

THE BEE IS DELIVERED to more Omaha homes than all other papers combined.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

WEATHER FORECAST. For Nebraska—Fair. For Iowa—Fair.

VOL. XLII—NO. 9.

OMAHA, WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 28, 1911—TWELVE PAGES.

SINGLE COPY TWO CENTS.

FUNK NAMES MEN FOLLOWING HIM

Three Detectives Shadowing Witness in Lorimer Case at Hearing When It

DRAMATIC EPISODE HEARING Committee Summons Act as Witness

CROSS-EXAMINATION EEDS Tells How He Got Acquainted with One of Them.

TELLS ABOUT SWEAT-BOX PROCESS Harvester Man Tells of Talk with Detective Name Blaine, Whom He Had Seen in Chicago and Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—There was another dramatic episode in the hearing of the Lorimer case today when Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company, announced that three of the four detectives about whose surveillance he told the committee yesterday were present at today's session. The committee summoned the detectives as witnesses.

Mr. Funk called attention to the matter at the opening of today's hearing before the senate committee. No time was fixed for the testimony of the detectives, who, Mr. Funk declared yesterday, were hired to trail him and one of whom Mr. Funk declared had confessed the nature of his employment and the identity of his employer.

Counsel for Mr. Lorimer immediately proceeded with the cross-examination of Mr. Funk regarding the alleged request to him by Edward Hines for an International Harvester company contribution of $10,000 to reimburse those who "contributed $100,000 to put Lorimer across at Springfield."

Mr. Funk today publicly announced that the detective who admitted he had been employed to shadow him was named Blaine and belonged to a Chicago agency.

Mr. Funk said that when he came to Washington he recognized a young man standing by him on the street. He had last seen him in Chicago.

"I spoke to him," declared Mr. Funk. "It was on Pennsylvania avenue and I was waiting for a car. He crossed the street as I did and when I got on the car, he did so. I asked him to sit by me.

"You are back on the job," I said.

"Yes," he responded.

"How do you enjoy it?" I asked him.

"Am not proud of my work," he said.

"Then I gave him some fatherly advice, telling him I did not think much of the detective business and that he had better get into some business that had a future.

"Just before we got up to the senate office building, he said that I had 'ditched' two of his associates and he supposed that he would lose his job if he lost me. I said 'I'll fix you' and he said 'I'll fix you' and that I would promise not to 'ditch' him."

"That isn't a sweat-box," interrupted Mr. Hines. "Tell us about that."

The witness said the sweat-box process was adopted in his room at a local hotel.

It was in his room, Mr. Funk said, that the detective told him the name of his employer.

Attorney Hines asked the witness further about his testimony that Mr. Hines did not seem to be under the influence of liquor when the alleged request for a Lorimer contribution was made.

Mr. Funk said he had never seen Hines take a drink and he never saw a cigar.

"What has that got to do with this investigation," inquired Senator Kern.

"Oh, no offense was meant," interrupted Mr. Hines. "I smoke too."

"I didn't think it would be offensive to a man from Chicago to ask him if he took a drink," declared Senator Kenyon.

Mr. Funk left the witness stand and W. H. Cook of Duluth, a lumber man, was sworn. His testimony was largely a reiteration of his narrative before the Helm committee at Springfield, Ill.

Dalzell Lumberman Called.

He reiterated an alleged conversation with Mr. Hines at the Grand Pacific hotel in Chicago in May, 1909. It was at that time, Mr. Cook declared, Mr. Hines remarked he was "having a — of a time," at Washington.

"Now, for instance," Mr. Cook testified Mr. Hines said, "there is old Stephenson. After I got him elected he has gone down there and started working for free lumber. The southern democrats are the worst of

Henwood Grilled By Prosecuting Attorney Elliott

Pointed Questions Asked About His Visits to Springer Ranch—Mrs. Springer Writes Letters.

DENVER, June 27.—Frank Harold Henwood was subjected to a grilling cross-examination by District Attorney Elliott today in Henwood's trial for the murder of George E. Copeland. The prosecuting attorney dwelt upon the statements of Henwood on previous days that his trouble with Von Phul was the outgrowth of efforts of Henwood to protect the home of John W. Springer from the threats of Von Phul, who, Henwood stated, had announced his intention of sending to Mr. Springer certain letters written by Mrs. Springer to Von Phul.

