

HOME NOTES AND SOCIAL GOSSIP

Clubs Cool Spots

Society people who are staying in town these hot days are spending their evenings on the wide verandas of the country clubs. The heat has come so suddenly and decidedly this year that the summer exodus to cooler spots has begun early, and those who accept the clubs as a resting place consider them only as substitutes for the cooler breezes and more truly sylvan scenery of the lakes or the salt air of the seashore.

Pleasures Past

One of the largest social gatherings of the summer was at the reception and lawn fête, tendered by the officers of M. E. Smith & Co. to their road salesmen, department managers, their wives and friends, Thursday evening. The men have been in Omaha all the week, attending the company's business convention, and last night's affair was particularly for the benefit of the ladies.

It was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ward M. Burgess, 122 North Twenty-second street. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Burgess welcomed the guests, on behalf of the company, after which they passed out into the spacious grounds, which were softly illuminated by scores of Japanese lanterns.

Wedding Bells

At 8 o'clock Wednesday morning at the beautiful home of the bride on East Sixth street at Work, Neb., Rev. Alexander G. Bennett of the Methodist Episcopal church, married Mr. Chester O. Oline of Omaha and Miss Evelyn Van Wickie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Van Wickie. The ring ceremony of the Methodist Episcopal church was performed in the presence of about sixty guests. The bride was attired in crepe de chene over mesaline, trimmed in duchess lace. The maid of honor, Miss Winifred Van Wickie wore yellow marquisette over mesaline and carried yellow roses. Mrs. Van Wickie wore white embroidered linen.

Miss Charlotte Van Wickie sang "A Song of the Heart," which was followed by the Mendelssohn wedding march, by Mrs. J. A. Dixon of Arlington. Miss Charlotte then sang "The Dawn."

The maid of honor was Miss May Van Wickie, and Prof. C. B. Moore of Wesleyan university was best man. After the ceremony a three course breakfast was served. The decorations were yellow daisies. The groom is manager at Omaha for the Van Wickie Grain and Lumber company. The bride is one of York's most accomplished young women.

The wedding of Miss Bernice O. Bangs and Mr. George F. Porter took place Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Slater, 263 Mason street. Rev. T. J. Mackay officiated.

Miss Grace Louise Hammel of Council Bluffs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hammel, and Mr. Harry Vincent Fowler of Brush, Colo., were married Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. T. J. Mackay officiated.

An informal wedding took place Wednesday, June 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Haumbach, 2614 Saratoga street, when their daughter, Catherine, became the wife of Mr. Edward H. Hagensick. Rev. Frederick T. Rouse of First Congregational church officiated. Miss Grace Shearer was bridesmaid and Mr. Louis Hagensick, brother of the groom, was best man.

Tomatoes

TOMATO Aspic Salad—Soak half a box of gelatine in cold water until soft and clear. Strain the liquor from a quart of canned (or fresh stewed) tomatoes through doubled cheesecloth into a bowl. Season with a teaspoonful of onion juice, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, a salt-spoonful each of paprika and salt. Set over the fire and bring to a boil. Cook gently for twenty minutes; add the gelatine; stir until it is dissolved and strain through a flannel jelly bag into a mold wet with cold water, or in small pans to be served as individual portions.

Serve as a whole in a glass bowl set about with endive or with the crisp inner leaves of lettuce, and pass mayonnaise with it.

A prettier way is to lay a small mold of the aspic with a crisp lettuce leaf upon a chilled plate, and put a spoonful of mayonnaise or of whipped cream upon the top. Pass one of these to each person.

Tomato and Nut Salad—Pare the tomatoes carefully and extract yet more gingerly three-quarters of the pulp, leaving enough to make the walls of the "cup." Have ready a pint or so of blanched and minced nut meats—almond, pecan or walnut—mixed with mayonnaise or with a good French dressing, and fill the tomato cups with the mixture. Serve upon lettuce or romaine.

Baked Tomatoes Stuffed With Forceps—Select large, firm tomatoes; cut a cap from the blossom end of each and scoop out the pulp, leaving enough to form the sides of the shells.

