenly, to the weight of a hair. Thus it must follow that to have or have not a sponsor is a question of whether the joys will outweigh the sorrows. For there are naturally both in the consideration of the point. Choosing a sponsor for a military company, battalion or regiment is a duty not to be lightly considered nor done in the short time of a month or so. No. It should be considered from the time of the graduation year before and a suitable young woman selected for the honor and responsibility. Now, in some of the years gone back the captains of various companies have declared that sponsors were not a part of the yearly program and what they have laid down is the law. In other years, as in the one just past, the girls have reigned supreme. Even so there are seasons in which the captains are divided on the question. Expense is one of the things that has kept the feet of the future officers in the path of indecision. The choosing of a sponsor makes flowers and social entertainments necessary and this is to be considered. Thus there is the silent debating of the course to be pursued and only the facts as they turn out next year will bring the answer.

Students Return.
Most of the undergraduates of the University of Nebraska return home Monday, while the seniors remain a week longer for the commencement exercises. The sorority

Of the Alpha Phi Miss Ruth Halter will return.

Brownell Hall Commencement.
The events in connection with commencement at Brownell Hall began Saturday with the annual alumnae luncheon and election of officers. Saturday evening the Junior class will give an entertainment in compliment to the seniors. Sunday morning Bishop Williams will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at St. Mathias and Monday evening there will be a reception at the hall in honor of the class and a recital by the pupils of the music department. The commencement exercises will be held at St. Mathias church Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Dean Tancock, delivering the address to the graduates. D.; Ruth Strelitz, North Platte; Helen Leet, Omaha; Alma Reynolds, Elgin; Fern Jackson, Elgin; Nana Cotterman, Manila; Mildred Miles, Sidney; Ruth Walos, Sioux City, Ia.; Catherine Hoffman, Neigh; Bess Cattie, Edward, and Bertha Dickey, Omaha.

BOKHARA OR TEKKE RUGS

These rugs are so distinctly marked in pattern that it does not require an expert to recognize a Bokhara. Though there are no two rugs alike, there is a similarity of pattern which consists of Octagonal figures repeated in the center with diamond shaped figures separating the octagons across the width of the rug. The ground coloring is always a rich dark red, wine or pink, while blue or white predominates in the figures. They run from 144 to 400 knots to a square inch; warp and woof wool sometimes goats' hair, pile of soft wool and velvety to the touch. Sides are overcast with wool of same color as rug.

There is also the Prayer Bokhara, sometimes known as the Princess Bokhara, the predominating color being soft maroon.

We have a very few choice specimens of this never-tiring rug—a rug that grows richer and dearer to the heart as the days go on—just as some wonderful painting. The sizes vary 2-10x3-8 to 5-3x4.

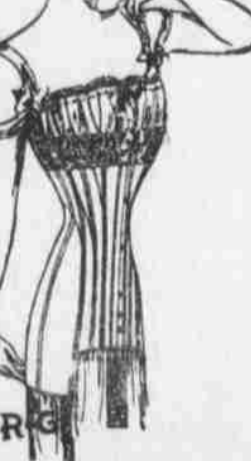

Even though we are the only importers of Oriental Rugs in Omaha and have one of the largest collections of Oriental Rugs in the country our supply of the wonderful Bokhara is limited. You should see them soon.
