

DAVIS CONFIRMS THE RUMOR

Admits He is to Resign from the City Council July 1.

SAYS HE WILL MOVE TO PUEBLO

Applicants to Fill the Commissioner's Shoes Are Numerous—Davis Will Remain in Omaha for a While.

Councilman Charles M. Davis of the Twelfth ward is back from Pueblo and confirms the report, at first published in The Bee, that he expected to go into business there. His removal from Omaha will necessitate his resignation from the city council, to which he was elected two years ago, leaving the unexpired term to be filled by an appointive successor.

Son of Board Member is Census Enumerator

County Superintendent is Investigating as to Whether Lad of 14 May Serve.

Complaints that minors of tender years are being employed as census enumerators in the Omaha school district are being investigated by W. A. Yoder, county superintendent of schools.

Records in the office of the secretary of the Board of Education show that G. D. Williams has been appointed an enumerator in the Lehigh district. Williams is a son of Dr. Grant Williams, a member of the board of education. He is 14 years old according to his mother.

Whether minors can administer the oaths as required by law is the phase of the situation that the county superintendent is investigating.

"The statutes provide no qualifications for the enumerators," stated Superintendent Yoder Monday morning. "But it seems a little out of the ordinary that young lads should be given the appointments in preference to older persons who do not think there is anything that prevents the appointment of such lads. The statutes are silent on this point. Yet I rather doubt that oaths administered by such would be legal."

RASH SO BAD BABY CAME NEAR DYING

Head Broke Out. Spread to Arms, Legs and Entire Body. Itched So He Would Scratch Until Blood Ran. One Box of Cuticura Ointment and Nearly One Cake of Cuticura Soap Cured Him. Has Had No Return.

"When my boy was about three months old, his head broke out with a rash which was very itchy and ran a water. I tried everything we could but he got worse all the time, till it spread to his arms, legs and then to his entire body. He got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would itch so that he would scratch till the blood ran, and a thin yellowish stuff would be all over his body in the morning. I had to put ointment on his hands to prevent him tearing his skin. He was so weak and run down that he took to his bed as if he were dying. He was almost a skeleton and his little hands were thin like claws."

"He was bad about eight months when we tried Cuticura Remedies. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the daytime for a long while. I washed him with Cuticura Soap and put on one application of Cuticura Ointment and he was so soothed that he could sleep. You don't know how glad I was to feel better. It took one box of Cuticura Ointment and pretty near one cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Remedies and I shall always remain a firm friend of them. He was cured more than twenty years ago and there has been no return of the trouble. I shall be glad to have you publish this true statement of his cure." (Signed) Mrs. M. C. Mattland, Jasper, Ontario, May 27, 1910.

Cuticura Remedies afford the most economical treatment for affections of the skin and scalp. A cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient. Sold everywhere. Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., sole agents, 205 Columbus Ave., Boston. Sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, with 25-p. book on skin treatment.

Woodmen Building Bids Were Opened in Chicago Monday

Successful Bidder to Be Announced Next Monday—More Money May Be Needed.

Bids for the new Woodmen of the World building to be erected at Fourteenth and Farnam streets were opened at a meeting of the building committee in Chicago Monday.

According to reports that were received in the Omaha offices of the lodge all the members of the committee were present. They were: J. C. Root, sovereign commander, Omaha; John T. Yates, sovereign clerk, Omaha; W. A. Frazer, sovereign adviser, Dallas, Tex.; J. E. Fitzgerald, sovereign manager, Kansas City, Mo.; and M. B. Maxey, sovereign manager, Muskogee, Okl.

The meeting was held in the offices of Holabird & Roche, the architects of the eighteen-story structure. J. M. Walsh of Omaha, who will be manager of the building, also attended the meeting.

The announcement of the successful bidder will not be made until next Monday or Tuesday. After examining the bids the building committee will go to Rochester, N. Y., where a conference with the executive council of the lodge will be held. If it is found necessary to make an appropriation larger than the $500,000 that has been made for the building it will be decided upon at this conference.

Fabrics Cumbersome and Bother, Besides

Leave it to the Women to Dress According to the Season's Dictates.

With this weather begins female tyranny in earnest. Glad in peek-a-boo waists, with bewitching patterns of transparencies and revealing, women look with scorn upon sweaters, man, and if he takes off his coat in a public place or even shows a glimpse of the most modest baby blue suspenders there is still more heat and much trouble.

Some men are inclined to answer the tyrannous commands of respectability in a stubborn and unyielding manner. At a speakeasy by a downtown institution, presumably for the benefit of men, but managed by women, two men ordered to put their coats on while eating, rose with faces of adamant and sought less austere surroundings.

At the convention of Nebraska editors the question was easily solved. J. N. Ludi of Waboo arose and started upon a long preamble about the fact that it was a family gathering. While he spoke the patience of President Wood, who had been sitting for an hour or more, became exhausted and he slipped down under his coat. Mr. Ludi, whose preamble had been leading to that point, sighed and sat down, and the sigh and the doffing of coats became general.

But in all places where both sexes bow low to propriety, a perversion of the adage seems to apply, "men must sweat or women must weep." Some day an enterprising man will wear a shirt with a band of chicken wire insertion through it just below the shoulders. Then he can demand his rights and equality.

