WAR ON EMPLOYMENT MEN

Irregular Agencies in Des Moines to Be Brought to Law.

GREEKS HELD FOR EXTORTION

Farmer Caught Under Auto Near Des Moines by Doctor Who Was Selling Close After— Release Has Been Settled.

DES MOINES, June 27.—(Special Telegram.)—War on irregular employment agencies was begun today by the state labor board by filing information against two Greek labor agencies, John Calabrese and John Vinneman.

The agencies are accused of operating an employment office without license, but in fact the move is directed against a system of extortion practiced upon the Greek laborers, which is declared to be contrary to law. They are accused of victimizing laborers in the matter of heavy fees for securing positions as railroad laborers. A fee of $5 is required for registering and afterwards the men are mulcted for a percentage of their wages regularly in the guise of clerical fees. Vinneman was arrested.

Farmer's Life Saved.

A passing doctor saved the life of a farmer, John Dwyer, when the latter was a victim of a snake accident on a country road south of Des Moines. Dwyer's machine was overturned and fell directly upon him, pinning him to the earth in such a manner that he soon would have died. A doctor was almost behind him in an ambulance, succeeded in getting the farmer free of Dwyer in time to save him with little delay.

No Licenses for Saloons.

The saloons will have no chance to get rehearing on the recent supreme court decision prohibiting saloons in cafes from serving drinks until September 15. The supreme court will hear cases but will not hear any applications for a rehearing of the case. Notice of a petition for a rehearing of the case has been filed by saloon and hotel interests with the clerk. Des Moines saloon men have entered into a combine to decide for themselves, which ones shall have licenses and will take this duty away from the city council. They have filed applications for eighty-six licenses, which is just the number that can be granted. The city council was anticipating trouble in deciding which ones to put out of business.

White Slavery Charge Made.

That Des Moines is the center of a community of "white slavers" is the startling charge made this morning by a deputy United States marshal following the arrest of Adam Simmons, a Russian, on a charge of importing women to the United States from his native land for unlawful purposes. It is charged that Simmons brought into this country a young woman, whose family name is Katschak, from Trieste, Gubernia, Russia. It is also charged that she was brought here for immoral purposes and that she is detained in Des Moines by Simmons.

Building Trades Labor Troubles.

A strike of 1500 laborers in the building trades of Des Moines is threatened. The master plumbers notified the plumbers today that they must decide at once whether they will go back to work or have their places supplied from the outside. They are on a strike because of trouble at the Young Men's Christian association building. It is stated that if the men do not go back their places will be filled with nonunion men, and as soon as this is done all the workmen in the building trades in Des Moines will strike. There are about 1000 of them at work now.

Change in College Payments.

State Auditor Hiesley today made a ruling in regard to the time of payment of the support funds for the state educational institutions, holding that the colleges cannot secure the funds until the close of each quarter instead of at the beginning of each one. Heretofore and for years the state auditor has been paying the support funds to the trustees of the institutions at the beginning of each quarter, and this has made vast differences in the available funds at each institution. Now the state auditor holds that this is not contemplated in the law.

Benefited by the Rain.

All central Iowa was greatly benefited by the rain which fell Sunday and Sunday night in some places by rain today. The record shows only 14-inch rainfall here, but it was of great help to the vegetation and the indications are that the long drought here did not get any of the rain. The storm was accompanied by hail here, but it did no special damage.

Conservation Congress.

Henry Wallace, president of the National Conservation congress, has announced that the next assembly of that body will be held in Kansas City, September 21 to 25. President Taft and Theodore Roosevelt have been invited to speak.

On Duty with Guard.

Captain Robert McClure, U. S. A., arrived in this city today and reported for duty to General Logan of the Iowa National Guard and was assigned to the staff school at Fort Leavenworth. He will be given work in the Iowa National Guard, especially in the camp encampments.

Two New Savings Banks.

