AMUSEMENTS.

The best men of practically every state in the union will come to the meet, especially so since the dates of the western doubles at the Onwentsia clab in Chicago and the national clay court in Omaha are sq close together. Several cars will be needed to carry the many players who will come from the Chicago meet to Omaha on the Saturday night following the big meet in Chicago to get here for Sunday and a rest before starting the bigger one in this city. Similarly from all over the middle west word has come to the tennis committee of the Field club that the big players would be here the second week in August. John P. Balley, one of the most indeffetigable boosters for the Omaha meet that there is who have been so fortunate as to have in the west, although he is a resident of he is at the present time, that many of the players of the game in the south will Conrad H. Young will buy the cups for the national tournament next week and as soon as they arrive they will be placed for the window of some of the local jewelers for exhibition.

A Question of Posterity.

"You expect your apartment houses to last for several generations, don't you?" said the man with a row of children at his side.
"They are built to stay," replied that his side.
"They are built to stay," replied the agent, proudly.
"And you think it would be a good thing for everybody to live in spartments".
"Most pleasant and convenient mosts of evistence nearlible." existence pessible."
"Well, what I want to know is this: If you persuade everybody to eccupy apartments and then deny homes to people who have children, how do you expect your heirs to find tenants for your buildings."
—Washington Star.

Yankee Thrift.

Robert Lincoln O'Brien, editor of the Boston Herald, is a great admirer of the thrift of the Vermonters, but thinks sometimes they carry it too far.

O'Brien was up in Vermont last summer and went to dinner with a friend who has some political aspirations. As they came in the door he hears the lady of the house say to the hired girk:

"I see Mr. Jones has somebody with him to dinner. Take these two his polatoes down to the cellar and bries up three small ones."—New York Sun.
