DEPENDS ON WHAT THE STATES DO
Thousands of Teachers Arrive at the Metropolis of the Far West Ready for the Contest About to Be Waged.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—A lively fight on various issues between the so-called "insurgent" and "old guard" wings of the National Educational association, which opens its convention here tonight, is indicated by statements of its president, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young of Chicago.

Retracting her positive declaration that she will not be a candidate for re-election, Mrs. Young said that she would not accept the office even if offered to her.

Though suffering from a slight affection of the throat and ear that bothered her considerably on the journey to the coast, Mrs. Young asserts that her indisposition will not interfere with her work as president of the convention.

The training of teachers and ethical education are two of the questions in which Mrs. Young says she is most interested just now and which she purposes passing at this assembly.

Thousands of delegates arrived over night and today and it is expected that the majority of educators who will take part in the convention will have reached San Francisco by tonight.

ALABAMA ROW IS SETTLED

Leaders of Both Republican Factions Resign and State Convention Will Elect Successors.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—After a conference today in which President Taft, Postmaster General Hitchcock, Secretary Pillsbury and members of the two warring factions of Alabama republicans participated, it became known that Republican State Chairman J. O. Thompson, leader of one faction, and Republican National Committee member T. D. Barker, both will resign.

Their successors are to be elected at the republican state convention on August 2, and it is understood that whichever faction wins at that convention will be recognized in the dispensing of patronage from Washington.

JOHN W. GATES IS BETTER

PARIS, July 7.—Intimate friends who see John W. Gates daily say that the condition of the American financier is much improved.

An abscess in the throat was lanced recently and this left Mr. Gates weak. He suffers some from the kidneys due to poisoning from the abscess about the weather.

Mr. Gates' physician, however, thinks that he can return to America at the end of the present month.

Judge Oldham Sends in His Filing For Supreme Judge

Kearney Jurist Who Has Turned Against W. J. Bryan Adds Name to List of Candidates.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, July 7.—(Special.)—Judge W. D. Oldham of Kearney, the man whose speech at Kansas City in 1908 naming William J. Bryan as the democratic nominee for the presidency of the United States, stirred thousands and whose "horse of Troy" speech at Grand Island last year at the state democratic convention flayed the great commoner as never he had flayed before in the history of his party in this state, filed today for the democratic nomination for judge of the state supreme court.

The Kearney man's filing is the second of a trio which it was announced some time ago would make the race for the supreme bench on the democratic ticket. The assertion that James P. English of Douglas county would enter as the third candidate of the arranged democratic slate is disputed by several party workers who have visited this city in the past few days.

Prosecutor Accuses Judge Dickson with Mutilating Record

Sensational Incident Occurs in Connection with Cox Perjury Case in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, July 7.—Charge that Judge William Dickson had "mutilated" the record of the George B. Cox perjury case Assistant Prosecutor Coleman Avery precipitated a personal encounter in chambers today that ended in his being ordered to leave the courtroom which the state has to have offered to settle the dispute by personal combat.

The trouble arose when Avery and another assistant prosecutor went to Judge Dickson who recently quashed the indictments against Cox and complained that the bill of exceptions which the state sought to get the case into the supreme court of the state had been altered by the jurist.

"You made up this bill of exceptions to suit yourself," Avery told the judge. The judge followed.

Cabinet Meeting Held in President's Private Office

WASHINGTON, July 7.—When the cabinet came straggling into the executive office today they found the temperature of the cabinet room, in spite of all that anxious doorkeepers and electric fans could do to keep it down, well up in the nineties.

They sat in uncomfortable leather chairs perspiring freely and making more or less voluble remarks about the weather. When the president entered he found so much "heat" that he immediately issued an executive mandate that the session be held in his private office. This office is cooled by breezes from a ton of ice stored beneath the refrigerator apparatus which the president's thermostat down around the eighty mark and makes it easier for the president than for congress to contemplate the probably date of adjournment.

