Cool Summer Attire

You will be comfortable during torrid weather if you wear clothing free from extra weight. The following offerings are suggested as representative of smartness and cool comfort:

Paul Jones "Middy" Blouse Suits

Made in light weight Galatea, all white, or with colored collars of light or dark blue and red, with long or short sleeves; also in natural linen. Easy fitting, cool and comfortable.

Separate Wash Skirts for Small Women and Misses

This is one of our strong specialties. These skirts are made specially for us-handsomely tailored, every seam bound. They are in panel front and back effects, though one model is shown with side pleats. Made in white French Repps, medium weight Linen and Crash in natural colors. We can fit you without alterations. Sizes-Waists, 22 to 25; Lengths, 34 to 40 inches...........$3.50, $3.95 and $4.50

ried out smoothly and with the best of Morgan and Taft Wear Swords.

and watched him with interest as he shook circle before proceeding to his seat. He

as were Mr. and Mrs. Taft and Miss Taft.

tume except that he wore a white vest.

William Phillips, secretary of the Amer-

Prince of Wales Arrives,

Nothing remained to complete the pic-

on the tiptoe of expectancy and a solemn Again everyone rose to their feet. The Royal Procession Enters.

royal, the dean of Westminster, the archbishop of London and other bishops.

Next, moving with great deliberation, five medieval costumes, then the officers of the Then came the standards of the kingdoms and the colonies, borne by some of the most eminent men of the empire; the royal standard by the Marquis of Lansdowne, the union standard by the Duke of Wellington, that of India by Lord Curzon

of Canada by the Earl of Aberdeen, and the newly constituted Union of South Africa by Lord Salborne. After them were the four knighs of the garter, selected to bear the canopy at the king's annointing.

Lords Cadogan, Roseberry and Crewe and Arrival of the Queen. Then came the queen's regalla, corne by various nobles, and finally the queen her-with the jewels of the garter, presented to her by the Marys of the empire. Her long borne by six young women, daughters of earts. The queen carried a charming bouquet of pink carnations, presented to the ancient guilds of the city of London

The flowers, known as "Lady Hermione," cultivated by gardeners all over the British isles, those blossoms forming the bouperts. The bouquet was offered to her majesty in a beautiful silver basket of

The queen was followed by the mistress

After the cortege of the queen, the king's regalla was carried by the highest nobles

of the kingdom, attended by their pages.

The Bible was borne by the bishop of don, St. Edward's crown by the bishop of Northumberland, the orb by the duke of Somerset, the scepter by the duke of Richmond, the sword of state by the Earl

her by the Gardeners' company, her wonderful coronation gown

the Earl of Minto.

Jacobean design.

and the maids of honor.

self in trance of the king and queen.

impulse.

complete.

had taken his place in the long line of scating from 7,000 to 8,000 persons was car-British monarchs.

SCENES IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY Distinguished Company from All Nations Witnesses Ceremony. LONDON, June 22-Westminster Abbey, the lode star of all today's ceremonial, was ready and waiting the arrivals of their majesties by the time that the imperial procession left Buckingham palace. was accorded a decidedly good reception, Nothing could be more impressive than the customary aspect of the interior of the abbey but this was all transformed today.

Abbey but this was all transformed today. gloomy atmosphere was a mass of blaz-All the tombs and the floor of the great building were concealed under immense carpets and hangings of deep blue and background to the marvelous mass of in evening dress and were a number of sceptre. theatrically colored robes of state and var- medals of patriotic societies. igated uniforms with flashing decorations.

wholly occupied by the white upholstered chairs of the peers and peeresses, those of the peers on the south side and the the coming of the members of the English peeresson on the north. Back of these royal family. The royal guests making up mons and their ladies, Many commoners tered. were uniformed and wore decorations. The prince of Wales, a boyish figure, was crown and kissed the monarch's cheek.