There was filed with the secretary of state today the articles of incorporation of the Farmers Savings bank of Leighton, by J. E. Vanderyl president, capital $20,000, and of the Duncumbe Savings bank, $25,000, John Mallinger president. Articles were filed for the Blunder Coal and Lumber company, $50,000, and for the Newton Washing Machine company, $50,000.

Ordered the Land Sold.

J. F. Wall, revenue clerk in the office of the secretary of state, returned today from Council Bluffs and reported to the council on the status of a certain lot in the city belonging to the Iowa school fund. The council has directed that a sale be made of the lot. It had been owned by the state many years, but the state had no record of the same.

Bossy Brings Grief to Owner, Mrs. Banks

H. H. Vermeiren's Horse and Buggy Tangled in Tether and Then Trouble Ensues.

H. H. Vermeiren of 2425 Manderson street reports to the police that as he was driving home along Bedford street late Monday night he encountered Mrs. John Banks' cow tethered with a wire cable, and in the mix-up between horse and cow the buggy was rendered inoperative and the horse reared up. In order to be sure of compensation for the damages, Mr. Vermeiren took the cow home and securely locked the beast in his barn.

Yesterday Mrs. Banks sent her son John after the cow, but Mr. Vermeiren refused to let Bossy go until $15 was produced for repairing the damaged buggy and doctoring up the horse. Young John Banks offered to pay for the repair of the buggy, but declined to pay spot cash to the owner before the cost could be ascertained. This was refused and the cow kept in bondage.

When John informed his mother of the demands of Mr. Vermeiren, he also remarked that the morning's milkman, John Vermeiren had taken from the cow should act as a part offset to the claims of Mr. Vermeiren. Mrs. Banks went straightway to the police station and demanded the release of her cow from the improvised pound in the office of Captain Dempsey, who next went before the justice to sue out a writ of replevin and later filed a claim for damages against Vermeiren for milking her cow.

DEATH RECORD

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Cora Bright of this city and the groom is a prosperous young farmer living east of town.

The Key to the Situation—Bee Want Ads.

FREE TRADE WITH CANADA

Senator Townsend Takes Advanced Stand on Reciprocity Bill.

IMPROVE ST. LAWRENCE RIVER

Michigan Insurgent Says This Would Be of More Benefit to the Farmers Than Panama Canal.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Defense of the Canadian reciprocity agreement was made on the floor of the senate today by Senator Townsend of Michigan, republican. Not only would he lend his support to the bill now under consideration, the senator declared, but he would have a treaty which would have included all of the products of Canada and the United States on the free list. Careful and unbiased study had convinced him that the agreement would benefit both countries.

"But I am convinced," he added, "that reciprocity with Canada can never be the greatest success until manufactured as well as natural products meet no customs walls in passing between the two countries." Senator Townsend argued that it was the duty of the United States and for its best good to enter into the freest trade relations possible with those nations where the conditions of living and industry are similar to those of our own country. Canada, he contended, came in this class. Personally, he said, he would have "striven long and hard" for absolute free trade between the two countries, but he added that he would vote for the measure in its present form as an "agreement to begin taking down the useless wall between parts of the same industrial field."

Improve the St. Lawrence.

For the purpose of increasing the benefits which he would flow from the agreement, Senator Townsend proposed an amendment to the bill providing that the president should try to form an agreement with Canada looking to the improvement of the St. Lawrence river from the great lakes to the Atlantic ocean, "a waterway of sufficient depth and width to accommodate deep water, sea-going vessels of the common use and benefit of both countries and in furtherance of reciprocal trade relations between them." This project, he declared, would confer greater benefits on both countries than those which flow from any tariff, and would be the consummation of the greatest contemplated benefits in trade.

"To me," said Senator Townsend, "this is a greater proposition than the Panama canal. It may be a dream but some day the dream will come true. It may come in the distant future, but it is a project which should be given the most serious thought and consideration by the two nations which are, we hope, entering upon an era of good will and amity."

Nothing for Farmer to Fear.