Samuel L. Wellman of Omaha Drops Dead at Danbury, Conn.

DANBURY, Conn., July 7.—Samuel L. Wellman of Omaha, journeying in company with his daughter from Pittsfield, Mass., to New York, died of a heart attack in the local station of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad just after writing a telegram to Jay C. Deal, 100 Warren street, asking him to meet the train at New York City, as he did not feel well.

Mr. Wellman's condition was reported as "informed" of his death until the train had reached Branchville. She continued her journey to New York.

ARGUMENT ON CONTENTION OF McNAMARA DEFENSE

State Insists that Manner of Extradition Cannot Affect Charge of Murder.

LOS ANGELES, July 7.—Argument on the defense's contention of yesterday that if John J. McNamara was extradited from Indiana on a charge of dynamiting it was illegal to try him for murder was continued today. The court room was crowded.

The prosecution asserted that so far as a trial for murder was concerned it made no difference how the man was brought here, nor upon what accusation he was extradited.

NINE BACK TO STARTING POINT
Race Between Fifty Acroplanists Who Took Wing June 18 Is Concluded, All Former Records Having Been Broken.

PARIS, July 7.—Lieutenant Conneau, whose racing name is André Beaumont, won the 1,000-mile international aviation race, which ended today at the aviation field at Vincennes.

As he had already won the Paris-Rome contest, Conneau brings added glory to the French navy, of which he is an officer. Garros was second and Vidart finished third.

Of the fifty acroplanists who took wing at Vincennes on June 18 nine reached the final goal. Two of the racers—Lemartin, Landron and Captain Pricetoux, who had been detailed to work out certain problems in reconnaissance in connection with the race, were killed on the opening day. Several others received more or less serious injuries from falls.

The course took the airmen through four countries, from Paris, across Belgium and Holland, over the English channel to London and return. Prizes aggregating about $100,000 were given.

The nine survivors started at Calais at 6 o'clock this morning on the final leg to Paris, making a stop at Amiens. Kimmerling had a bad fall into a wheat field near Boulogne-sur-Mer. His machine capsized and was demolished. The aviator, for a wonder, escaped injury and gamely motored back to Calais, where he procured a new aeroplane and made a fresh start.

Vast Crowd at Finish.
A vast crowd was at Vincennes for the finish, but ordons of troops kept the strictest order to prevent the possibility of catastrophes like those at Issy-Les-Moulineaux at the start of the Paris-Rome contest when General Bortaux, the minister of war was killed and Premier Monis and others were injured by an aeroplane that crashed into the crowd.

Today M. Leprieu, the prefect of police, forbade the aviators flying over Paris and ordered them to make a detour of the city. The racers were given splendid welcomes as they came to earth. The Vincennes woods rang with cheers as Beaumont stepped out of his machine. Fellow officers, rushing up, first embraced and then carried him off the field in triumph.

The race really was between Beaumont and Roland Garros, the leaders by many hours in the combined stages up to Calais. Garros arrived here ten minutes ahead of Beaumont, but the latter won on elapsed time for the entire race.

Vidart was the first to arrive, setting down on the field at 11 o'clock. The others followed in this order: Gilbert, 4:45; Garros, 10:35; Beaumont, 10:35; Renaux, with his passenger, whom he carried throughout the race, 10:35; Kimmerling, 10:35.

Vegetables Smashed Machine.
On arriving Kimmerling announced that Vidart had smashed his machine at Amiens, but was starting again with a new one.

The official times of the fliers from Calais to Paris were: Vidart, 2:35; Gilbert, 3:35; Garros, 3:12; Beaumont, 3:38; Renaux, 4:18; Kimmerling, 4:21:24.

The best times recorded for the entire course were: Beaumont, 50:36:45; Garros, 62:18:34; Vidart, 78:30:00.