At each angle of the transept were smaller abbey could be heard within its walls. was anointed, the crown placed upon her stands for the accommodation of the for- Merrily ringing bells sent an echo to the eign and colonial representatives and other | roof. high personages. There were the heirs to There was a pretty incident as the junior most of the thrones of Europe, a crown members of the British royal family enprince and princess of the German empire, tered. They were saluted with a blast Prince Henry, the emperor's brother, and of trumpets and every one rose as they rament concluded the chief functions of princess and duke of Aosta, Prince Henry were conducted to their seats. The prince the ceremony. of Netherland; Yusuf Ized Din, the heir to of Wales in Garter robes took his seat The procession was then reformed for head; Prince Fushimi of Japan with the halfedown her back in girlish style, but had heroes of the Russian war, Admiral Togo a long train which attendants carried. The and General Nogi in full uniforms with three younger princes were in Highland much gold lace and rows of decorations on costumes with jackets and plain kilts. their breasts, the American official contingent, Special Ambassador John Hays ture but the arrival of their majesties with Hammond with his aides, Admiral Vree- the great state officials. Every one was land and General Greeley, Ambassador Reid with his staff, almost the only of- hush remained over all within the ancient ficials wearing plain clothes, and the fane as a few minutes after II o'clock a Chinese Prince Tasi Chean, robed in gor- fanfare of trumpets announced the engeous embroidered silks. There, too, was Manuel, the deposed king of Portugal.

Few Unofficial Americans. Above the choir stalls were arranged tler after tier of steats, the fronts of the boxes displaying the embroidered arms of the three kingdoms. Above the choir stalls other tiers of seats, and altogether nearly 7,000 people were congregated as closely together as they could be packed. Among them the only unofficial Americans were Charles P. Taft, the president's brother, with Mrs. Taft and Miss Taft, J. Pierpont Morgan and eight newspaper cor- guard in their scariet uniforms and carryrespondents. Mrs. Taft wore a white satin gown embroidered in brilliants and her no British ceremony of state would be jewels were pearls and diamonds. Miss laft's gown was of white tulle embroidered in pink with crystal beads. She wore t Then came the chaplains of the chapels offices of which many Americans had pearl necklace.

Above the choir screen was the orchestral platform, where was an orchestra of eighty musicians and several hundred male singselected from the principal choirs of the kingdom.

The center of all interest was the area between the choir and transepts which is of India, the Order of St. Patrick, and the called the theater. Five broad steps led up to it. It was covered with a corpet of Order of the Thistle, then the gentleman, they passed through the arch at the head rich blue on which was embroidered the emblem of the Order of the Garter and other heraldic designs. There were the two thrones for the king and queen, covered with crimson velvet and silk, and before them marvelous oriental rugs, 500 years old. On the south side before the peers were chairs for the young Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught.

In front of the turones and facing the altar was the historic King Edward's chair, with the Stone of Destiny set in its frame, on which British sovereigns successively have sat for nearly 1,000 years.

Great Variety of Costumes. Peers in their purple veivet ropes and ermine mantles carrying their coronets had hours previously escorted in peereses in evening dress and suberb trains borne by pages, wearing diamonds and with feathers in their hair. There were ambassadors and ministers in full regalfa, low fords in wiga and wearing robes thickly laden with gold, judges in scariet and members of the purple train, embroidered in gold, was House of Commons all in court dress or

The wait for the arrival of the procession was made less tedfous by the music of the orchestra.

At 9:30 o'clock the entry of the impresprocession of clergy composing the a purely English growth, were especially chapter of Westminster abbey put a sudden stop to the sonorous hum of conversation and inaugurated the services of the quet being selected by a committee of ex-The crowns and regalia were lifted from the altar and conveyed on cushions and in great state down the alsie to the robing room, the choir meantime chanting "Oh Lord Our Help in Ages Past." The of the robes, the ladies of the bedchamber chimes in the tower peeled a loud accom-Upon the arrival at the robing com the regalia was handed to the hereditary bearers who awaited their majesties, All eyes were turned to the west door in anticipation of the arrival of the proces- Ripon, the chalice by the bishop of Win-Scattered through the vast audi- chester, the paten by the bishop of Lonence were many nurses in simple costumes prepared to lend first aid if their services were required. The whole complicated arrangement for leauchamp, the second award by Earl Robdown and Lord Grey de Rathyn, the scepter with cross by the duke of Argyll and St. Edward's staff by the duke of Roxburgh. moved slowly up the aisle made an im- and left. posing spectacle. King Wears Crimson Robe.

After them walked the king in his crimson robe of state, the train borne by eight noblemen of high rank, the collar of the MULTITUDE SEES PAGEANT garter around his neck and on his head the cap of state. Following him more dignitaries and gentlemen in waiting comberlain, the lord high constable, the earl taneous clapping of hands. A light rain pearls, marshal and the garter-at-arms, the noble- was falling and the carriages were closed, either his episcopal supporters.

The dean of Westminster, wearing a cope the archbishop of York and the bishop of moved while kneeling.

