CROSSLEY GETS KEARNEY JOB

ewly Appointed Members of Board of Edwentien Do Not Attend Seasten-Game Warden Busy in Antelope County.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, June IL-(Special.)-The State Normal School board met in this city today and opened bids for new buildings which are to be constructed at the different institutions under acts passed at the recent session of the legislature. Those present were: President Shellhorn of Peru, Vice President McDonald of Kearney, Secretary Luther Ludden of this city, Treasurer George, State Superintendent Crabtree and J. J. Tooley of Anselmo. Rev. L. F. Roach of this city and A. H. Viele of Norfolk, recently appointed to take Rev. Mr. Ludden's place on the board, were not present A slight mix-up over the records of the meeting of the board held at Chadron some time ago occurred early at today's session President Shellhorn objecting to a part of the record which related to the new rule allowing two months' leave of absence with one month's pay for school teachers who desired to take studies at institutions in order that they might be better prepared for their work. The Peru man's interpretation was that it reflected in a way on the principals of the state normals. A dian for three children named Smith, emmotion to expunge the objectionable sentence from the records was lost and it stood as written at the Chadron meeting. Bids on Buildings,

The board opened bids for a $55,000 building at Wayne, another to cost as much at Kearney and a $12,000 heating plant for the Chadron normal. The room was full of contractors and employee. J. H. Craddock, architect for the board, was present with plans and specifications. Some bids included heat, wiring, plumbing and other material and some did not include anything but the bare structure.

On the Kearney building the bids were as follows: Northwestern Construction company, $51,991; P. P. Gould & Son, 100,000; W. T. Crossley of Kearney, $53,722;

Walker Kuntson, $69,655.
On the Wayne building the bids were: J. H. Foster, $65,539; Bridges, Hoye & Co., mologist Bruner, who has examined sim-$51,220; Treaton Building company, $61,715; ilar specimens of the insects. Specimens W. J. Assenmucher, $43,600; Gould & Sen, construction on which many had bid. At noon a committee was appointed by the board to confer swith the bidders, it being the intention to accept the lowest bids if changes were made to the old style of straight line steel beams. Later in the day the board awarded the contract for the Wayne building to Gould & Son, the bid being $42,522 and the Kearney building to Crossley, whose bid was
