peated here day after day that we must not amend this bill because it will meet with the disapproval of the executive. "I wish some one more able than I am would stand here and denounce the attempt to influence legislation in the senate through such suggestions. I wish the senate could pass the bill, and I wish the influence of the character that has been presented in this fight."

Senator Cummins said he did not believe his amendments, enlarging the number of products free from Canada, would subject the bill to the "favored nation clause" which gives to the favored countries the best tariff rates given to any other country.

"I am confident that the bill, with my amendments, will not be as likely to collide with the favored nations clause," said Senator Cummins, "as will the bill in the form it passed the house and is now before the senate."

Questioned by Senator Smith of South Carolina, Senator Cummins said he proposed to join in attempts to get lower duties on other tariff schedules.

"But why won't you join me in demanding free meat as well as free cotton, sugar as well as free wheat in this reciprocity bill?" asked Senator Cummins in return. Senator Smith said he would favor increasing the free list. He added that the duty on wheat ought to be removed if it threatened, through shortage of supply, to increase the cost of bread.

COMMITTEE BARS HINES FROM ROOM

that I said I knew about the use of money in the election."

"Did you know about it?" inquired Senator Kenyon.

"No, sir, he did not."

"Did he tell you he was also a reporter on Hearst's paper?" inquired Attorney E. B. Hines.

"No."

McLean's Trip to Washington.

Mr. McLean was questioned closely about his visit to Washington, because he said his delegation came at the request of Mr. Hines to see Secretary Knox about the duty on lumber from Canada. The witness thought it might have been in 1910, but said it could have been in 1909, while Mr. McLean, in his testimony placed Mr. McLean's visit in 1907. Neither was he sure the visit had to do with Canadian reciprocity.

Attorney Hines announced on behalf of Senator Lorimer that he gave consent for the sergeant-at-arms of the house and senate to turn over to the committee all official telegrams Mr. Lorimer had sent while congressman or senator.

William F. McKnight, a lawyer and lumbarman of Grand Rapids, Mich., and formerly democratic national committeeman from Michigan testified next.

He declared that he had never heard Mr. Hines say anything about the election of Mr. Lorimer until about two weeks ago. At that time Mr. Hines told McKnight he would be called before the hearing.

He was subpoenaed, but came to Washington anyway.

Witnesses Who May Officers.

Edward Wilson, president of the National Packing company of Chicago, whose name was alleged to have been given to Clarence S. Funk by Mr. Hines as the one to whom he could lend a $10,000 contribution to the $100,000 Lumbermen's election fund, next, was called as a witness. He said, in speaking of his business that he "thought" he was a director of a stock yard bank in Sioux City, St. Joseph, Mo., and San Francisco. Either as president or treasurer, he told the committee that he had the right to draw checks on the accounts on "twenty-five or thirty corporations."

J. B. REICHMANN FOUND GUILTY

Former President of Carnegie Trust Company Convicted of Making False Reports.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Joseph B. Reichmann, formerly president of the Carnegie Trust company, was found guilty today of making false statements to the state banking department. The jury deliberated one hour and a half.

Reichmann's case was regarded as of fundamental importance to the tangled situation resulting from the suspension of the Carnegie Trust company. One of the issues of the trial was the entry of a loan of $100,000 obtained from the Northern bank for the trust company by Joseph G. Robin.

When the verdict was announced, Reichmann, who entered court today confident of acquittal, reeled and would have fallen if a court officer had not supported him.

Reichmann, who had been partially recovered, commented grimly: "You never can tell what twelve men will do."

PREPARING FOR BILLY SUNDAY

Wheeling Council Prohibits Vice or Vulgar Language in Public Address.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 23.—The city council passed a resolution last night imposing a fine upon any person, who, in a public address should use vice or vulgar language. Councilman P. F. Haberstick, who offered the ordinance, said that it was done with the intention of curbing the vocabulary of Billy Sunday, the evangelist, who has been engaged by Wheeling churches to open a religious campaign in this city early next year.

ABERDEEN, S. D., June 23.—(Special.)—A prairie fire north of Davidson, Perkins county, burned over ten sections of land, stripping it of every trace of vegetation. A number of barns and homesteaders' shacks and three houses were destroyed by the flames, the house being owned by Theodore Frances. H. D. Walker and Thomas Brown. The burned section is in the richest part of Perkins county.

SALOON MEN GAIN POINT

Convince Anti-Saloons that 96 Licenses May Issue.