Ancient Ceremony and Symbols. ancient ceremony, familiar for 1,200 years. was performed with the same symbols and the recital but little changed. It was the ancient scene with new actors.

abbey in succession, he announced: George, the undoubted king of this realm. willing to do the same?"

strangely loud in the impressive silence that had fallen on the august assemblage, blast of the trumpeters and a mighty cheer succession. of "God Save the King!" fairly shook the great edifice. Cheers followed and, escap-The arrival of further guests attracted ing the walls of the abbey, were echoed constant attention. When J. Pierpont and re-echoed by the throng outside.

Morgan entered many whispered his name Then followed the various rites. bishops sang the litany and the communic hands with several ladies in the diplomatic was recited. Bible and signed the oath, swearing to their subjects and their subjects upon govern according to the laws of the land their king and queen had arrived. There various degrees of the peerage at the Where usually is a gray and somewhat Mr. Morgan were a court uniform of black latter being the single departure from the then as if with one voice the multitude Those of the first, or ducal degree, which velvet, knee breeches and silver buttons, traditional recital.

The king was anointed by the Archand a sword. Mr. Taft had the same cos-Ambassador Reid and Mrs. Reid had ex- Chamberlain touched his majesty's heels " r' seats on the floor of the abbey close with the spurs; he was girded with the amber. The color scheme was rich and by the throne. Mrs. Reid, who was read- sword of state, invested with the imperial impressive while it afforded a subdued ily recognized and cordially greeted, was robe and orb and received the ring and Reverently the Archbishop placed the crown upon the king's head. Again the The floor space in the transept was ican embassy, was in plain evening clothes. trumpets sounded and once more the abbey resounded with cheers and the cry "God These arrivals occupied attention until Save the King,"

King Ascends Throne. Ascending the throne, the king received were immense stands in ascending tiers the first procession had been seated when the homage of the Archbishop and then filled with members of the House of Com- at 19:20 e'clock the second procession en- the Prince of Wales, the Princess of the royal blood and peers, who touched the while the dresses of the ladies were rich the cynosure of all eyes and the cheering the more simple ceremony of crowning and striking.

The more simple ceremony of crowning the queen consort followed. Her majesty head, and she received the ring, the sceptre and the ivory rod. Then the queen ascended the throne and was seated by

When the actual crowning of the king was signalled to the public by the peniing bells in the tower of the abbey the host in parliament square broke out in a chorus of "God Save the King." The strains were taken up at each succeeding section of stands along the route until pernaps the largest choir ever known to history was simultaneously singing the British national Procession Returns to Palace.

Leaving the abbey on the return journey scene was marvelously impressive, as the the order of the procession was reversed, leading figures emerged from the robing that of the king and queen coming first. room. Many who looked on scarcely re-The appearance of their majesties with strained themselves from cheering but the their crowns on was the signal for rejoyful notes of the initial anthem, "I Was newed cheering, the waving of handker-Glad," intoned by the choir, suppressed the chiefs and the clanging of bells. The king and queen smilingly bowed their acknowledgements.

Lining the avenue of the approach to the It was the same all along Whitehall and through Trafalgar square, where the cheerthrone were the picturesque yeomen of the ing, if anything, was louder and where the sailore, soldlers and police had difing their pikes, a company without whom ficulty in preventing the crowds from overflowing into the roadway. First entered a little group of the clergy.

Through Cockspur street, in the shipping seats, and into Pall Mall the calvacade bishops of Canterbury and York, the proceeded, everywhere greeted with cries of loyalty. St. James street and Piccadilly, where the procession passed under floral pursulvants, followed by heralds in quaint arches, were thronged to their limit. Around Hyde Park corner the general orders of knighthood, first those of St. public had found some room, and they Michael and George, after them the Star stood here from early morning to give their majesties a parting God speed as usher of the green rod, the scarlet rod and of the Constitution Hill on their way home other functionaries of the royal household; to the palace. They had still, however, altogether an impressive and picturesque to run the gauntlet of the masses behind the railings of Green park, and again those at the head of the mall, who, although they find sown them on their de erus, the third sword by Viscount Kitch parture earlier in the day, had waited ener, the golden apurs by the earl of Loucrowned.

Those who still waited after the gold coach had passed into the yard of Buck-Attended by their pages and by a consid- ingham palace were rewarded as the king rable retinue of high court officials, all in and queen appeared on the balcony, just the most striking costume, the group as it as they had left the abbey, and bowed right

> The cheer that went up at this moment surpassed anything that had proceded it and afforded one of the most thrilling mo-ments of an intensely interesting day.

