Supply Houses Entertain

The luncheon given at the Rome at noon was presided over by L. W. Carpenter, representing the supply houses of Omaha which gave the affair. Dr. W. M. Davidson spoke of the duties of the editor as allied to those of the teacher in making and molding the life and morals of a community. Rev. John Matthews, pastor of the First Baptist church, spoke of the good work that could be done by a real editor, one with "grit, grace and gumption." H. G. Taylor, editor of the Central City Nonpartisan, followed on behalf of the editors.

The women of the party were entertained during the morning with a sight-seeing trip through the Lindner art gallery and the public museum and library. At 4 o'clock Mrs. Alfred Barlow gave a luncheon at the Delft tea room.

POLITICIANS HERE IN FORCE

Candidates of All Kinds Gather to Meet the Visiting Editors.

The convention of the Nebraska editors has been a good scouting place for politicians and during the last few days the candidates for state offices in the coming campaign have been busy laying preliminary wires. Prominent jurists who have been pushing forward as aspirants for the supreme court bench were among those present. Judge F. G. Hamer of Kearney, A. C. Epperson of Clay Center and J. E. Colby of Beatrice have been here all or part of the time. Willis E. Reed of Madison, prominent as a democratic candidate for United States senator, and a contestant in the last campaign, was here to make an address and incidentally to make political friends, and Charles W. Pool of Tecumseh, ex-speaker of the house and candidate for secretary of state, is a member of the association and has been here to help his own growing boom for democratic nomination for the governorship. Many members of the last Nebraska legislature were present among the newspaper men, and at times the corridors of the hotel resembled a reunion, while old friends were recalling the scenes of the last law-making experiences of the State.

ICE MAY GO STILL HIGHER

Increase Made May 1 and Another Expected Next Month.

ICE NOW COMING FROM IOWA

Early Summer Makes Big Inroads on the Small Crop Which the Local Dealers Were Able to Put Up Last Winter.

In connection with the report from the health department that natural ice being sold in Omaha is of inferior quality, reports yesterday were that the second increase in price this season will be put into effect about July 15.

Since the season opened in earnest May 1, the commodity has been selling for 25 per cent more than it did last summer. A thousand-pound book, which could have been bought last year for $4, this year is selling at $5. The increases by all the ice companies were simultaneous.

A further increase of 20 per cent is being considered, one dealer asserted. A thousand-pound book will then sell for $6. Probabilities of this rise were denied by some dealers.

The present prices and the probability of further increase indicate a situation in the ice market that the consumer has not faced for years.

Dalliance in putting up the crop last winter on the part of the bigger concerns resulted in a shortage that is unprecedented in the history of the city. This was the way a dealer explained the situation.

The open winter caused the harvesters to delay, and the early summer made big inroads on the small stocks. Shipments from Iowa points already are being relied upon to supply the city trade.

MADERO IN CITY OF MEXICO

ida de San Francisco, the Avenida Juarez, the Paseo de la Reforma and the Calles de Berlin to the Madero home.

Here in the two-story brick house, owned by Madero the elder, and distinguished from its neighbors by a tower, the conqueror of Porfirio Diaz rested for the first time since the triumphal entry into the city was made at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, now newly named Piedras Negras.

Plot is Widespread. June 7.—Indications that the plots against Madero were growing in influence and extent were manifest from several quarters today. The loyalty of certain heads of the federal troops have been brought into question and as a consequence wholesale charges in that direction are expected as soon as Madero gets into full touch with affairs in Mexico City.

Messages were sent to Madero today advising him of specific circumstances which are alleged to relate to a plot. As a result 1,500 federal troops which were to have left Chihuahua for Lower California to co-operate at once in suppressing the revolutionists there have been summarily ordered not to go.

The plot is said to be a conspiracy to overthrow Madero and to install a military government in Mexico. It is alleged that the plot is being organized by a group of officers and soldiers in Mexico City.

FOUR TRAINS ARE WRECKED

Series of Collisions on New Haven Railroad at Fairfield, Conn.

FIVE TRAINMEN ARE KILLED

Freight Train Which is Derailed Strikes Another on Second Track and Two Other Trains Crash Into Debris.

FAIRFIELD, Conn., June 7.—One of the most disastrous freight wrecks in the history of the New Haven railroad occurred near here early today when four freight trains plied into each other, killing five men, injuring at least seven, two fatally, and leaving two unaccounted for.

The dead: WILLIAM LAURIE, engineer, Hartford, Conn.; FRIEMAN, name unknown, scalded to death; ROBERT GATES, fireman, New London; ROBERT BEACHY, engineer, New London.

HOFFMAN, brakeman. The trains in the wreck were three extras and the regular New York fast freight. One of the extras jumped the east bound track and crashed into a second train which was passing on the west bound track. Trains running close behind each of the two extras crashed into the wreckage almost immediately.

Crash followed crash. Two boilers exploded simultaneously and the wreckage caught fire.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 7.—In a statement given out today at the offices of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, the accident at Fairfield is attributed to the failure of an engineer to observe a signal.

Feel throughout United States. WASHINGTON, June 7.—Seismographs throughout the entire country were jarred at an early hour today by the most severe earthquake that has been recorded in several years. It is estimated to have occurred 4,000 or 5,000 miles from Washington, but in what direction could not be ascertained.

Beginning at 5:56 o'clock this morning the needles of the seismographs of Georgetown University observatory began to move. The tremors steadily increased in intensity, causing the needles to record an unusual vibration. The maximum of the north and south movement was reported at 6:22:38, and lasted eight minutes, while the maximum of the east and west movement was recorded at 6:24, lasting ten minutes.

None of the telegraph and cable companies reported today any interruption of service which generally follows in the district where the earthquake is severest. The South African and Trans-Atlantic cables were working all right and telegraph wires in all directions were apparently not hampered.

LAWRENCE, Kan., June 7.—A violent earthquake was recorded in the seismograph of the state university at Lawrence. The university authorities said the disturbance was the most severe ever recorded by the local seismograph and they expressed the opinion that the earthquake was in western Mexico.

CONSTRUCTIVE STATESMANSHIP

sought to acquaint the government with all the facts before we proceeded. I knew perfectly well that Secretary Root had told the president and that the president understood that he had no right to approve the sale. But it seemed clear to me that if we should purchase the property under the perilous conditions in Wall street, as explained to the president,—that there ought not to be any action on the part of the government to enjoin the transaction."

Mr. Gary stated further that it was the unanimous opinion of the steel corporation directors and the big bankers in New York, including Mr. Morgan, that the administration's attitude toward the deal should be known.

Combinations of Bankers? Mr. Littleton said: "The government has come more and more to the regulation of industry. The railroads are now almost completely under government control. Is there not a danger greater than that of any combine in the combination of bankers and trust companies which, through controlling the money power, could restrain all trade and commerce?"

"I don't believe in unbridled license to use wealth," Mr. Gary responded. "The danger in such a situation can easily be seen."

Returning to the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company, Mr. Littleton asked "just when" that transaction relieved the financial situation.

"Just as soon as we sent back word from Washington that President Roosevelt would allow the deal to be made," Mr. Gary said. "I don't know what the committee thinks about it, but I myself believe that the action of the president in this connection was a piece of real constructive statesmanship."
