

GERMANY AWAITS ACTION OF FRANCE

Kaiser Hopes His Move Will Lead to General Discussion of Moroccan Situation.

WANTS ISSUE FINALLY SETTLED

Otherwise Germans Will Stay Until France and Spain Withdraw.

FRANCE WATCHING SITUATION

Indications that It Will Send Gunboat to Agadir.

BRITISH BOURSE IS AFFECTED

It Opens Lower Because of Moroccan Agitation, but Spain Soon Passes—Germany Sends Notice to Washington.

BERLIN, July 3.—The morning shows its hand in sending the gunboat Panther to Agadir, Morocco. Germany is awaiting the action of France, which it is expected, will be taken only after consultation with Great Britain and Russia.

It is hoped here that the step taken by the German foreign office will lead to a general discussion of the Moroccan situation by the four powers principally interested and the question definitely settled. Otherwise the Germans will remain in Morocco until the Franco-Spanish expedition has been withdrawn. A general European conference is not expected.

FRANCE MAY SEND GUNBOAT

PARIS, July 3.—Foreign Minister De Selves had his cabinet in Paris today, but accompanied President Fallieres to Haidland yesterday. It was announced that M. De Selves had changed his plans and would stay here as a consequence of the new situation brought about in Morocco by the determination of Germany to send a gunboat to Agadir.

Frederic Catusca has taken over the conduct of the foreign office pending M. De Selves' return and will direct France's attitude toward German intervention in Morocco.

As France was merely notified of the fact accomplished, namely that a German warship had been dispatched to Agadir, it is possible that this government will not send a reply to Berlin, but, like Germany, will decide upon a course of action and then adopt it.

It is not unlikely that after conferring with Great Britain, France may send a warship to Agadir, as the Algerian act authorizes the policing of the Moroccan coast by France in conjunction with Spain. Although the German action was sudden, France has been anticipating a move of some sort by Germany, because of Spain's extension of its military operations in the north of Morocco.

The Bourse opened weak today as a result of Germany's move in sending warships to southern Morocco. Prices were lower all around. A slight rally later in the day was followed by weakness as renewed offerings.

BRITISH BOURSE AFFECTED

LONDON, July 3.—The Moroccan scare following the dispatch of Germany which would send a gunboat to Agadir to the surprise and discomfort of France, depressed the stock exchange at the early trading. Consols fell 1/8 to 97 1/2. Paris favorites, like Canadian Pacific, Glaxo and DeBeers gold shares and Spanish and Portuguese bonds were weak on market. The market closed at 10:30. The Spanish market, however, and at noon a general recovery set in. Consols regained 1/8 to 97 3/4 from the lowest, although they were still well below parity.

WAGADOU, Morocco, Sunday, July 2.—The Agadir incident has caused the Sultan recently refused to sell the lands there to the Germans, as the Algerian agreement made the consent of the Sultan necessary to such sale.

NOTICE SENT TO WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Germany has advised the United States of the sending of the gunboat Panther to Agadir, Morocco. While this government is watching progress of events in the African empire, it is not vitally interested in the political phase of the situation.

The United States was signatory to the Algerian convention, but its interest centers in the development of American commerce and the protection of the lives and property of its citizens.

President Taft Makes Plea for Safe and Sane Fourth

Executive, in Address at Cleveland, Advocates Laws Forbidding Sale of All Dangerous Fireworks.

CLEVELAND, July 3.—Arriving here at 10:15 today on his way to Indianapolis, President Taft made an early rise and speaking to the observers gathered at the fourth of July, addressed several thousand people from the rear platform of his car.

"We cannot statistics in America, because we believe that they prove what a great people we are," said the president. "They are much more useful when they show us our defects."

"Statistics show the terrible loss to the children in life and limb, because of an insane and foolish observance of the national holiday. When we think of the way in which the Fourth of July has been celebrated in the past and the terrible consequences, it ought to make us think that we have not taken means to stop it."

"It is our duty to red the mothers of the country of anxiety by the passing of ordinances forbidding the cannon cracker, the toy pistol and other missiles to children." In his address to Washington today in the list of military naval officers selected by the "picking board" for compulsory resignation, stamped with the president's approval.

Rodney J. Diegle is Found Guilty of Aiding in Bribery

Sergeant-at-Arms of Ohio Legislature Convicted by Jury After Over Two Days' Deliberation.

COLUMBUS, O., July 3.—The jury in the case of Rodney J. Diegle, sergeant-at-arms of the state senate, who has been on trial charged with aiding and abetting in the alleged bribery of State Senator L. R. Andrews, today at 11 o'clock returned its verdict finding him guilty. The jury had been out since 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, establishing a record in this county.