(Continued from First Page.)

Their majesties passed their thrones and quick to pick out John Hays Hammond, proceeded to the chairs of state on the special envoy from the United States, ensouth side of the altar, where they knelt voys from France and Germany and the through the windows.

Immediately following was the second of crimson velvet, took his place on the procession with members of the British tiars, necklace, earrings and bracelet of south side of the altar. The archbishop of royal family, including the Prince of Wales diamonds and emeralds. The earrings are Canterbury was on the north, beyond him and the Princess Mary and their younger a pair worn by Catherine II. She will brothers. Their appearance was the signal carry a white ostrich feather fan, a coun-London, with twenty-one other bishops, all for the heartiest demonstration up to that terpart of the one presented by South in convocation robes. Rising, the king re- time. The chearing began as the royal Africa to the present queen at the time of placed the cap of state, which he had re- children emerged from Buckingham palace her marriage. Like all the other ladies, and carried along the row upon row of she will wear estrich feathers in her hair. seats was echoed by the crowds behind. Then the service proper began. The Four other carriages were occupied by of the Embassy-White satin dress with others of the royal family and their suites. pearl and silver trimming. A tiars, dia-Exactly at 10:30 o'clock booming guns mond collar and pearl necklace. announced the king and queen were leaving the palace and by a happy coincidence The archbishop of Canterbury presented which, however, has become almost tradithe king. Facing the four sides of the tional in British royal functions, the sun and diamante; jewels, diamonds. suddenly broke through the clouds and the to do your homage and service, are you jackets and troops came to attention with and necklace. a clang of swords and musketry, while the The queen's train will be carried by six As the voice of the archbishop, sounding bands struck up the national anthem.

> King Leaves Palace. with the king and queen approached.

The long awaited moment when their After a brief sermon the king kissed the majesties were to look into the faces of acclaimed the sovereigns with cheers that is regarded as so dignified that all princes preceded and followed them from the gates of the blood royal are created dukes on the bishop of Canterbury; the Lord Great of the palace yards to the very doors of attainment, or shortly after, of their ma-Westminster Abbey. Smiling and bowing their majesties acknowledged their greetings. The king wore ried a surcoat or mantle of crimson velvet a long purple robe and velvet cap trimmed lined with white taffeta edged with miniwith ermine. The queen made a beautiful ver, which is the white fur of the ermine picture in her robe of cloth of gold.

the firing of a gun and another outburst a coronet consisting of a circle of gold or of cheering from the throng on the official stands in Parliament square. At the entrance to the cathedral their majesties were received by the earl mar-

MANY JACKPOTS AT SPRINGFIELD

(Continued from First Page.)

After declaring again that he had never paid or received money to aid in Lorimer's election, Mr. Hinman was excused. Yates is Second Witness.

Richard Yates, governor of Illinois from 1901 to 1905, was the next witness. "Did you ever hear of a jackpot when you were governor?" asked Mr. Healy.

"No. sir." He then told the story of the passage of the "Mueller bill providing for municipal of a duchess in that it has only three and ownership of street railways. He related a half rows of black fur round it, while her to him with an account of two men attempting to bribe him to aid in the passage net to that of her husband. of the bill and how the bill was passed, "Mr. Mueller died shortly afterward, because the house, instead of investigating the alleged bribery, investigated him, his friends told me," said Mr. Yates. Mr. Yates said he believed men had approached Mueller. He also said John L. Lane, a Chicago Inter Ocean reporter, told ball is placed on the top of each point. him in 1901 that a corruption fund existed in the legislature, but Lane could produce no witnesses and the subject was der of miniver being reduced to three not made a matter of formal investigation.

These were the only rumors of corruption, he said, that he was able to tell about.

ANY MAN'S SUIT FOR $15.

Brandels Stores Announce Their Semi-Annual Choice of the House Sale,

SATURDAY, JUNE 24. We offer for one day only your unrestricted choice of any man's suit in our entire stock, no matter whether the former selling price was $20, $25, $30, $35 or $40all at one price, $15. This is our semi-annual sale that thousands of Omaha men wait for. Watch Friday night's papers. BRANDEIS STORES.

COSTUMES OF

Description of Gowns Worn by American Women at the Ceremonial.