The farmer had nothing to fear from the agreement, the speaker contended. "It cannot harm the farmers," he declared. "It is the beginning of a policy which I have long favored, viz.: A change of tariff conditions in conformity with the well understood doctrine of protection. The items in this measure are clearly understood. We know what the cost of production is here and in Canada. As far as the facts can be ascertained the tariff schedules should be revised and a scientific system of duties established. I want the wool, cotton, steel and other schedules revised. If a determination is made that revision is needed, it will not, however, close my eyes and proceed blindly in the matter. I do not believe the people have repudiated the principle of protection; they have protested against old, unscientific methods."

"Today if all the surplus wheat of Canada found an outlet through American markets it would not in my opinion, materially affect the price. If we used Canada's export we could and would export more of our own crop. But we will not use it. The surplus from both countries will continue to find its market abroad except in case of a crop failure in either country. Then the other country will supply, as it ought to supply, the deficiency."

"Weel Now, Hoot Mon Golf's a Bonny Game"

Trade Extension Committee of Commercial Club is Issuing Defits to the World for Golf Match.

That Scotch game which Andy Carnegie uses to keep his waistband down has become more popular in the Commercial club. Members of that institution are golf mad. A challenge to any committee in the club for a match game will not, however, trade extension committee in a meeting Monday.

Joe Kelley, vice chairman of the committee, does not play the game. However, he is such an enthusiast that he volunteered to cadge. The other members of the committee declare that they will "hold him to it." Among the particularly adept wielders of the sticks who hold places on the committee are, J. C. Cott, W. H. Rhodes, Frank H. H. Wright, J. H. Taylor and J. H. Hoigt.

Financial details of the last trade excursion were closed up at the meeting. It was found that a balance was left in the excursion fund after all bills had been settled. Tentative plans for the extension of the market town doctrine next year were discussed.

MURDER AT RICHMOND KILLS SELF IN SIGHT OF MOB

Granville Johns, Who Attempts to Murder Son and Daughter, Kills B. T. Ulett.

RICHMOND, Va., June 27.—In an attempt to kill his son and daughter Monday, Granville Johns, 36 years old, today shot and killed B. T. Ulett, 23 years old, a boarder at his home, and then committed suicide when hard pressed by a mob.

Charles Johns, 20 years old, and his sister, Minnie, 19 years old, yesterday visited an amusement resort in disobedience to their father's wishes. They were returning Johns visited his son's room with a shotgun. In the struggle the gun was discharged and Ulett, who occupied the room with Charles, was shot in the abdomen. His death was instantaneous.

Johns fled. He was cornered about a mile from town and killed himself in full view of hundreds of persons. "Pasadena, Cal., March 3 1911.—Poley & Co., Gentlemen: We have sold and recommended Poley's Honey and Tar Compound for years. We believe it to be one of the most efficient expectorants on the market. Containing no opiates or narcotics it can be given freely to children. Enough of the remedy can be taken to relieve a cold, as it has no nauseating results, and does not interfere with digestion. 'Course very truly, C. H. Ward Drug Co., C. L. Parsons, Sec'y and Treas.' Get the original Poley's Honey and Tar Compound in the yellow package."

President Smith Tells of Mormon Deal with Havemeyer Interests

Says Church Holds No Stock in American Company and Was Only Interested in Getting Money.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The story of the alliance of the Mormon church and the Hon. O. Havemeyer interest in the beet sugar business was told and the deal characterized as "entirely legal" by Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon church and of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company, before the house "sugar trust" investigating committee today.

"We have made no effort to pry into the affairs of the church except in so far as they related to business matters. The venerable president of the Mormon hierarchy said the deal with Havemeyer was not considered important enough for formal consideration by the council of the church, but was effected with the acquiescence of the church officials."

Mr. Smith testified that it was not the general practice of the church to make business investments, but the sugar business was its largest investment and that was entered upon to help the Mormon people. He emphatically denied that the church had any stock in the American Sugar Refining company.