MORE WORK FOR CITY COUNCIL

Charles Sweeney Named Receiver for Wyoming Cattle Company on Agreement to Wind Up Corp.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, June 23.—(Special Telegram.)—The Des Moines saloon men caused consternation in the city council today by making the plea that under the Moon law it will not be possible to reduce the number of saloons in the city to eighty-five, as planned, but that ninety-six can legally operate, that being the number in force when the law went into effect. It was supposed they would only ask for eighty-six licenses. The attorney for the Anti-Saloon league admitted that this was right and that the number could not be reduced to eighty-six. The council did not complete the work of granting licenses.

Sweeney Made Receiver.

Charles Sweeney was today named by the district court as receiver for the Wyoming Cattle company, with a bond of $50,000. It has been agreed by the principal stockholders that the affairs of the company are to be wound up.

The district court at Boone today commenced the trial of a law suit in which 141 negro miners are using the officers of the Miners' union, each one for $10,000, because of the refusal of the union to permit the miners either to work in the mines at Ogden or to form a union of their own. They claim they were imported from the south with an understanding as to their work.

Will Help Out Treasurer.

The new rule established by State Auditor Blesky of not paying the quarterly bills of the state educational institutions until the close of each quarter instead of drawing the warrants in advance, as has been done in the past, will greatly help out the financial reports of the state treasurer. Some years ago there was a great outcry because the balance in the general fund was permitted to get down as low as $200,000, on one occasion, but that was due to the fact that the college payments were made in advance. Now the system will obviate the danger of the treasury balance running down to a low figure, as payments will not be made so long before collections are made.

Take Over Blind College.

The State Board of Education meets tomorrow at Cedar Falls for the purpose of arranging the details of taking over the management of the college for the blind at Vinton, which is to be relinquished next Friday by the Board of Control. The college has about 125 blind students, the number not being as large as in other years, and the annual cost is about $30,000 a year.

The Board of Education will have no change in the management at this time, as the college is well organized and is doing good work for the blind children of the state.

Effort to Burn Asylum.

The State Board of Control reports that the loss on the fire at the Knoxville institution for inebriates was very small, probably not to exceed $500. The fire was unquestionably due to the action of some inmate who sought to destroy the main building out of revenge.

Work for Liability Commission.

The state commission to investigate the advisability of a law fixing workmen's compensation and employers' liability, will meet again on July 10 to complete the organization which was partly effected some time ago. The state law library has been collecting information as to laws and bills and reports on the subject in other states and will also make an inquiry as to what has been done in Europe.

Oil Inspectors to Be Named.

It is expected that in a few days the governor will make a list of the deputy oil inspectors for the state to be appointed for two years, commencing July 1. Most of the present corps will be retained.

The California Fire Insurance company of San Francisco was today admitted to do business in Iowa.

Governor's Secretary Returns.

Charles C. Nye, secretary to the governor, returned today from Lake Okoboji, where he has been for three weeks on a honeymoon trip.

Attorney General Conson is expected back from Salt Lake City on Thursday and will again take up the work of the preparation of the express rates cases soon to be tried out before the federal court.

Cattle Company Troubles.

Additional troubles have come to the Wyoming Cattle company, the district court taking a hand on behalf of M. H. Hartung, who claims the company owes him $30,000, and he wants an accounting. Hartung was one of the large stockholders and he claims that a part of the big ranch in Wyoming belonged to him.

Peonage System in Vogue.

The state labor department has been making an extensive investigation into the status of the Greek laborers, who live in Des Moines and Commissioner Van Dyne reports that a system of peonage appears to exist here. He will cause the arrest of some of the leaders and believes this will bring out all the facts of the case, which brought over from Europe under contract and kept there as long as possible.

Weather and Crops in Iowa.

The weather during the last week was exceedingly hot; the average daily excess of temperature being about 10 degrees above the normal. The rainfall was nil until the last two days when light to copious showers occurred over the larger part of the state. In many localities the amount of rainfall was, however, too small to be of much benefit except to freshen up vegetation and purify the atmosphere. Corn is holding its own remarkably well and has not as yet suffered any material injury, though nearing the danger time in a few localities. Much of it has been laid by in good condition, and in a few counties some of the early planting is beginning to tassle. Reports vary as to the condition of small grain, but most of the correspondents agree that oats and spring wheat have been seriously injured. In some localities, in the central, western and southern counties the prospects of an oats crop have been reduced from 25 to 50 per cent. In all sections where the showers on Sunday were even moderately heavy, late planted wheat will be matured by the first of the winter wheat has been out and gives promise of a fair yield of good quality. Hay making progressed rapidly and the dry, hot weather was favorable for securing the crop in good condition, although the output is much below the average. Pastures, garden truck and early potatoes have received the most injury from the drought. Early potatoes are practically a failure and the late potatoes need rain at once before they are damaged to some extent, but it rains come within the next week there will be a fair crop.

Her screams soon brought her husband to the scene and a doctor was called.
