SUPREME COURT ADOPTS OMAHA LAWYER'S PLAN

Ralph Breckenridge is Largely Responsible for Action of the Supreme Court.

An Omaha lawyer played a leading part in the effort for judicial reform in the cumbersome system of rules governing practice in the federal equity courts that reached assurance last Saturday when Chief Justice White of the supreme court of the United States took the initial step for reform by appointing a committee of revision from among the associate judges...

In a commencement address at the St. Paul College of Law a year ago, Mr. Breckenridge first outlined his position and pointed out the defects in the present system. He wrote an article dealing with the subject of federal equity practice that appeared in the Illinois Law Review for April of this year, receiving many complimentary letters from men high in the legal profession from different parts of the country...

BIG PURCHASE BY ORKIN'S

Enterprising Omaha Firm Sets Old New York Talking About Starting Deal.

New York's wholesale district is still talking about the recent purchase made by an Omaha concern—Orkin Bros. The magnitude of the purchase was the largest that any single firm had placed in recent years for the same line of goods, and naturally set the wholesalers talking about the power of a western firm to buy such an immense stock for sale in western cities...

It has been remarked that the retail sales of Orkin Bros. must be very great if the firm is able to buy such a large stock at one time. The act that created the New York talk was a purchase of silk goods...

The entire purchase of silk was turned over to a single large petticoat manufacturer to be made up into garments at a very low cost, so the prices to consumers might be moderate, giving Omaha customers artistic and high-class goods at inexpensive figures.

Some of the petticoats are now on display in the Orkin windows. A big sale of these goods will be started Saturday morning.

COMMERCIAL CLUB IS STIRRED

Writes Nebraska Senators Setting Forth the Loss to Omaha.

ARMY CHANGES THE CAUSE

Had Assurances from Senator Brown that the Proposed Changes Would Not Be Deleterious to Omaha.

Wrought up over the loss of three large army posts from the jurisdiction of the Department of the Missouri, and feeling that the work of years in building up supply depots here is slipping away, the Commercial club has given out copies of letters that have been sent to the two Nebraska senators stating to them just what the action of the War department means. Senators Brown and Hitchcock are members of the committee on military affairs. J. M. Guild, commissioner of the club, declared that frequent attempts to learn the intentions of the war department from the senators, as regards Omaha, had failed. The letter states that from "confidential" sources and from the newspapers it has been learned that eight officers, thirty-nine clerks and eight messengers, whose monthly salaries amount to more than $4,000, will be removed from the Department of Missouri headquarters. The transfer of these officers, however, will not be the city's greatest loss, the letter continues, "for the reason that after July 1, all requisitions for either quartermaster or commissary supplies for this department will go direct to Chicago instead of coming here. The purchase and shipment of supplies will be directed from there."

The protest was forwarded by Commissioner Guild upon the direction of C. M. Wehlein, chairman of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club. Frequent assurances from Senator Brown that Omaha would not lose by the changes were shown in the Commercial club files. He denied at one time the intention of the War department to make the changes that have been effected. "Let not your heart be worried," the senator wrote on February 3. Senator Hitchcock has paid no attention to the importunities of the club, until on June 1, he introduced a resolution asking an investigation of the necessities of the change. This was after Major General Wood had written a letter to Mr. Brown on May 18, stating the plans contemplated for taking Forts Riley, Leavenworth and Russell from the department of the Missouri. The letter characterized the "enlargement" of the department by the addition of Colorado as a "joke," as the only military point in the state is a recruiting station at Fort Logan.

HEARING OF RED LIGHT CASES IS PUT OVER

Judge Baker Argues that There is Nothing to Try as Houses Are Closed.

Nothing definite came out of the hearing of the disorderly house cases, being proposed by the Albert act by James P. English, county attorney, that came up before Judge Troup Thursday morning. The hearing was put over for two or three days, as the understanding was, until Judge Troup could confer with the other judges of the equity division.

Judge Baker, representing the defendants, put up the defenses that the houses were already closed, and that it would be impossible to enjoin any one from abating a nuisance that was already abated.

"To enjoin means to stop," he said, "in illustration, you can't stop a clock that isn't running. Grace Walton, proprietor of the resort at 212 Douglas street, took the stand before a crowded court room and told her side of the story. She said she had sold out and moved all her girls out Friday afternoon before even the petition of the county attorney was filed. Both sides admit that there is no question as to the fact that there is no question as to the fact that it does not matter so much about the injunctions," said Mr. English when questioned, "as long as the law has its practical effect. There are fifty houses closed now. The question is, of course, whether we can keep them so."

ALUMNUS DELIVERS ADDRESS

Talks on "The New Protestantism and the Old Christianity" in a Radical Vein—Commencement Exercises Close Tonight.

Bellevue college held its commencement exercises Thursday morning in the historic old church in the village before an audience that crowded it to the doors. Fifteen young men and women, who compose the class of '11, received their diplomas. They were:

Augustus Charles Barry, Maywood, Neb.; Henry John Brandt, Beatrice, Neb.; Florence Leona Currie, Friend, Neb.; William Edmund Dyer, Superior, Neb.; Abel Ray Findley, Bellevue, Neb.; Goldie Elsie Fowler, Cedar Bluffs, Neb.; Sadie Keefer, William A. Schubert, N. Y.; Raymond Viles Kearnes, Loup City, Neb.; Zella Merna Kissinger, Denver, Colo.; Margaret Jeanne Othman, Platte, Neb.; Eva Fern Phillips, Beatrice, Neb.; David Primrose, Primrose, Neb.; Glen Lindstrom, Platte, Neb.; Frances Julia Sweetland, Loup City, Neb.; Ferris Edithworth Webb, Bedford, Ind.