The specific charge against Diegle was that he aided in the solicitation of a bribe of $200 offered State Senator Andrews in connection with the "Celone-Wittmore mutual fire insurance bill."

Diegle's trial was the second of the persons indicted by the recent grand jury as a result of an investigation into the general assembly.

Representative George E. Nye of Pike county the first to be tried, was acquitted of a charge of bribery, but other indictments are pending.

The Diegle trial began June 27. The state relied on a mechanical device, the "dictagraph," a highly sensitive telephone, for its strongest evidence. The dictagraph transmitter was secured in a detective's room in a hotel and a court stenographer in another room reported the conversations in which it was alleged bribes were offered and accepted.

There are three state senators and representatives and two lobbyists under indictment. It is probable that their trials will go over into the fall term of court.

LOUIS CITY, Neb., July 3.—(Special Telegram.)—The section motor car on the Union Pacific branch crashed into the rear end of a freight train about a mile and one-half east of this town today, seriously injuring five section hands. The freight had just left the depot on its return trip to St. Paul and the motor with seven section hands was following closely behind to put out a fire just a mile or two out of town. The freight slackened its speed and signaled the motor car, but when Foreman Enevoldson attempted to stop, the brake would not work.

All the section hands jumped before the collision except one. He was not severely about the head, face and hands. Three others who jumped were also badly hurt. The freight gathered up the injured men and backed into the spot.

ENGLISH CHANNEL IS CROSSED

Conditions Are Ideal for Efforts of Europe's Experts.

UNUSUAL SPECTACLE IN DOVER

Eleven Aeroplanes Cross Channel in Rapid Succession and All Land Within Few Minutes—Gilbert Wins Dover Trophy.

LONDON, July 3.—The first half of the international circuit aviation races was ended at Hendon park aerodrome in Hendon just outside London today. Andrew Beaumont, a Frenchman, made the speediest trip from Paris to Hendon and was awarded the London Standard prize of $12,500. M. Gilbert, another Frenchman, won the Lever trophy for the fastest passage across the English channel. Valentine, Valente and Garros reached Hendon closely bunched.

Extraordinary flight in Dover. Dover, England, July 3.—Only by making the circumlocution flight under some extraordinary circumstances will any aviator ever be able to obtain a gain any particular glory from the fact. After today the flight must be considered an ordinary affair for the morning saw no less than seven aviators, contending in the European circuit race, winding their way across the channel and alighting at Dover as easily as a flock of birds might have done. Moreover, one of the eleven, Renaux, carried a passenger in his machine.

The morning was perfect, hardly a breath of wind ruffling the surface of the channel, as the jock of Europe's experts headed from Calais for this stage. The air was as still when they landed on the downs here. A great crowd had surrounded the landing place in anticipation of the arrival of the aviators. They had but a short wait before Vedrine, consistently the leader in the previous stages of the race, drove his monoplane into view, out of a bank of fleecy clouds that hung low over the channel. His machine a circuit of the aerodrome and landed gracefully. The flight from Calais had been accomplished in about half an hour.

The other contestants followed in quick succession, seven monoplanes were almost bunched, then came two biplanes and then another monoplane brought up the rear. One by one the machines appeared over the trees, swooped down to the aerodrome, circled it and landed without a semblance of a mishap.

There was none of the excitement that had characterized the finish of the previous cross-channel flights, nor were the aviators exhausted. Instead, they crawled from their machines and calmly walked away with friends.

START MADE FROM LONDON

Soon after the last of the eleven aviators had landed the wind began to freshen and it was decided to start immediately on the next stage of the contest—to Shoreham and thence to London. The start was excellently made and with the same precision that had characterized the arrival at Dover. The machines left at two-minute intervals, only one exceeding that time and that only by a few seconds.

A number of army officers were deeply interested spectators of today's flight across the channel. Comments were freely made as to the possibility, granting the continued development of the aeroplane, of landing on the coast of France on British territory by sea.

Vedrine arrived at Shoreham at 1:15, followed by all the others excepting Train and Gilbert. The former descended at New Haven and the latter at Eastbourne.

"All Ready—Let Her Go."

FIFTH CARTER LAKE VICTIM

William W. Baxter Drowns in One of Deep Dredged Holes.

TWO BOYS SEE LAD GO UNDER

Were at Hand Was Expert Swimmer and Fifteen-Year-Old Lad Drowns Before Help Could Reach Him.

