ALDRICH TALKS OF HIS TRIP

Finds Progressive Sentiment in Ohio, but Laws Lacking.

CALLS HARMON A SIDESTEPPER

Declares Democratic Governor Lets Bills on Which He Does Not Want to Take Stand Become Laws Without Signature.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, June 29.—(Special.)—Governor Aldrich returned home yesterday from nearly a three weeks' trip to Ohio. "I had a great time while I was away," said he this morning soon after stepping in his office. "I feel vigorous and well in spite of the fact that I was kept going, every day that I was away. A change of scenery and entirely new conditions being present on every road, it was a sort of a physical rest and a mental tonic even though a fellow has a rather strenuous time of it," declared the governor.

"Ohio is one of the very greatest, if not the greatest state in the union from a standpoint of development in every phase of American activity. The railroad service is immense. Trunk lines thread the state in all directions, and intertwined between these are the interurban lines, and the conditions of traveling are certainly 'par excellence' in that state.

"The state university has made an immense growth. The buildings and equipment are second to none in this entire country. These magnificent modern buildings are located in the center of three hundred and twenty acres of land. The campus is beautifully ornamented by natural forest trees. The campus is unsurpassed by that of any institution of learning in the United States. In fact, it is just such a campus as the university of Nebraska will have when we remove it out to the farm, as it ought to be.

"I delivered the commencement address at the university to a graduating class of 45. A larger number than there were students in the university twenty-three years ago.

"Politics in the east is the same as in the west—fairly mixed. There is as much progressive sentiment in Ohio as there is in Nebraska. The people of that state would rejoice in the same kind of laws that we are enjoying in Nebraska. But their energies are lying dormant; they are not yet awakened to a sense of responsibility that is next to the accomplishment in getting progressive legislation.

Harmon as Sidestepper. "I called and paid my respects to Governor Harmon. I found him to be a very genial and pleasant gentleman. He had a bad legislature on his hands and his management of it did not develop his presidential in any. The general opinion is that Governor Harmon has made a fatal mistake, as far as his presidential aspirations are concerned, in not exercising or endeavoring to exercise a more wholesome influence on the Ohio legislature. The facts generally, so it is charged, as it that he did not exercise enough influence, or any at all, in law making in one of the metropolitan papers where he has allowed forty-nine measures to become laws without his signature, and that some of these measures were the most important ever passed by an Ohio legislature. He did not care, so it is charged, to go on record as either approving or disapproving these measures, as they had some political significance.

"The sentiment in Ohio seems to be that Governor Harmon is a gum-shoe politician; that he evades and shirks responsibility whenever it is questionable as to what the result will be to his political aspirations. It seems to be conceded back there that he is the presidential candidate for the interests, and they don't believe that he has a show for the nomination.

Attitude of Ohioans. "Many of Taft's friends seem anxious as to the attitude of the west toward his administration. I find that the farmers in the western states and other places, also in Ohio, are absolutely opposed to the reciprocity treaty. I talked with many farmers—and they were republicans too—who said they believed in free trade between Canada and the United States, but that they are opposed to having farm products singled out for free trade while duty is left on lumber and many other things which the farm needs.

"I also found LaFollette being widely talked of and discussed as presidential possibility.

"My personal opinion is that President Taft, in his straight-forward attitude, is gaining some strength, but it is certainly very difficult to regain that which has been lost by blunders and mistakes. And one thing is noticeable, however, and that is that every one seems to have absolute confidence in the near future, and integrity, and patriotism of our president."

Gold Makes Attack Upon Anti-Gift Law in Federal Court

Merchant of Lincoln Alleges that Act is in Nature of Class Legislation.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, June 29.—(Special.)—Applying for an injunction against the enforcement of the Housch anti-free gift enterprise measure passed at the late session of the legislature, William Gold of this city today made the first attack on an enactment of the 1911 session, in the federal court here. The assault on the measure comes from Gold because of its inclusion of trading stamps in the list of enterprises prohibited for the gain of trade. The provision of the new law states that "any gift promise, stated or implied to give or bestow or in any other manner to hold out the promise of a gift or bestowal of any article or thing, for or in consideration of the purchase by any persons of any article or thing."

Gold recites in his that he entered contract with Sperry and Hutchinson of New Jersey for the installation of their advertising system in his store and that he paid them for the use of their scheme so much per thousand stamps. The complainant charges that the bill was enacted because of the support of other merchants who did not favor the use of the trade attraction scheme by their rivals. Further he says that it is class legislation and that many people through the fear of accepting the stamps since the passage of the Housch bill have ceased to take them and that thereby he has lost trade, all of which he contends is in violation of the Fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution.