"Why haven't you folks bought out the Havemeyer interests?" asked Representative Baker of California. "We haven't got the money." "You know Havemeyer was a very powerful man in the business world and you were glad to get him interested in your business, weren't you?"

"We were only interested in getting his money."

Bishop Charles Nibley, business manager of the Mormon church, testified that the original owners of stock in the Amalgamated Sugar company of Utah received nearly two for one in selling out to Havemeyer. Both Havemeyer and Nibley, formerly interested in Amalgamated, he said, were mistaken in over-estimating the future of the beet sugar industry.

Famous Broncho Busters Are Thrown

Outlaw Pony Owned by Bentley Bros. of Thunder Butte, S. D., Unseats Professional Riders.

ABERDEEN, S. D., June 27.—(Special.)—Dewey county residents were treated to a little excitement the other day, when "Red" Fuller, a famous "broncho buster" of Dewey, undertook to ride "Cripple," an outlaw pony owned by Bentley brothers of Thunder Butte. "Cripple" has a reputation for having never been ridden, and "Red" Fuller has the reputation of having never failed to successfully ride any pony he has ever attempted to mount, so the interest was keen and in addition to the interest of the Dewey county residents, the one hand, and "Red" Fuller on the other, there were dozens of side bets, aggregating several thousand dollars, as the result. But "Cripple" unseated "Red" in just three jumps, winning $30 for his owners in about three seconds. After Fuller's fall, the Bentley brothers, John and John, who have some reputation as riders, grew ambitious and offered to bet $50 he could ride "Cripple." The money was quickly covered, and "Cripple" served Chauncey exactly the same as he had "Red," with the difference that Johnson did not determine to shoot him on the spot. After the exhibition, the Bentleys refused $25 for "Cripple," and took him home until another ambitious cowboy wants to try his fortune.

FUNK NAMES MEN FOLLOWING HIM

The whole lot. He (Hines) said he would have them all fixed up one day and the next day they would flop." The crowd in the committee room, including Mr. Hines, laughed over this testimony, but not so Senator Johnston of Alabama, a southern democrat. Finally Senator Johnston of Florida charged Mr. Johnston and the Alabama senator joined in a charge. Mr. Cook reiterated his Springfield testimony regarding an alleged telephone conversation Hines had from Cook's hotel room the day Senator Lorimer was elected or the day before.

Cook testified that it was in this conversation that Hines said he had just come from Washington and that President Taft and Senator Aldrich were against Hopkins. "Lorimer must be elected," Cook testified Hines said over the telephone. "Don't leave anything undone. I will be down on the next train with all the money needed." More positive than he was at the Springfield hearing, Mr. Cook testified without reservation that he answered the long distance call from Springfield for Mr. Hines and that the telephone girl said: "Here is Governor Deneen."

Cook testified he did not mention in his Springfield testimony that Governor Deneen was the one who the senator said was on the telephone at Springfield. He refrained from doing so, because "I did not think it necessary; Deneen was governor."

Says He Knows Hines. Mr. Cook acknowledged some bitterness toward Mr. Hines and declared he had never felt very friendly toward him.

"I know his way of doing business," he explained. "He has a way of going about business that I do not think is honorable. When he wants to buy timber he gets an option and then goes around trying to hurt the credit of the seller."

"Cite an instance," challenged Attorney William J. Hynes for Mr. Hines. "John Nelson of the Alger-Smith company of Duluth," retorted Cook. "When Mr. Cook quoted Hines' brother-in-law, C. F. Wiehe, as saying that Hines talked too much and 'they would get him yet,' Mr. Hines, who had been attending all the hearings, laughed heartily."

Attorney J. J. Healey of counsel for the committee, asked about Mr. Cook's bitterness toward Mr. Hines as the result of their relations to the Virginia & Rainey Lake company, a Minnesota lumber corporation. Mr. Cook said that feeling had not colored his testimony.