The fifth victim of the season was claimed by Carter Lake yesterday afternoon when 11-year-old William Walter Baxter was drowned in one of the treacherous holes made near the western bank by the dredges operated by the Park board.

The Baxter boy, who was the idol of his father and mother, left his home yesterday afternoon to take a dip in the lake in company with several other boys from the vicinity of his home at 608 North Twenty-first street. He had just taken leave of his 17-year-old brother, whose companion he has always been whenever his father and mother were away from home.

Water, as he has been familiarly called by his playmates, could not swim and when he went into the water near Baxter's boat house, Robert Haddock of 206 James avenue and Ralph Huffer of 430 North Twenty-first street, boys of about his own age, were first out in the water.

Because he could not swim the Baxter boy clung to a raft and paddled around close to shore until, as of a sudden, he fell ventrally under his raft in twenty feet of water where the dredge had dug a deep hole. Several boys on the bank saw the lad go under, but none was an expert swimmer. Finally Haddock and Huffer returned back from the middle of the lake and tried to rescue their little comrade.

The alarm was given by James on above and Orta Verne of 418 North Twenty-third street, and Henry Sandau of 423 Jackson street, plunged into the water and after diving several minutes came up with young Baxter's body. All manner of artificial respiration was resorted to until the arrival of Police Surgeon Pappas, who worked for over half an hour trying to revive the drowned boy. Then the coroner was notified.

Frank H. Baxter, father of the drowned boy is one of the best known page hanging and painting contractors in Omaha. The lad was his special pride and the grief of the family upon learning of his drowning was pathetic. His little brother was inconsolable.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The Eastern Millinery association brought suit here today in the United States circuit court to test the constitutionality of the amended forest, fish and game law of this state. The section of the law objected to forbids the sale after July 1 of any plumage specified in the act, whether imported or not.

Indictments of Three Union Men in Los Angeles Quashed

Judge Holds Bills Against Connors, Bender and Maple Irregular and Orders Case Resubmitted.

LOS ANGELES, July 3.—Judge Willis of the criminal department of the superior court today quashed the indictments against Bert Connors, Ira Bender and A. R. Maple, the union men accused of having conspired to destroy the county hall of records with dynamite. The men were not freed, however. The court ordered their cases committed to the grand jury.

The granting of the motion to quash was based on the judge's belief that provisions of the penal code providing that a person need not testify against himself before a grand jury and also for the retirement of prejudiced grand jurors had not been complied with. It was shown that the section in question had not been read to the accused, while that referring to the jurors had not been read to the grand jurors until after they had deliberated six days and just before they returned the indictments.

After referring the indictments quashed Judge Willis continued: "Adequate cause appearing in the evidence taken before the grand jury, it is ordered that the case be resubmitted by the district attorney to the same grand jury for further consideration, or that a grand jury be examined by a magistrate, the defendants are remanded for that purpose."

Groom and Guests Wait at the Church

Lady Constance Foltjame of London Decided She Did Not Want to Marry and Went Shopping.

LONDON, July 3.—Lady Constance Foltjame, a half sister of the earl of Liverpool, controller of the King's household, astonished society by failing to appear at a fashionable church in London this afternoon at the time appointed for her marriage to the Rev. A. H. K. Hawkins.

The officio was filled with society people who waited an hour wondering what had occurred to delay the ceremony. When the bridegroom sent a messenger in great haste to Lady Constance's residence, to inquire for her, the reply returned was that Lady Constance "went out shopping this morning and has not yet returned home."

The earl of Liverpool stated today that he had received from Lady Constance a message that she was quite safe and sound. Lady Constance, who left London on a train this morning, had simply changed her mind and decided that she did not wish to get married.

Five Are Killed When Train Strikes Wagon at Crossing. NEW YORK, July 3.—Five persons were killed and two injured in a crossing accident near Ozone park, in the suburbs, late today. The victims were in a horse-drawn vehicle, which was struck by a Long Island train.

The crossing where the accident occurred is at the bottom of a derrick and flanked by obstructions which prevent a clear view in either direction. In the wagon was a party of five residents of the east side, who were out picnicking, and a driver. One of the four women and two men in the vehicle, only one—a woman—is alive to-night and she is so badly injured she will probably die. The other injured person is Richard Creed, conductor of the electric train which struck the vehicle.

The water resorts and parks promise to be crowded all day long and there are enough special athletic events of every known sort to interest those who do not follow the advice of one man who remarked Monday morning that he was going to get cool for the one day in the month that he did not have to work.