The witness bowed in affirmation. He admitted, however, that his room was on the night of the shooting. He admitted, however, that his room was on the night of the shooting. He admitted, however, that his room was on the night of the shooting.

He admitted, however, that his room was on the night of the shooting. He admitted, however, that his room was on the night of the shooting. He admitted, however, that his room was on the night of the shooting.

He admitted, however, that his room was on the night of the shooting. He admitted, however, that his room was on the night of the shooting. He admitted, however, that his room was on the night of the shooting.

He admitted, however, that his room was on the night of the shooting. He admitted, however, that his room was on the night of the shooting. He admitted, however, that his room was on the night of the shooting.

Both Bond Issues Beaten by the Voters at Special Election

Water and Court House Securities Denied by Vote that Seems Decisive.

Returns from the special election in Omaha and Douglas county, called to pass on issues of water bonds and court house bonds, indicate that both issues were defeated.

In Omaha the chief interest was in the water bond issue of $2,000,000, but the vote was very light, less than 5,000 in the total. The vote in the county was even lighter than in the city, but was against the court house bond issue.

Serious Explosion on Submarine Boat Pike

Chief Machinist and Two Other Men Burned by Back Fire of Gasoline Engine.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 27.—Explosion on the submarine Pike Monday afternoon, caused by a "backfire" in the gasoline engine, severely burned F. W. Elliott, chief machinist; J. Q. Jeffries, machinist's mate, and L. B. Walker, electrician. Elliott is the most severely injured, but will recover. Other sailors in the boat at the time escaped unhurt.

The accident occurred just as the engine was started. There was an explosion in the crank pit, and this was followed by a second, caused by igniting gases. Walker instantly turned off the switch and probably thus prevented a disaster.

Sailors on the dock rescued their injured shipmates. The injured were taken to "sick bay" on the pier and are doing well. The Pike apparently was not damaged.

Captain Hayne Ellis, acting commander of the submarine squadron, ordered a court inquiry to convene tomorrow.

TRAIN ROBBER SUSPECT HELD IN NEW YORK

Man Who Resembles Bandit Wanted at Coffeyville, Kansas, is Arrested.

NEW YORK, June 27.—A man who says he is Michael Ferguson of No. 11 Wilcox street, "Providence, Mass.," is locked up at Jersey City because he is said to resemble a robber's gallery portrait of Elmer J. McHardy, alias Frank Curtis. There is a reward of $1,000 outstanding for the capture of Curtis, who is wanted on a charge of holding up a Missouri Pacific train at Coffeyville, Kan., on March 21.

Ferguson's detention followed his application at the United States recruiting office for admission to the army. Sergeant Lemuel H. Betty, who is in charge of the recruiting office, became suspicious and summoned the police. He could find no mention of such a man as Providence, Mass. Betty noticed a "V" shaped scar over the man's left eye, which corresponded to a similar mark on the portrait of Curtis.

TARIFF DEBATE WILL CONTINUE

Senator La Follette Objects to Agreement to Vote on Reciprocity Bill on July 24.

INSURGENTS AID DEMOCRATS Indications that Bill Must Await Action on Tariff Measures.

SUGGESTION FROM NELSON Willing to Agree to Vote Two Weeks After Action on Wool Bill.

PLANS OF THE DEMOCRATS Mr. Williams Says They Expect to Pass Several Small Bills and That Some of Them Will Be Signed.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—An attempt by Senator Penrose of the senate Finance committee to fix July 24 for a vote on the Canadian reciprocity bill was defeated in the senate today through Senator La Follette's objection.

The debate indicated that a portion of the republican insurgents and some democrats will fight to have the wool revision and the free list bills passed first so that the president will have to act on them before the senate passes the reciprocity bill.

The Penrose resolution proposed a vote on the reciprocity bill July 24, a vote on the wool revision bill July 25 and a vote on the free list bill July 26. Senator La Follette's objection was made only to the vote on the reciprocity bill.

Senator Bailey urged no one to object to the other dates, but the republican leaders realized they would be in an embarrassing situation if the time was fixed for the wool and free list votes and left unsettled for the reciprocity vote, and Senator Smoot objected.

Senator La Follette said: "The senate should have opportunity to talk over the reciprocity bill without restriction."

