EXTRADITION OF CRIMINALS

Governor's Office Issues Instructions to County Attorneys.

PROPER FORM FOR PAPERS

Affidavit of Injured Party Should Be Attached to Petition and Certified Copy of the Warrant.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Neb., June 16.—(Special.)—Through Private Secretary Miller, who is attending to the affairs of the executive office while Governor Aldrich is absent in Ohio, requests have been issued to the various county attorneys of the state asking that they file affidavits of the injured party, when asking for the extradition of criminals, who have fled from this state.

In construing the federal statutes for the extradition of criminals who have fled from Nebraska to other states, the attorney general of the various states are usually technical in the interpretation of said statutes, and their interpretation of the same is not always uniform.

An examination of the records of this office discloses that the usual difference arises over the construction of that clause of the federal law which provides that the application for requisition should be accompanied by an indictment or affidavit.

In this state, a large number of convictions are sustained on information by the county attorney and some attorneys contend that this is neither an affidavit nor an indictment within the meaning of the federal statute and require an affidavit by the injured party where the charge against the fugitive is by information.

In order to facilitate such matters and save any unnecessary delay, we suggest the following form of application:

First: Petition to the governor of Nebraska with certificate of clerk of district court attached, showing authority of county attorney.

Second: Certified copy of indictment, complaint or information.

Third: Certified copy of warrant issued for defendant.

Fourth: Affidavit by injured party setting forth briefly the essential facts of the crime upon which the information is based. The last will meet objection of attorney general in case the requisition is based on an information instead of an indictment.

Pioneer Returns to Visit.

John S. Gregory now of Galveston, Tex., and who was the first lawyer, the first county commissioner and the first member of the legislature from this county, arrived in Omaha today for a visit with old friends and acquaintances. Mr. Gregory, who is nearly four score years old, had many interesting experiences to relate of early days in this county and brought up a number of unusual adventures of the time when he settled here following the year of '52.

"It's too much for me to keep up with," said Mr. Gregory when asked as to what he thought of Lincoln. "When I came here from Michigan in 1852, I saw a country which I believed possessed great possibilities for a remarkably rich development. But I never thought that it would come in my lifetime. It seemed too wild, too far from civilization for that. But it has come, and so rapidly that I can't keep up with the development since I left here twenty years ago.

"We used to pump the water from the creek into large kettles," says Mr. Gregory, "then we boiled it down and then put it in an evaporator. We put the water in the kettles and lit our fires at 3 a. m., and we used to shoveling salt by noon. All our supplies came by steamer to Nebraska City or Plattsmouth, being freighted overland to Oak creek.

Democrats Will Get Busy.

Advises received here today from Chris Brumher, vice chairman of the democratic state central committee, say that no set time has been announced for the meeting of the committee to pick a place for holding the state convention July 25. The rapid recovery of Chairman A. C. Byrnes, whose recent severe illness has been the cause for the democratic inactivity, is looked to revive political matters, however, and it is believed a call for the committee meeting will be forthcoming early next week.

Prof. Caldwell Off for Europe.

H. W. Caldwell, one of the best known members of the university faculty, accompanied by his wife and daughters, left today for a year's vacation in Europe, the first in more than a score of years which he has taught in this institution. Prof. Caldwell has been connected with the university continuously since 1876, when he entered college as a freshman. He has entered college as a freshman. He has entered college as a freshman. Embalmers Seriously Ill.

H. B. Eckles of Philadelphia, demonstrating embalming before the Nebraska state funeral directors at their session this week, is seriously ill at the Lindell hotel as a result of ptomaine poisoning. Dr. Slattery, the attending physician, said this afternoon that he believed Mr. Eckles would recover, but that he was very sick. At the hotel it was stated that Mr. Eckles was very ill and could see no one. How Mr. Eckles was poisoned and what the particular food which caused the trouble is something which no one appears to know.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)—At a conference of educators held today at the state university in conjunction with the school of superintendence now meeting here a committee was chosen to act with State Superintendent Crabtree in enforcing the new city certification law passed at the recent session of the legislature. Those named were: Superintendent Stephens of Lincoln, Superintendent Staley of Superior, Charles Arnot of Schuyler, W. A. Yoder of Douglas county, Edith Lathrop of Clay Center, Dean Fordyce of the University of Nebraska, Chancellor Palmer of Wesleyan and Dr. W. A. Clark of the Kearney Normal school. The new law requires cities of the larger class to employ none but teachers having certificates to teach in their schools, said certificates being divided into six classes.

After Omaha Shacks.

