The engagement is subounced of Miss Ruth Brandeis, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs.

Arthur D. Brandeis, to Mr. Irving Constant Stern of New York City, Although during the last two years, there have been numerous rumers of this engagement in New York, the announcement comes as a surprise and is considered one of the most brilliant alliances of the year. Miss Brandels, who is one of Omaha's beautiful young women, has spent the two seasons since her debut, which was made at a large reception and ball given by Dr. and Mrs. Wolfstein in Cincinnati, in New York City, where Mr. and Mrs. Brandels have taken the Maxine Elliot house. Miss Brandels has had a remarkably brilliant social career, wherever she has been, both in the states and in Europe, and is considered one of the best gowned women in the metropolis. She is tali, dark and graceful and artists are enthusiastic over her beauty and personal charm, and declare her a type in herself. Mr. Stern, who is but 24 years of age, has a half interest in Stern Bros., on Twenty-third street, one of the oldest and largest dry goods houses in New York City Mr. Stern is one of the most popu lar of the younger millionaires of New York, Leslie's Weekly of June 1, published Mr. Stern's photograph, and that of Rodman Wanamaker under the subject, "Sons of Noted Captains of Industry Who are Following in Their Fathers' Footsepts." The Stern home, Fifth avenue near Eightieth street, is one of the most pretentious anaions on the avenue. It will be remembered that a few years ago the eastern and foreign papers gave glowing accounts of the brilliant marriage of his sister, Miss Irma Stern, to Baron Leo de Graffenried. wedding of Miss Brandels and Mr. Stera will take place the first week in October, and the first of the year the young couple will leave on a six months' tour abroad. During their stay in Paris

they will be guests of Baron and Barones

O. H. S. Alumni Dance Special music has been arranged for the Omaha High school alumni dance, which will be given at the Field club Monday evening. Popular numbers from the new comedies, "The Spring Maid," "The Pink Lady" and other new musical plays will be given, and whenever a dance number is encored, the same music will be repeated. With an estimated attendance of 800 or more, over twice that many announcements being issued, a reception committee of 100 and special preparations made in the way of music and refreshments, the High school reunion at the Field dlub Monday evening will be one of the important af-

During the last two or three years renewed interest in the Alumni association of the school has become so strong that the annual reunions have required the larger accommodations of the Field club to furnish adequate room and entertainment for the crowds that attend.

This year marks the climax in the history of High school alumni affairs so far, and more elaborate preparations than ever have been made for the reunion. It is expected that that part of society which is fortunate enough to be counted among the alumni of the old school will make the affair brilliant by their attendance.

Women's Tennis Tournament. The executive committee for the women's tennis tournament to be held at the Field club the week starting June 26 met at the home of Miss Susan Holdrege Thursday afternoon. As Miss Holdrege may not be here, all of the time preceding the tournsment, Miss Hortence Clarke has been made chairman and Miss Carmelita Chase,

The tournament is open to all, and it is not required that the entrants belong to the club. The entry fee will be 50 cents a person, both for singles and for doubles. All entries should be made to Miss Carme lita Chase. The committee in charge of this event includes Miss Hortense Clark, Miss Carmelita Chase, treasurer; Miss. Susan Holdrege, Miss Mary Ringwalt, Miss Ruth Hammer and Miss Laura Zimmerman. All entries must be made by Friday of next week. Handsome prizes are to be awarded the winners, the runners up and also consolations. The committee expects that there will be over 100 entries for the tournament. man. . All entries must be made by Friday at the home of the bride's parents, Hon. and Mrs. John W. Herron, at 4:45 p. m. in the presence of the relatives of both and a very few intimate friends. Rev. Dr. M. A. Hoge of Zanesville, O., who tied the nuptial knot, officiated at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Herron many years ago and subsequently at the wedding of their daughter.

"The bride wore a robe of white silk with embroidered front and a veil caught ith sprays of white lilacs. She co a bouquet of sweet peas and lilles of the valley. Mr. Horace Taft was best man and Miss Maria Herron and Miss Fannie Taft made up the bridal party. Both bridesmalds were attired in white, one carried a bouquet of sweet peas and Mermet hoses and the other Marechal Niel roses and daisles. The Herron abode had been very prettily decorated with palms and flowers and from 5 to 8 o'clock a reception was given there to the happy twain. Later in the evening they left for the east, where they will sail next Saturday on the City of Berlin for a summer tour of the continent. Upon their return they will reside in a handsome home the groom is now building on East Walnut Hill, a bit of the Highlands known as "The Quarry,' from which can be enjoyed one

Only once before, according to the rec ords, has a similar event been celebrated in the White House. That was the silver wedding anniversary of President and Mrs. Hays, December 30, 4877. By a singular coincidence Mrs. Taft was present on that occasion, thirty-three years ago. Furthermore, one of Mrs. Taft's younger sisters, with Fannie and Scott Hayes, children of the president, and Mrs. Hayes, were christened as a part of the wedding festivities in the East room of the White House. President Hayes and Judge Herron, Mrs. Taft's father, were law partners in Cincinnati, and the intimacy between the two families was very close. During the Hayes administration there was no family in the land made more thoroughly at home at the

La-Book Supplants New York Tailors

Local Ladies in Ecstacies Over Smart Tailored Suits At $50.00.

The better dressed ladies of Omaha do not have to go east for their stunning allored suits. In fact, a number of local society lights who have all along been depending upon Gay Gotham for clothes, have learned that even tastier sartorial productions may be had right here in Omaha at far smaller figures. "La-Book," the Ladies' Tailor in the Webster-Sunderland Building, 16th and Howard Sts., Omaha, has reduced the price of his $80 tallored to order suits, to $50, for a limited time, using the reduction in price simply as a means of showing Omaha ladies wherein much of the New York work is even excelled in his establishment. There is a "snap" and "tang" in La-Book's work that leaves an impression; the "get up" of a suit tailored under his direction is in greatest favor by those who wish something out of the ordinary-quite apart from the usual clothes.

apart from the usual clothes.

Despite the season that is usually accepted as "duil" by ladies' tailors, "La-Book's" establishment even now, presents a scene of activity. Ladies are quick to discern a typical $50 quality for $50 and are leaving orders freely.

Whether bent on purchasing or not, a trip to La-Book's pariors would amount to a general posting up on matters of style at least.
