GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Rain in Spring Wheat Belt Puts End NEW YORK GENERAL MARKET to Dry Weather Talk.

WINTER REPORTS CONFLICTING

Crop Reports Are Uniformly Favor able Over Corn Belt-Temperatures Are Lower and Good Rains Have Fallen.

OMAHA, June 17, 1911. Wheat had a weaker tone today, rains in the spring wheat belf have been sufficient to end the dry weather talk from that quarter for some time to come. Reports on the winter wheat yields are conflicting, but on the whole a big crop is being conceded. Free Canadian wheat in the near future is another reasonable bearish featurn and hedging sales of new wheat will turn and hedging sales of new wheat will be heavy. Natural influences are on the side of the short sellers.

Temperatures over the corn belt are lower and fairly good rains have been reported and crop reports are uniformly favorable. The country movements continues large while cash values are declining daily.

Rains and cooler temperatures gave wheat an easier tone, selling by longs on more favorable conditions being the feature. Cash wheat ruled unchanged to 1/2 lower.

Corn followed wheat and eased off in face of some good support on the break. Cash corn was 1/4/1/2 lower.

Primary wheat receipts were 293,000 bu. and shipments 27,000 bu. and shipments of 255,000 bu. and shipments of 255,000 bu. Primary corn receipts were $55,000 bu.

Primary corn receipts were $55,000 bu, and shipments were $59,000 bu, against receipts fast year of 482,000 bu, and shipments of $60,000 bu.

Corn prices dipped on account of rains in the larger producing states. September ranged between 55%c and 56c, with the closing 4c down at 55%c. Cash grades were in fair demand. No. I yellow finished at 54%65%c.

The cats market responded somewhat to the reports that the crop had been benefited by moisture in the nick of time. High and low points for September were 19%c and 25%c, with the close at 39%c, a net loss of 46%c.

Trade in provisions nearly vanished. A nickel sither way measured the extent to which the market would budge.

Deposits in Banks.

"I will now instruct you as to the method of depositing the cash which you take in deposits in the local bank which has qualified to receive it. You will keep two accounts in this bank. One is called the emergency fund, and the maximum of this fund is the sum of $300. The first $300 which you take in when you open your bank for the transaction of business will be credited to this fund. This fund will be subject to your check. In case a withdrawal is made after you have deposited your cash on hand and before other deonits have been received, you will draw your check upon this fund, making the check payable to yourself so as to avoid disclosing the name of the depositor, draw the money from the bank yourself and pay the same to the withdrawing depositor. Should the bank be closed you may cash this check out of your money order fund or postal fund and pay the depositor, and thus avoid inconveniencing him. When the bank opens you can draw the money on this check and replace the funds borrowed. When you have deposited the sum of $300 in this fund, then all money received from