ROBES PRESENTED BY PEERS Dress of Officials of the British Court Regulated by Precedent Dating Buck for Many Centuries. LONDON, June 23 .- The dresses worn by American ladies at the coronation are a follows:

Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, Wife of the Amerithe first court this season. It is of white satin, the front and back trimmed with pearls and diamonds, and panels of fine at the footstools. On the king's right stood crown princes. Each of these was given lace. She will also wear a tiars of pearls the lord chancellar, the lord great cham- a round of cheers and there was a spon- and diamonds, a pearl collar and ropes of

Mrs. John Hays Hammond, Wife of the men bearing the swords of state and on but their occupants could be distinguished American Special Envoy-A dress of heavy white satin embroidered with jewalled peacock feathers. Her jewels consist of a Mrs. Phillips. Wife of the First Secretary

Mrs. Simpson, Wife of Captain Simpson Naval Attache American Embassy-

White satin trimmed with old point lace Mrs. Slocum, Wife of Captain Slocum, "Sirs: I here present unto you King rain ceased. The staff officer appeared under the archway, the guard of honor, big satin charmeuse embroidered in a dia-Wherefore all you who are come this day six footers from the guard regiments, blue mante feather design; a diamond tiara young ladies, daughters of earls, instead of Equerries to the king, escorts of colonials as usual by pages. These are Lady Mary and Indian colonials in khaki and the Dawson, daughter of the Countess of Dartdied away, the spell was broken by the Indians in bright colors, passed in rapid rey; Lady Mabell Ogilvy, daughter of the Countess of Airlie; Lady Victoria Car-rington, daughter of the Countess Car-As the first division of the sovereigns' rington; Lady Elleen Butler, daughter of escort of the royal horse guards trotted the Countess of Lanesborough; Lady Elleen slowly through the gates, the booming of Knox, daughter of the Countess of Ran-Then followed the various rites. Two cannon announced that the royal coach furly, and Lady Dorothy Browne, daughter of the Countesa of Kenmare.

The robes worn by the members of the jority, must wear in the first place full court dress or uniform. Over this is caror stoat with the black tails attached. Through the Mall to the admiralty arch, while the cape is of the same fur without Charing Cross Whitehall, Parliament street the black tails, but with four rows of and Broad Sanctuary, the procession black fur symmetrically arranged around it. The duke's cap is of crimson velvet, The arrival of the sovereigns at the abbey turned up with ermine, having a gold taswas proclaimed by the ringing of the bells sel on the top. This is replaced after the of the abbey and St. Margaret's church, completion of the coronation ceremony by chased silver gilt, set around with eight strawberry leaves. The coronation robe of a duchess is a crimson velvet mantle, the cape furred shal, the duke of Norfolk and the pages-in. with white miniver barred with four rows of black ermine five inches from the edge. The kirtle meets at the waist over a white panel. The bodice is low and tightfitting, with stomacher and panel of white or cream material, with fur bordering the top of the bodice and continued in a band over each shoulder. Her coronet is similar to that of her husband, while her train is wo yards in length.

Peers of the next degree, or marquises, wear precisely similar robes to those of the dukes, but they are entitled to only three and a half rows of black fur on their capes, four on the right and three on the left side. The cap is the same, but the coronet is adorned with four silver balls and four golden strawberry leaves arranged alternately.

now, when governor, Speaker Mueller came train is reduced to a yard and three-quarters in length. She wears a similar coro-

For an earl, or count, the robes are the same, but the bars of black fur are reduced to three. His coronet is a circle of gold or sliver gilt, chased and bordered with ermine, and it bears eight pyramidal points placed around it alternately with eight strawherry leaves, while a large silver A countess wears on her coronation robe only three rows of black ermine, the borinches and her train to a yard and a half in length. Her coronet is th same as that of an earl.

Viscounts and Barons. Viscounts are robed similarly to the peers of higher degree, but are entitled to only two and a half rows of black fur on their capes, arranged three on the right and two on the left side. The golden circle of a viscount's coronet is surmounted by sixteen silver balls. The robe of a viscountess, in the same way, has but two and a half rows of black fur with a white border of two and a half inches, while her train is a yard and a quarter in length.

For the barons, who form the lowest degree of the peerage, only two rows of

CORONATION SINCE Suits to Order $15.00

Reduced From $25.00

BIGGEST SALE OF THE KIND EVER OFFERED IN OMAHA.

ONE DAY, SATURDAY, JUNE 24TH, WE WILL SELL $25.00 TWO-PIECE SUITS FOR $15.00.

These garments will be carefully cut to your measure and made by the same workmen who make our $25.00 suits. Every coat will be carefully tried on in the bastings and will be lined with good Alpacca. We use first grade hair cloth and canvas and the coats will hold their shape until worn out.