Senator Bailey said it was inconceivable that the president would veto the reciprocity bill which he desired, because some other tariff bill was attached to it, unless he intended to veto the other bill if it came to him separately.

"It is perfectly apparent that the president will refuse to sign the reciprocity bill if it is mixed up with a general tariff revision," said Senator Williams of Mississippi.

"By what authority do you say that the president will veto general tariff bills?" asked Senator Nelson.

"By the authority of common sense," retorted Mr. Williams.

"Then is all this fight to pass the bill and the free list bill simply a playing of politics?" demanded Senator Nelson.

Plans of Democrats.

"No," said Senator Williams, "we do not intend to pass a general tariff bill. We intend to pass several small bills on the more important subjects, in the hope that one or two of them will meet the approval of the president."

Senator Bailey declared that the democrats had no chance of passing the wool and free list bills without the support of republican insurgents.

"It is perfectly apparent that the program adopted by the democrats will result in the passage of the reciprocity bill and the veto of any bills looking to the general tariff revision," said Senator Dixon.

"I do not propose to join in any proposition," said Senator Bailey, "that requires the democrats to join with the republicans to pass the reciprocity bill and then leaves the democrats to fight the wool and free list bills."

More Tariff Bills in House.

Following a talk with President Taft at the White House today, Speaker Champ Clark reiterated the statement, made several days ago, that the democratic house would continue to bombard the senate with revised tariff schedules as long as congress remained in session. It was reported from sources close to the president that his announced objection to what he had termed "haphazard" revision of the tariff, especially at this session of congress, continues as strong as ever.

Negro Hanged by a Mob in Georgia

Man Taken to Atlanta for Safe Keeping Lynched on Being Returned for Trial.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 27.—Tom Allen, a young negro charged with attacking a white woman in Walton county, was taken off a train near Social Circle, Ga., today and hanged by a mob. Several weeks ago he was taken to Monroe, Ga., for trial under guard of state troops. It being feared that he would be lynched, the judge postponed the trial and declared the presence of soldiers unnecessary. The negro was brought to Atlanta for safe keeping and was being returned to Monroe for trial when lynched.

MONROE, Ga., June 27.—The same mob which this morning lynched Tom Allen stormed the jail this afternoon and lynched Joe Watts, another negro, who was being held on suspicion, who had been arrested while prowling around the home of a white man.

Pa's Perennial Puzzle

THE FARM

From the Washington Star.

Pa's Perennial Puzzle

THE FARM

From the Washington Star.

Pa's Perennial Puzzle

THE FARM

From the Washington Star.

CORNELL TAKES BIG BOAT RACE

Ithacans Win Intercollegiate Regatta from Columbia by Desperate Sprint at Finish.

TIME ANNOUNCED IS 20:10 4-5

Winners Recover Lost Lead Hundred Yards from the Line.

PENNSYLVANIA COMES THIRD

Confusion Prevents Identification of Remaining Boats.

BEATEN MEN COLLAPSE IN RACE

Stroke Downing and Bow Oarsman Sage of Columbia Yield to Terrific Strain Near the Finish Line.

POUGHKEEPSIE, June 27.—The intercollegiate regatta was won today by Cornell university, the official time being 20:10.4. Columbia was a close second. The official time was as follows:

Cornell, 20:10.4
Columbia, 20:24.4
Pennsylvania, 20:33
Wisconsin, 20:34
Syracuse, 21:03.4

The start of the varsity race was announced by a bomb on the bridge at 5:31 o'clock.

At the mile, the bridge bombs indicated that Cornell was leading with Columbia second, Syracuse third, Pennsylvania fourth and Wisconsin fifth.

At the second mile Cornell was leading by half a length, with Columbia fighting every inch of the way.

At the third mile Columbia had passed Cornell and was leading, with the Ithacans rowing desperately to regain their lost position. Pennsylvania was third.

About a hundred yards from the finish line the powerful Cornell spurt told upon the Columbia eight and the Ithacan shell gradually pulled away from the New York crew. The bow oarsman, Sage of the Columbia eight, was unable to stand the strain and collapsed.

As they neared the finish line Cornell spurred and forged ahead and was leading by a full length. The Cornell shell shot across the line first.

Stroke Downing of the Columbia crew dropped over into the boat as the New Yorkers crossed the finish line. At this point the steward's boat ran abreast of the remaining crews and it was impossible to describe with accuracy their relative positions.