State Fire Warden Randall has received photographs of a dozen or more tumble-down shacks and buildings in Omaha that are considered dangerous to surrounding property in the event of fire. The pictures were taken by inspectors who have been at work for some time. Mr. Randall will notify the owners of many buildings in Omaha that they must tear down buildings or stand prosecution. He will grant a hearing in each case as provided by law.

Cloudburst Causes One Death in the Black Hills Country

James Kehr of Hot Springs, on a Bridge, is Swept Away and Drowned.

HOT SPRINGS, S. D., June 16.—(Special Telegram.)—At 6 o'clock last evening a cloudburst near Prindle, a station on the Burlington road about twelve miles east of Hot Springs, swelled the tributaries of Fall river and the accumulation of waters pouring into the stream raised it until it overflowed its banks. One fatality occurred. James Kehr, an old soldier at the State Soldiers' home, had been out to one of the farms and was driving into town when the storm was at its worst. He had reached the county bridge at the juncture of the hot and cold branches of Fall river and not noting that the high water had weakened it drove upon it with his horse and buggy. The structure gave way just as Kehr reached the center of it. People attempted to rescue Kehr, but he was carried away by the flood and drowned. His body was recovered this morning. Kehr was about 65 years of age. The storm did considerable damage to a number of the bridges on the Burlington. The track was so badly washed that the train to the east was abandoned last evening.

CLASSMATE OF THE PRESIDENT

Rev. Mr. Moodie Receives Invitation to Tatt Silver Anniversary.

BLAIR, Neb., June 16.—(Special.)—Rev. R. C. Moodie, pastor of the Congregational church in this city, is in receipt of an invitation for himself and wife to the silver wedding anniversary of President Taft June 18. Owing to illness he will be unable to attend. He graduated from Yale in the same class with President Taft and all of the classmates and their wives have been invited to attend. Dr. A. B. Somers was up from Omaha for consultation as to Rev. Mr. Moodie's condition and also to enjoy a visit with him as they were boyhood friends and had not seen each other for a long time. Their fathers lived on adjoining farms in Vermont when they were boys. Company E, First regiment, with Captain Abbot in command, left yesterday to go into camp four miles south of Blair for target practice. They will be under instructions from Captain Lincoln Riley of Winser, Neb., inspector of target practice for the First regiment. Those who show a marking above the average record will be taken to Ashland later in the season to compete with some of the crack shots of the state. As Fred Hurdum, a farmer living three miles north of Blair, was plowing corn he plowed one row too near the river when the bank gave way under the weight of his horses and both were precipitated into the stream and drowned. Mr. Hurdum narrowly escaped being dragged in with the team. The horses were worth about $50.

Crop Conditions in South Dakota

Corn is Doing Well, but Wheat is Injured by Reason of the Dry Weather.

ABERDEEN, S. D., June 16.—(Special.)—Within the last few days the crop reports from northern South Dakota, hitherto extremely optimistic, have taken a turn for the worse, and present reports over a wide range of country indicate that small grain will be a very short crop, although corn is looking extraordinarily well. The explanation given by farmers for the sudden collapse of prospects that were deemed excellent is that the dry weather of last year, which extended well into this spring, left the ground exceedingly dry. The grain, when it started to grow, had little moisture in the ground to draw from and rooted very short. When the rains did come, and there has been an abundance of the northern part of the state, from Brown county eastward since late spring, the grain made an excellent showing, growing rapidly and of good stand. But when the dry, scorching, hot weather followed, the growing grain showed its lack of stamina because of the short root, drying up rapidly. In the vicinity of Huron, according to reports, the small grain crop is apparently almost a failure. A better showing is made in the vicinity of Redfield, but east of there the yield is again light. The grain again shows better in northern Sptnk and southern Brown county, but north of Aberdeen to the North Dakota line and beyond, and eastward for a considerable distance, the yield is light, and reports from sections in Edmunds county indicate a light crop. West of the Missouri river, in the newly settled sections of the state, conditions vary. In some parts of the reservation country local rains have given the homesteaders hope for practically a full crop. In other parts the crop will be very short. The corn crop, however, is showing a good stand and a good color and is apparently in good condition.

HALF-MINUTE STORE TALK—
 When Edward Payson Weston was 72 years of age he walked 3,469 miles in 77 days. He must have walked almost constantly—but then, it's no trick to walk constantly if you wear the right kind of shoes. Weston may have been wearing King-Swanson shoes for all we know. We do know, however, that a man wearing a pair of our shoes feels like walking all the time. So comfortable are they.