SUPREME COURT ADOPTS OMAHA MAN'S SUGGESTION

Judicial Reform in Practice is First Suggested by R. W. Breckenridge.

An Omaha lawyer played a leading part in the fight for judicial reform in the cumbersome system of rules governing practice in the federal equity courts, that reached assurance Saturday when Chief Justice White of the supreme court of the United States took the initial step for reform by appointing a committee of revision from among the associate judges.

Ralph W. Breckenridge, as chairman of the committee of fifteen of the National Civic Federation on judicial reform and legal procedure, was in a good part responsible through his activity in the matter for the step taken by the supreme court. Mr. Breckenridge, although by no means the first to protest against the unwieldy rules of procedure, was among the first to suggest that the reform could best come through the supreme court and to work along those lines. Through correspondence he brought the matter to the attention of the chief justice and received favorable recognition, the latter giving him to understand some weeks ago that he intended taking action in the matter.

PEACEFUL VILLAGE OF DUNDEE IS DISTURBED

Call for Help to the Omaha Police is Answered by Lead of Officers.

Dundee was thrown into a state of terror yesterday when Christ Christofferson tore down at his home, 69 North Forty-eighth street, and proceeded to reduce the furniture to kindling wood.

The regularity with which the telephone at police headquarters kept ringing for help caused the officer in charge to send help to Policeman Thornton, who had been called across the city line to save the infuriated man's family from annihilation. Thornton had been getting the worst of the argument from Christofferson when the patrol wagon, loaded with policemen, arrived on the scene and took the disturber to the station, where he sweated during the remainder of the day and all of the night.

EVERYBODY HELPS RUNNERS

Friends and Strangers Alike Go to Assistance of "Ad-Getters."

HOW ONE CONTESTANT PROFITED

Advertiser Gets Such Good Results that He Places Second Ad in Order to Give Youth All the Votes He Deserves.

"Everybody seems to be ready to aid me in this contest." So spoke a brilliant young lad who is among the topnotchers in the ad-getter contest of The Bee. This young fellow has found that everybody—people with whom he is acquainted and others who he has never seen—willingly aid him in getting ads so that he will have votes in the contest. Every ad counts for one vote if run but once. If it is run more than one time it counts for a number of votes equal to the number of insertions.

Horse Trainer is Ordered Out of the Fashionable Section

Residents Object to the Rattle of Tin Cans and Cowbells Used by Trainer.

Breaking wild horses through the medium of cow bells and a string of tin plates has so jarred upon the nerves of the residents near fashionable Windsor place that a dozen residents appeared in police court Monday morning to explain the manner in which A. B. Elrod has transformed that exclusive settlement into a perpetual bedlam. Elrod is a horse trainer and he makes a specialty of breaking the most stubborn animals which have been given up by other trainers as hopeless. Ten weeks ago he rented a house and stable at 1225 South Thirty-fourth street and improvised a breaking paddock in the yard which was surrounded with a twelve-foot fence.

The Omaha Bee's Great Booklovers' Contest

NO. 63—TUESDAY, JUNE 6, 1911.

What Does This Picture Represent?

Title ..... Author ..... Your Name ..... Street and Number ..... City or Town .....

After you have written in the title of the book, save the coupon and picture. Do not send any coupons until the end of the contest is announced. Remember the picture represents the title of a book—not a scene or character from it. Catalogues containing the names of all the books on which the puzzle pictures are based are for sale at the Business Office of The Bee—25 cents. By mail, 50 cents.

Rules of the Contest

All persons are eligible to enter this contest except employees of the Omaha Bee and members of their families. Each day, for seventy-five days, there will be published in The Bee a picture which will represent the name of a book. Beneath each picture there will be a blank for the contestant to fill in the name and author of the book and add your name in any readily found plainly in the space provided. No restrictions will be placed on the way in which answers to the pictures may be secured. Each picture represents only one title of a book. If you are not sure of a title and wish to send in more than one answer to each picture, you may do so. BUT NOT MORE THAN FIVE ANSWERS WILL BE ACCEPTED TO ANY ONE PICTURE. Incorrect answers will not be counted. Contestants if correct, answer is also given. More than one answer should not be put on the same coupon. Extra coupons should be sent for extra answers. All answers to the same picture should be kept together in sending in the set. While not absolutely necessary, it is desirable that the picture should in each case be sent in with the answers in order that all answers be uniform. Additional pictures and coupons may be obtained at the office of The Bee by mail or in person. When you have received your picture, fasten them together and bring for mail them to The Omaha Bee, addressed to the Booklovers' Contest Editor. Prizes will be awarded in the contest ending in the largest number of correct solutions. In event of two or more persons having the same number of correct solutions, the person using the smaller number of extra coupons in his set of answers will be declared winner. In event of two persons having the same number correct and using the same number of coupons, the person whose set of answers is most neatly prepared, in the opinion of the full judging committee, will receive the prize. Only one set of answers. The use of the coupons is not obligatory upon the contestant, and an answer may be submitted in any convenient manner. The contest may be extended. Awards will be made strictly according to the merit of each separate list. The name of more than one person must not be written upon any set of coupons. The awards will be made by the Contest Editor and a committee of well-known citizens, whose names will be announced later. The contest is limited to the following territory: Nebraska, Wyoming, that portion of Iowa west of but not including Des Moines, and that portion of South Dakota known as the Black Hills District.