GEORGE W. KLINE SECRETARY OF ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Lincoln Newspaper Man Chosen to Take Up Duties Under New Plans of Organization.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, June 27.—(Special Telegram.)—George Kline, city editor of the Star of this city, was today selected as the secretary of the university alumni association under the new plan formed two weeks ago here. Mr. Kline will assume his duties August 1. The place carries a salary of $1,800 per annum. The organization marks a new era in university affairs and will, it is believed, have considerable effect on future legislation along educational lines in this state. Mrs. Ada Atkinson and H. P. Leavitt of Omaha were named as members of the executive committee.

ALMA CHAUTAUQUA A SUCCESS

Commercial Club Starts Movement for Permanent Building.

ALMA, June 27.—(Special.)—The Alma chautauqua closed Tuesday night with a program by the Royal Italian Guards' band. The program this year was a strong one containing such speakers as Francis H. Hines, the Star's business manager, and other equally celebrated people. The average daily attendance was 1,675. At a special meeting Monday afternoon the Commercial club arranged for next year the erection of a permanent auditorium for all future assemblies, the building to be completed in time for next year's session.

Man Accidentally Killed.

CRETE, Neb., June 27.—(Special.)—James Melick of Wilber, formerly of Crete, died yesterday afternoon in the Crete hospital. He was a candidate for the republican nomination for district judge from the county of Holt, Boyd, Keya, Praha and Rock. There will probably be no opposition to Mr. Dickson in the ranks of his own party for the nomination. Mr. Dickson is one of the successful lawyers in this section of the state and has been engaged in the active practice of his profession in this city for over twenty years. He is well fitted for the position to which he aspires and there is no question but that he will be successful at the polls next November.

Grand Island Chautauqua Abandoned. GRAND ISLAND, Neb., June 27.—(Special.)—The board of directors of the Grand Island Chautauqua association has decided to cancel all engagements and no assembly will be held this year, if ever again, in the future. The effort has never received the support to make it self-sustaining, although three attempts have been made, and when, in addition, partial crop failures came and the advance sale of tickets was almost nil, those in authority deemed it best to drop the matter.

Dickson Candidate for Judge.

O'NEILL, Neb., June 27.—(Special.)—Attorney R. R. Dickson has announced that he will be a candidate for the republican nomination for district judge from the fifteenth district, comprising the counties of Holt, Boyd, Keya, Praha and Rock. There will probably be no opposition to Mr. Dickson in the ranks of his own party for the nomination. Mr. Dickson is one of the successful lawyers in this section of the state and has been engaged in the active practice of his profession in this city for over twenty years. He is well fitted for the position to which he aspires and there is no question but that he will be successful at the polls next November.

Damage by Hail at Madison.

MADISON, Neb., June 26.—(Special.)—Heavy rainstorms visited this section both last evening and the evening before. The storm last evening was accompanied by a high wind and some hail. Many trees were broken, windmills blown down and small buildings unroofed. The damage from hail was more extensive than at first thought. Quite a large area southwest of this city was swept by the hail in some spots, practically stripping the corn and pounding the small grain into the ground.

Extensive Damage Near Ragan.

RAGAN, Neb., June 27.—(Special.)—A heavy wind and electric storm did considerable damage southeast of here last night. Several windmills were blown down and barns and outbuildings damaged. Several large barns were blown down and small buildings unroofed. The damage from hail was more extensive than at first thought. Quite a large area southwest of this city was swept by the hail in some spots, practically stripping the corn and pounding the small grain into the ground.

Windmills and Wheat Stacks Upt.

FAIRBURY, Neb., June 27.—(Special.)—A terrific windstorm visited this vicinity late Sunday evening which did considerable damage to small buildings, trees and wheat. Many windmill towers were torn off completely and wheat stacks blown over. The air was filled with dust and it was impossible to see from short distances ahead of one. This wind followed one of the most sultry and hot days that Fairbury has experienced in many years.

Barn Blown Down at Shelby.

SHELBY, Neb., June 27.—(Special.)—A bad wind visited here about 11 o'clock last night. The farm barn of John Krumbach was blown down and he had several horses and cattle killed. The front part of J. N.