Within a short time after the finish of the race, the Columbia oarsmen recovered and all crews back to their respective quarters.

Governor Dix, from the deck of the "cruiser," appeared greatly elated at Cornell's victory.

Freshmen Race to Columbia.

The freshmen eight race was won by Columbia by two lengths. Cornell was second by two lengths; Syracuse, third; Pennsylvania, fourth; and Wisconsin last. All the crews finished strong. Official time:

Columbia, 16:13.4
Cornell, 16:20.4
Syracuse, 16:34.4
Pennsylvania, 17:24.4
Wisconsin, 18:03

Columbia's victory today is the first on the Poughkeepsie course in sixteen years. On June 24, 1895, the Morningstar crew carried off the honors in the varsity race.

Prisoner Takes Care of Officer

Iowa Deputy Sheriff Falls by Wayside and Man He is in Charge of Looks After Him.

CHICAGO, June 27.—An officer of the law being cared for by his prisoner, who had declined to accept a perfect chance to escape, was the curious spectacle presented at the Harrison street police station today.

The officer of the law was Deputy Sheriff M. W. Robison of Polk county, Iowa, and the Samaritan prisoner C. E. Duggan who was being taken to Des Moines on a charge of wife abandonment. Duggan was arrested by Robison at Indianapolis yesterday. Duggan and his captor started for the depot to take a train for the Iowa capital.

"We took just one drink; but it had an awful effect on Robison," explained Duggan. "Something must have been wrong with it. For it made Robison helpless. Duggan and I could have escaped, but I could not leave him sick and helpless, so I brought him here, and I guess I'll look after him."

Labor Leaders Will Not Apologize

Samuel Gompers Says that Himself and Associates Do Not Believe Themselves in Contempt.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Before leaving for Indianapolis today to continue his investigation into the McNamara kidnaping case Samuel Gompers intimated that no apology from John Mitchell, Frank Morrison, or himself, would be forthcoming in connection with the ruling of Judge Wright of the district supreme court, directing them to show cause by July 17, why they should not be adjudged in contempt of court.

Boxes of O'Brien's Candy

Round trip tickets to Lake Manawa.

Quart bricks of Dalzell's ice cream.

Base Ball Tickets.

All given away free to those who find their names in the want ads. Read the want ads every day, your name will appear sometime, may be more than once.

No puzzles to solve nor subscriptions to get—just read the want ads.

Turn to the want ad page—now.

The Weather

For Nebraska—Fair, warmer.
For Iowa—Fair.
Temperatures at Omaha Yesterday.

Hour	Deg.
5 a. m.	62
6 a. m.	63
7 a. m.	63
8 a. m.	64
9 a. m.	65
10 a. m.	67
11 a. m.	69
12 m.	70
1 p. m.	72
2 p. m.	73
3 p. m.	74
4 p. m.	75
5 p. m.	76
6 p. m.	77
7 p. m.	78
8 p. m.	78

Comparative Local Record.

	1911	1910	1909	1908
Highest yesterday	78	77	81	80
Lowest yesterday	62	70	67	60
Normal temperature	65	65	65	65
Precipitation	.00	.75	.75	.75
Temperature and precipitation departures from the normal
Deficiency for the day	3	1	0	0
Total excess since March 1	154	154	154	154
Normal precipitation	18	18	18	18
Deficiency for the day	18	18	18	18
Total rainfall since March 1	1.22	1.22	1.22	1.22
Deficiency since March 1	1.78	1.78	1.78	1.78
Deficiency for cor. period, 1910, 1909, 1908	1.78	1.78	1.78	1.78
Station and State of Weather
Chicago, partly cloudy	74	74	74	74
Denver, clear	72	72	72	72
St. Louis, clear	70	70	70	70
Indianapolis, clear	70	70	70	70
London, cloudy	70	70	70	70
North Platte, clear	74	74	74	74
Omaha, clear	78	78	78	78
Pueblo, clear	76	76	76	76
St. Paul, clear	78	78	78	78
Salt Lake City, pt. cloudy	74	74	74	74
Santa Fe, cloudy	74	74	74	74
Shelburne, cloudy	76	76	76	76
St. Louis, clear	70	70	70	70
Valentine, clear	74	74	74	74
L. A. WELSH, Local Forecaster.				