These are nice, cool suits; goods are all wool and perfectly fast

We guarantee every garment perfect in fit and style. Orders taken Saturday will be finished before July 4th. Have Your Clothes Made to Your Measure and to Fit You.

MacCarthy-Wilson Tailoring Co.

FIVE STEPS SOUTH OF FARNAM.

Suggestions for Gifts

Most people find the selection of a wedding present a hard task. They are drained of ideas as to what they should give the bride and groom. For this reason we direct your attention to this store. The collection of silver pieces and other articles is so extensive that you are sure to have no trouble in deciding upon some gift that will be highly appreciated

by the recipient and will make you feel that you have selected a most their capes, their robes being otherwise similar to those of the other peers. Their coronets consist of a circle of gold bordered with ermine, and bearing six silver

A baroness wears only two bars of black fur and a two-inch border of white miniver, while her train only measures a yard in length. She wears a similar coronet to that of her husband.

Foley's Kidney Remedy Is particularly recommended for chronic cases of kidney and biadder trouble. tends to regulate and control the kidney and bladder action and is healing, strengthening and bracing. For sale by all drugglats.

The Last Word

wearability.

to happiness.

Get acquainted

and style.

with Stetson"

foot-ease.

is Stetson. Stetson Science stands for style, elegance and

Walking and health-health and success. Wear a Stetson and you will have these aids

The Dickey is a favorite style combining smartness with

foot-comfort SILISON

For Sale by

Omaha Agenta.

HAYDEN BROS.

When You Take

The charge is nominal — cheaper than insurance and then, some things can't be replaced with insurance money.

Omaha Safe Deposit

& Trust Co.

Omaha National Bank Building. Street Entrance, 1814 Farnam.

MANIOURING

SPECIAL THIS WEEK

Ladies' 350, Gentlemen 50c. MISS L. L. STONECYPHER

Hours; 9:30 A. M., 6 P. M. Sat. 9:30 A. M. to 10 P. M.

Phone for rates. Douglas 230.

Your Vacation

Don't Merely Buy-Invest. Albert Edholm Jeweler. Sixteenth and Harney.

MOTICE TO CREDITORS OF THE OMARA BAILWAY OLUS

Pursuant to an order of the District Court of Douglas County, Nebrasks, antered in the case of Aifred O. Barker vs. The Omaha Railway Club. App. Doc. 114, No. 267, notice is hereby given that all persons having claims whether secured or unsecured. against the Omaha Railway Club are required to file the same duly verified and fully itemized with me at my office in the Barker Block. Omaha. Neb., before the 20th day of July, 1911, and you are further notified that all claims not filed by that time with me will be barred from sharing in the distribution of the assets of the club. Hugh C. Nobestrian. Receiver, 113-414 Barker Block.

HAMILTON CAFE

will open to the public Friday Morning, June 23d.

POPULAR PRICES

Best Home Cooking. Prompt Service. Cuistne in Charge of

Margaret Moore, MRS. S. V. FULLAWAY, Lessee

AMUSEMENTS

Keep Cool at MANAW!

(Personally Managed by H. M. Barnet.) FREE CONCERTS BY COVALT'S BAND

Cool, Airy Ball Room, with Delightful Orchestra. Bathing, Boating and Other Attractions. HOT WEATHER BARGAINS Admission to Park......FREE

BASE BALL OMAHA VS TOPEKA

ROURKEPARK June 22-23-24

Friday, June 23, Ladies' Day. GAMES CALLED 3145. Cars leave 18th and Farnam at 3:30.

Theater Cooled by Iced Air. COLLEGE OMARA'S IDEAL SHOW LLOYD INGRAHAM AND HIS CO. THE ROAD TO YESTERDAY Cleverly Imagined; Dexterously Wrought, Evgs. 10-25c; few at 35c; Shirt Wasst Mars. Tues. Thurs. and Sat., 16, 20c Sun, and Week.—Little Mrs. Annesley.

ROME SUMMER GARDEN Vaudeville and Photo Plays Orchestra - Befreshments - Every

Admission 10 Cents

The Greatest Sale of Men's Clothing that is Held in America

BRANDEIS STORES

SEMI-ANNUAL CHOICE-OF-THE-HOUSE Any Man's Suit $15

In Our Entire Stock

(Have Been Selling at $40, $35, $30, $25 and $20)

One Day Saturday

June