The graduates received their diplomas from the hands of Dr. S. W. Stookey, president of the institution, who presided. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. Stephen Phelps, D. D., of the faculty. For the first time in the history of the institution an alumnus gave the commencement address, in the person of Ray, George R. Lunn, D. D., of Schenectady, N. Y. As pastor of a wealthy and fashionable church in that city he made himself known all over the Empire state two years ago by coming out strongly on the side of labor in the midst of a strike that was embroiling the city. He is a member of the class of '71.

Alumnus Gives Address. He surprised conservative old Bellevue today in an address on "The New Protestantism and the Old Christianity," speaking in a strong, radical vein. He said in part:

The magnificent faith and unstinted energies of our protestant forefathers gave to us that intellectual liberty and freedom from ecclesiastical domination which was the necessary precursor to all modern advance. The old ecclesiasticalism with its claim of divine right to control the consciences of men, failed when confronted by the rising tide of scientific movement. A protest of individual liberty so strong that nothing could withstand it. There was general agreement that the system must be free if the world was to progress. The result has been that the basis of society since the reformation has been individualistic. We have exploited the truth of individual liberty to such an extent that we are today witnessing the effects of which are due in part at least to this over-embellishment. Unrestricted individualism by the great discoveries and modern inventions, have developed like a Colossus, until we have developed an industrial system more far-reaching in its effects for good or evil than any ecclesiastical system the world has ever known.

The old protestantism was a protest against the ecclesiastical bondage of the many by the privileged few. The protestantism is a protest against the economic or industrial bondage of the many by the privileged few. The industrial revolution itself like a Colossus has been made possible by the taking over by the few of the land and the natural resources which the good God has intended for the whole. I am not here concerned as to how this came about, but simply to point out that it has come about. Gradually the means of production on which all the people are dependent for their livelihood, has been concentrated in the hands of the few. The exploitation of the natural resources which belong to all the natural resources which belong to all the people, has been the result of this concentration. The many are taught and disciplined into the idea that the few have a sacred right to these resources by which alone the man can live.

The class orations were delivered by A. C. Berry and Miss Florence Currie, the former taking up a scientific phase, and the latter dealing with the arts in the world of learning. Both gave their subjects an exhaustive and an entertaining treatment.

Music was provided for the occasion by the college male quartette and a trained chorus of voices, and a selection of several individual selections of merit.

The commencement week activities and this evening with an alumni reception at Rankin Hall, the president's home, and an alumni banquet on the college campus.

F. S. Rexford, 615 New York Life Bldg., Kansas City, Mo., says: "I had a severe attack of cold which settled in my back and kidneys and I was in great pain from my trouble. A friend recommended Foley Kidney Pills and I used two bottles of them and they have done me a world of good." For sale by all druggists.

Burglars Are Active in Ransacking Homes

Five Robberies Occurring Wednesday Night Reported to Police by Victims.

Burglars showed greater activity in Omaha last night than at any time for several months. In all five robberies were reported to the police up to noon Thursday.

The residence of Richard Hewett, 2041 Haskell avenue, was broken into by thieves who cut a window screen and stole a gold watch. When Mike Hogan reached his room Wednesday night he found the floor littered with contents of bureau drawers and his gold watch and other articles missing. Peter Nelson lost a new suit of clothes from his home at 1014 South Tenth street while he was away during the evening. John Zeas, a cigar dealer at 219 North Sixteenth street had his breath almost taken away when a man entered his store last night and, grabbing two boxes of cigars, ran down the street. While arranging for a railroad ticket last evening, John Martensen laid down his suitcase full of clothing. When he turned around it was gone.

The Segerstrom Piano Manufacturing Company's REMOVAL SALE

is creating tremendous excitement. Never in the history of piano selling have such bargains been offered. But there are reasons for this. We must vacate our present location. Our factory has ordered us not to move a single piano, but the entire stock of over 200 high-grade pianos must be sold regardless of cost before we vacate.

This stock consists of such well-known makes as the Segerstrom, Haines Bros., Kranich & Bach, French & Son, Strohber, Foster, Armstrong, Hoffman, Brewster, Cramer, H. P. Nelson, Arion, Gilbert & Co., Royal and the Herschel, and at prices so low that in some cases it would seem that we were not getting paid for the raw material, but our factory has instructed us to sell, and sell we will as long as there is a piano left in this stock.

Terms to suit, but your money will do wonders at this sale. Just to illustrate: Upright Pianos, $48.00, $57.00, $98.00, $128.00, $148.00, $157.00, $165.00 and $198.00. Square pianos for practice purposes, your choice for $10.00. Parlor organs for $3.00 and up.

COMMON GARDEN SAGE RESTORES GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

A Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling Hair, Itching Scalp, Faded and Gray Hair. The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of seventy-five, while our mothers have white hair before they are fifty. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to their hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy, and gradually restored the natural color. One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days, on account of souring quickly. This objection has been overcome, and by asking almost any first-class druggist for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair, but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Sherman & McConnell Drug Co., and Owl Drug Co.
