AUTO OWNER INTO COURT

Nebraska County Attorney Brings Suit Over License.

DATE SET FOR KEARNEY HEARING

Western City Applies for More Passenger Trains to North Platte—James Sullivan Asks for Pardon of Governor.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, June 26.—(Special.)—Fred Hawzby, county attorney of Nebraska county, has started a prosecution against Glen Parker for running an automobile without a license.

Parker bought an automobile and continued to use the same number used by the former owner. When the owner bought a new machine and continued to use his old number.

The attorney general's office holds that the only way a number can be transferred is by transfer on the books of registration in the office of the secretary of state.

Parker did not obtain a transfer when he bought the machine and is now charged with running an automobile without a license.

The old law under which he is being prosecuted provides for a fine of from $5 to $50 or imprisonment for thirty days for a second offense.

The new automobile law provides that license registration fees shall go to the county in which the applicant for license resides.

Mr. Hawzby has refused to pay the state $40 for a certified copy of all persons who have automobile licenses and instead may call the secretary of state as a witness.

He believes the state ought to assist in enforcing the registration law without piling up so much costs against counties where enforcement is attempted.

Sullivan Asks Pardon. James Sullivan has applied to Governor Aldrich for a pardon. He was one of the three men convicted of killing a railroad night watchman named Frank Wiser at Shelby in the year 1904.

The other men were Thomas McIntyre and Harry Neville. All received life sentences. Neville obtained a commutation of sentence from Governor Shallenbarger, January 4, 1911.

One of the last acts of the retiring governor was to liberate Neville on the ground of failing health.

Now Sullivan, whose life sentence was commuted to ten years, January 1, 1909, by Governor Sheldon, asks for liberty on the ground that Neville, who is now free, signed an affidavit several years ago admitting that he was the man who killed the night watchman and that he had lied previously when he said the killing was done by Sullivan.

The Best Treatment for Itching Scalps and Falling Hair

To allay itching and irritation of the scalp, prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove crusts, scales and dandruff, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, the following special treatment is most effective, agreeable and economical. On retiring, comb the hair out straight all around, then begin at the side and make a parting, gently rubbing Cuticura ointment into the parting with a bit of soft flannel held over the end of the finger. Anent additional parting about half an inch apart until the whole scalp has been treated, the purpose being to get the Cuticura ointment on the scalp skin rather than on the hair. It is well to place a light covering over the hair to protect the scalp from possible stain. The next morning, shampoo with Cuticura soap and hot water. Shampoos alone may be used as often as desirable, but once or twice a month is generally sufficient for this special treatment for women's hair. Notwithstanding Cuticura soap and ointment are sold everywhere, those wishing to try this treatment may do so without expense by sending to "Cuticura," Dept. H Boston, for a free sample of Cuticura soap and ointment, with 22-page book on the skin and hair.