The wedding party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Cleo Elkins. The house was beautifully decorated in palms, smilax and pink roses.

Punch was served in the dining room by Miss Florence Shearer and Miss Gertrude Grunel.

Mr. Hagensick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hagensick of Lincoln, Neb. He is a graduate of the electrical engineering department of the university and is associated with the Delta Upsilon and Sigma Tau fraternities of that institution. The bride is an Omaha girl.

The young couple left for Denver and Salt Lake City and will be home after September 1 at 423 North Twenty-seventh street.

Among the out-of-town guests were a company of twenty from Lincoln, Neb., and Mrs. Ralph Miller from Hammond, Ind.

The Social Settlement Dramatic club will give an outdoor play at the club the

Have ready chopped cold chicken or real, well seasoned and mixed with one-third as much fine crumbs. Season with a little butter, parsley and onion juice. Mix with this the pulp you have taken from the tomatoes and pack the forement into the shells. Pour a spoonful of good gravy into each shell to moisten the contents; replace the tops; set in a bakedish; pour a little gravy around the base of the tomatoes, cover closely and bake half an hour. Send to table in the dish in which they were cooked.

Baked Tomatoes Stuffed With Corn—Prepare the tomatoes as in the last recipe, but fill with cold boiled corn, seasoned well with salt, butter and pepper. Proceed as with the forcement.

This is a good way of using the leftover of cooked macaroni. In this case pass Parmesan cheese with the tomatoes.

Fried Tomatoes Crumbed—Cut firm, large tomatoes into thick slices and roll them in flour or in cracker dust. Set upon ice for a couple of hours. Have ready then enough butter or good clean dripping in a frying pan to cover the slices. Heat to hissing and lay in the tomatoes carefully, a few at a time. Fry until tender and lightly browned. Make a white sauce of a roux of butter and flour, stirred to cream with a cupful of milk (or half cream, half milk). When smooth and bubbling hot pour over the tomatoes, which should have been drained free of grease and arranged in a hot platter.

Green tomatoes are nice cooked in this way.

Smart Costumes for Country.

For country wear the tailor made costume is the ideal one, and this should be well cut and somewhat plain, consisting of a serge or tough material, while a neat hat and dainty cambric shirt and a pair of serviceable shoes are the necessary requisites to complete a suitable and useful outfit. Patent leather shoes are to be avoided, as the shingles and rough walking ruins them, and the heat of the sun causes them to "draw" the feet in an unpleasant manner. Fortunately, openwork stockings are now relegated almost entirely into the past, for nothing looks so well, after all, as plain hose. Every dainty accessory of dress should be carefully considered. With regard to materials for summer wear the charms of shantung and charmeuse have so established themselves that we have by no means seen an end of them, and a continued popularity during the coming season is predicted for both. A charming example of the "Quaker dress," which has proved itself to be so becoming, and which has in no small degree influenced the current fashions, was made in silver gray silk shantung with fine hemstitched linen collar and cuffs, which made a charming and effective frock. The "little girl" style is still much in vogue, and a very pretty model in this style was carried out in natural tussors with an undershirt of striped blue and white silk. The bodice was slashed up in front just above the patent leather waist belt in royal blue, with the blue and white stripes showing in the slashings. This demure little frock was innocent of any collar, even of the turned down order, and had elbow sleeves, making a pretty and girlish looking dress.

Unexpected Guests

The farmer and his wife were about to sit down to a cold supper when they saw some old friends driving towards the house.

The good wife was equal to the occasion—thanks to her New Perfection Oil Cook-stove.

She had it lit in a moment, and her guests hardly were seated on the porch before a hearty hot meal was ready for the table—sausages and eggs and long rashers of streaky bacon, and rolls just crisped in the oven and fresh coffee—and the hostess herself as cool and neat as if she had not been near the kitchen.

She never could have managed it with an old-fashioned range. The New Perfection is the quickest, most convenient and best cooker on the market.

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with tops, featuring blue enameled chimneys, handoperated blower throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be laid with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with deep shelves, towel racks, etc. Dealers everywhere; or write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company (Incorporated)