Flight Over Harz Mountains.
BERLIN, July 7.—Four aviators, Bruno Buechner, Volmueller, Laitch and Noelle, completed the most difficult stage of the German circuit flight today by crossing the Harz mountains from Nordhausen to Halberstadt, a distance of about fifty miles.

The first three aviators were dressed alike today in striking gowns of white serge trimmed with satin. Stokes wore black and carried a boat-shaped straw hat of the coolie fashion.

Part of the Letters Are Stokes.
When Mr. Stokes resumed his testimony, he said he was not sure how many letters exhibited yesterday were his. He thought about eight.

He told of a visit made to his office on May 12, last, by Miss Conrad, which was the first time the letters were brought into his notice. She came into his office highly excited and was unable to speak for some time.

"When she became calmed," Stokes continued, "she told me she had been out to dinner the night before. She met Miss Graham, she said, at the dinner and the young lady was in distressed circumstances with little money and no clothes, and she had taken her home to her room."

"When I went out this morning to business," Miss Conrad said, "I left Miss Graham in bed. I forgot my pen and returned for it. When I got into the room I was shocked to find a note on the table, together with a bundle of letters, the note saying that Miss Graham had committed suicide and she had addressed the letter to the press."

"Miss Conrad also told me," continued Stokes, "that some of the letters were mine and some belonged to other men. She said she rushed into the bedroom and found Miss Graham in bed, her face all blistered and burned, where she had applied carbolic acid. A doctor was called and pumped her out," Miss Conrad said, "and saved her life."

Paid Money to Miss Conrad.
"I told Miss Conrad that Miss Graham was a dangerous woman," said Stokes, "and that I wouldn't give Miss Graham one cent, but I said I would give Miss Conrad money for the nurse to look after Miss Graham. Miss Conrad wanted me to sign a note for $300 to allow Miss Graham to go abroad. I said I would not. I would give no agreement, because I thought Miss Graham was a dangerous woman."

Stokes said she offered to draw a check for $200 to enable Miss Graham to get to Belgium to join her sister, whereupon he continued:

"Miss Conrad said, 'Oh, no, don't draw a check, there might be some scandal about it. Give me the cash.' I said: 'All right, and gave her the money.'"

The defendant's attorney questioned Mr. Stokes sharply regarding Miss Graham's visit to his farm in Lexington, Ky. The defense has contended that the girl expected to find other guests with Stokes.

Millionaire Says Miss Conrad Visited His Office May 21.

GAVE MONEY FOR MISS GRAHAM
Says She Told Him Other Girl Had Attempted Suicide and Wanted to Go to Her Sister in Belgium.

NEW YORK, July 7.—E. D. Stokes' testimony was still unfinished when court convened today for further examination.

When a charge of an attempt to murder Stokes was made a month ago against Miss Lillian Graham and Miss Ethel Conrad, the purpose of these proceedings is to determine whether the evidence is sufficient to warrant sending the case to the grand jury, but the examination and cross-examination is conducted with such thoroughness that it amounts practically to a trial.

On the stand yesterday Stokes gave his version of the alleged attempt on his life when he visited the young woman's apartment at Miss Conrad's invitation to review letters he had written to Miss Graham.

These letters were found by detectives in the girls' rooms a few days after the shooting, and since then have been in the possession of the district attorney. In them Stokes, who said on the stand yesterday that he was 37 years old, for the most part adopted toward the young girl an attitude of fatherly counsel, advising her against the stage, against intoxicating liquors and about life in general.

The two defendants and Miss Graham's sister, John Singleton, wife of a "Vidart," 2:35; Gilbert, 3:35; Garros, 3:12; Beaumont, 3:38; Renaux, 4:18; Kimmerling, 4:21:24.

He told of a visit made to his office on May 12, last, by Miss Conrad, which was the first time the letters were brought into his notice. She came into his office highly excited and was unable to speak for some time.

