Wheat Sellers Encouraged by Favorable Weather Reports.

TEMPERATURES RANGING LOWER Possibility of Passage of Reciprocity Bill and Great Wheat Prospect Cause Short Selling of Futures.

OMAHA, June 7, 1911. OMAHA. June 7, 1911.

Wheat is weak and lower, sellers being very aggressive, encouraged by the much more tavorable weather for all growing crops as the temperatures are ranging considerably lower over the entire west and southwest. The probability of the passage of the reciprocity bill and the great spring wheat crop prospect are the natural tendencies among the short selling of wheat trop prospect are the natural tendencies among the short selling of wheat CORNMEAL—Steady; fine white and yel-

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Festures of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Scared shorts rushed up the price of wheat today on discovering that the market had been oversoid. The close was strong, 1,49% to % chigher than last night. Final trading left corn 1,49% to le higher, oats at 1,60 to 1 ½c advance and provisions varying from a 5c decline to a gain of 10c. There was lively action in wheat both early and late. In the first part of the session bearish sentiment developed and offerings were on a large scale, with demand only moderate. Disappointing cables, cooler weather and rains all combined to depress values. When short sellers attempted to realize profits, however, and found that the market was becoming bare of offerings, pit feeling underwent a rapid change. Simultaneously unfavorable reports were received from Nebraska and Kansas City. As a result the buying flurry was at a somewhat excited stage just before the crowd was scattered by the closing gong. July ranged from 90% to 92% and in the end was strong. 1,40% care thigher at the topmost level reached.

Following the rebound in wheat, corn made a decided upturn. July fluctuated between 15% can 64% 6% over last night. Cash grades were in good demand. No. 2, yellow finished at 50% 6% with the close firm at 54% c. a rise of % c over last night. Cash grades were in good demand. No. 2, yellow finished at 50% 6% with the last sales 1,66% c up for ribs.

Conflicting influences had an unsettling effect on provisions—hogs were lower, but grain was on the advance. The end was a windup unchanged to 10c higher for pork. 2% down for lard and 5c off to 5c up for ribs.

MANY PROTESTS ARE FILED Property Owners Object to Appraisement for Opening of Twenty-Second Street.

Protests against the plan of assessment for the opening of Twenty-second street from Dodge to Howard street rolled into the Board of Equalization Wednesday morning. Up to noon thirty-five had been illed by d'sgruntled property owners. It is anticipated the number will easily reach seventy-five before the plan is taken up for approval or rejection.

Among those who filed protests were: Anna E. Rush, Laura Sanders, Oliver Campbell, A. L. Reed, W. G. Chambers, Caroline J. Chambers, Paxton Real Estate company, Albert Cahn, Herman Metz, Emma Meyer, W. A. Remington, Eliza A. Towle and Eva and Rose Gladstone.

Without exception the protests recite that the property is damaged rather than benefited, and for this reason the plan will be 104.01 opposed, even to carrying the question to Spreads between various weights widened somewhat as the result of discrimination, but no very great changes in margins were produced. Heavies sold around $5.700 5.75, with good butchers at or near $5.80. Choice bacon animals reached $6.05, a top that is identical with yesterday's high price. Movement was only fairly active and it was well along toward midday before clearance of bulk had been made.

Clearings Report for May

The comparison of bank clearings for the mouth of May with the corresponding period in previous years, is much more estisfactory than that of recent months, and there is distinct evidence of improvement at many points, especially in the East, the total of exchanges at all cities in the United States reporting, according to the statement compiled by R. G.

Dun & Co., aggregating $13,398,404,320, a gain of 2.5 per cent. as compared with last year and of 3.5 per cent. over 1909. The better showing is in part due to the increased volume of bank clearing at New York City, where financial and speculative dealings showed marked expansion. Activity in this direction, however, fell off towards the end of the month, whereas exchanges continued to increase, which indicates that the imprevement extended into commercial channels. In the New England States, Boston now makes larger returns than last year and some gain as compared with 1909. Moreover, the comparison shows considerable improvement as compared with recent preceding months, and agest cities continue to report gains over both years. Some gain new is shown in the total of the cities in the Middle Atlantic States, improvement appearing at a number of leading points, notably Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Binghamton, Philadelphia, Scranton and Reading, where gains are reported over both years; and while the returns at Pitteburg and some other leading centers continue to show some decrease from a year ago, the lesses are not quite so pronounced. Bank exchanges at all the cities in the South Atlantic States continue in satisfactory volume, good increases over both years being reported at all the eading points, among which are Baltimers, Augusta, Norfelk, Macon, Wilmington, N. C., Columbus, Ga., and Jacksonville. There is now some gain in the comparison with last year in the total of the Central States, owing mainly to increases at Chicago and some other important cities, and where loss appears, as a rule, it is not so pronounced as last menth, while the comparison with 1909 is very favorable. Among the cities reporting increases over both years are Chicago, Cincinnati, Peoria, Milwankes, Canton, Springfield, Columbus, O., Toledo and Kalamanoo. Returns from cities in the Central South continue to exhibit considerable irregularity, although the exhibit as a whole is fairly satisfactory, such important cities as St. Louis, Houston, Mobile and Fort Worth reporting decreases, while at others, New Orleans, Louisville, Memphis, Nashville and Galveston among the number, there is marked improvement. In the West unsettled conditions as reflected by bank ex changes are probably more marked than in other metions of the country, most of the leading cities reporting more or less decrease as compared with last year, notably Minneapolis, St. Paul, Denver, Omaka and Sioux Otty; but there are still galus at a few points and most cities report marked increase over 1999. On the Pacific Slope good gains are still a feature at several important points, notably San Francisco, Portland, Los Angeles and Oakland, but they are partially offset by smaller returns from a number of smaller centers, and an increase of only 4.4 per cent. appears in the comparison. Compared with 1999, however,

$6,265,567,740 7,806,969,557

In the West, generally unsettled conditions are reflected by marked occre-see leading cities as Minneapolis, St. Paul, Denver and Omaha, but there are still some gains over both years, and the comparison by almost every city with 1909 is very favorable. The