One young hopeful asked his father Monday morning if he knew the new way of preventing kids from getting killed on the fourth. Father had not heard and the son replied, "Kill 'em on the third."

In several communities the "safe and sane" idea will be carried out. At Prairie park there will be an athletic meet, and on Harney street between Thirty-third and Thirty-fifth the neighborhood children will be entertained every moment of the day from 5 until after dark. F. J. Norton is general chairman of this celebration and Mrs. George E. Mickel will direct the program. The morning will begin with a parade in the flag, in which all the children will participate. These Showers May Be Followed by Cooler Weather to Delight the Heart of the Many Who Are Sweating.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—With skies clouding the country over today early reports to the weather bureau indicated that a few showers might be broken in many sections. The day started with temperatures ranging from 10 to 18 degrees higher than yesterday morning in the larger cities. New York began the day with a rise of from 75 to 82 degrees. In Chicago it was 84 as compared with 83 yesterday morning; in Washington the rise was from 75 to 84 and at Atlanta from 75 to 79.

A barometric depression that now covers the Rocky mountain region, according to the bureau, will drift slowly eastward, preceded and attended by local showers and thunderstorms, and will cross the Mississippi valley Tuesday or Wednesday and the Atlantic states Thursday or Friday. It will be followed by cooler weather over the plains states, the Mississippi valley and the region east thereof.

Although the atmosphere was far too hot Monday morning and in the early afternoon for Nebraska citizens to be comfortable, it was true that the temperature was a few degrees lower on an average than on Sunday morning. Instead of registering in the nineties and eighties, the thermometer only showed in the seventies and lower eighties at 8 o'clock Monday morning compared with the same time Sunday.

Conditions at Omaha. Omaha found itself with the mercury at 92 degrees by 1 o'clock Monday. The hot wind which had made life so little worth living for the last few days had changed to a cooler breeze and there were fewer complaints of heat. Instead of being one of the hottest places in the Missouri valley Omaha was several degrees cooler than many Nebraska and Iowa towns.

At 4 o'clock the temperature reached 89 degrees where the mercury remained until 6 o'clock when it began to drop starting a degree at a time. Indication of rain to come eastward over Nebraska to Omaha were felt in the western part of the state and in Wyoming and Colorado Sunday and early Monday morning. Light showers were already falling in the central part of the state and west of Sidney there was a good rain.

Railroad rain reports show rain from Grand Island to North Platte in small quantities, showers from Kearney to Alliance, Grand Island to St. Paul, light showers, and Cedar Rapids to Norfolk light rain. A medium light rain fell from North Platte to Sidney and west of Sidney there was a heavy downpour.

Rain in Nebraska. The following towns in the state reported rain Sunday and early Monday: Minden, sprinkles. Holdrege, sprinkles. Oxford, light rain. Orono, light sprinkles. Harlan, light rain. Arapahoe, light rain. Eureka, light showers. Broken Bow, light rain. A. D. Lucas, a mill owner of Burlington Junction, Ia., was overcome by the heat at eleven and Dodge streets shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. He was taken to police headquarters, where temporary aid was administered and later sent to St. Joseph's hospital. He is not in a serious condition.

CROP CONDITIONS IN NEBRASKA. Wheat is turning out well in Southeast Nebraska. AUBURN, Neb., July 3.—(Special.)—Wheat is turning out good, ranging from twenty-five to forty bushels per acre. James Lockwood near Julian thrashed thirty-four acres that went thirty-four bushels per acre and weighed sixty-four pounds to the bushel. On the Codding farm, one piece went a little over forty bushels by weight. Reports from all parts of the county show that the wheat is turning out better than expected and the small-crop yield reported is twenty-six bushels per acre. Many farmers say that this is the first year when they both harvested and threshed in June.

Corn is holding its own exceptionally well with the hot dry weather. However it is being damaged some the last few days.

"Mysterious Society Woman" in Jenkins Case Discovered

NEW YORK, July 3.—(Special Telegram.)—The mysterious woman in the case of Mrs. Helen Dweil Jenkins has been discovered in the person of Mrs. William A. Russell, wife of a wealthy manufacturer of plumbing supplies in Yonkers. Mrs. Russell admits that she is the "mysterious society woman," as frequently referred to in the accounts Mrs. Helen Dweil Jenkins has furnished of an alleged theft of $200,000 worth of jewels from the Hotel Lorraine, New York, December, 1908.

Mrs. Russell charged that Mrs. Jenkins had started a series of attacks on her through the newspapers, although only referring to her anonymously as "wealthy Yonkers society woman" in order to "timber" a multi-millionaire from Pennsylvania.