Swanson Speaks For Federal Aid for Public Highways

Virginia Senator Advocates Appropriation of Hundred Millions to Be Distributed Among States.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The annual appropriation of $50,000,000 for five years to improve the post roads and rural delivery routes of the government was urged in the senate today by Mr. Swanson of Virginia.

Contending that despite the amazing achievements in many directions secured by the country it is notorious that the United States has the poorest public roads and highways of any civilized nation, he said he regarded the subject as the paramount one before the American people.

Mr. Swanson explained that his plan would open up more than 1,000,000 miles of roads to government aid, that the states and local authorities would furnish an amount equal to that appropriated by the federal government and that the total would be divided among the states, according to population.

He said the limitation to post roads and rural routes eliminated any constitutional objections. The bill would create a road department, consisting of engineers and capable of giving more happy country roads.

The measure, he explained, was modeled somewhat after the Virginia law.

"The federal government," said Senator Swanson, "should delay no longer extending to the state and local authorities generous aid for road improvement. When the federal government commences to bear its fair share of the burden of the improving of public roads, that day will mark the beginning of the end of bad roads in this nation."

It will open a new chapter in our history, each leaf of which when turned will glow with more happy country homes, better schools and churches and larger and more prosperous social communities. The American nation would be powerless to picture through the vista of the coming years the increased health and happiness, the increased wealth and power and the increased material advance which would come to the republic on the inauguration of this great national policy."

Decision Sustained By Supreme Court

Frank Schneck and Mollie Stewart Must Serve Life Sentence for Murder of Mrs. Schneck.

TOP KA, Kan., July 7.—Frank Schneck and Mrs. Mollie Stewart, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Jane Schneck, will have to serve the life sentence imposed upon them by the district court of Franklin county, where they were tried. This decision was handed down by the supreme court today.

The case was one of the most sensational ever tried in Kansas. The bodies of Mrs. Schneck and her two small children were found stabbed to death in their home in Centropolis, Kan., February 4, 1907. The husband and father and Mrs. Stewart were convicted of first degree murder July 12, 1908. Their appeal to the supreme court was based on the fact that the trial court had refused them a change of venue.

The spokesman for the Elks is Rush L. Holland of Colorado Springs, past grand exalted ruler.

At 4 o'clock they returned to the club rooms, where refreshments and further felicitations were awaiting them. At 5 o'clock automobiles were on hand to take them to the train upon which they left at 8:30.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Roth of South Omaha accompanied the party. The other delegates from Omaha will go by different routes. W. T. Canada and J. A. Whalen go on one road tomorrow, and Sidney W. Smith and I. W. Mier go another. Leonard A. Davis and Mrs. Davis left Tuesday by automobile, expecting to tour the entire distance and reach their next Wednesday.

Taft Will Address Christian Endeavorers

International Meet in Atlantic City Opened with Sunrise Service on Million Dollar Pier.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 7.—Sunrise services on the million-dollar pier ushered in the second day's activities of the twenty-fifth International Christian Endeavor convention. The services this morning began at 6:30 o'clock.

Christian Endeavor meetings in eleven churches, at which prominent members from different parts of the country discussed the work of increasing the influence of the society, were the features of the convention today.

President Taft's arrival and what he will say on "training citizens" will be the feature of the night session.

Campaigns for securing the next international convention in 1912 are already under way. California seems to be leading.

That church members are growing more and more practical in their attitude toward those not of their particular faith was declared to be the case by Rev. Thomas H. Evans of Nebraska before the Christian Citizenship conference, one of the sectional meetings of the convention. Dr. Evans said all creeds and races should join in the good citizenship movement. Dr. Evans is the founder of the good citizenship day idea, which is for all persons to observe the Sunday before the fourth of July as good citizenship day.

Fire Commissioners Sentenced to Jail

Kansas City Officers Who Refused to Obey Order of Court in Salary Matter Held for Contempt.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 7.—E. I. Farnsworth and John P. Thiloff, members of the fire and water board of the city, were today ordered sentenced to jail for contempt of court by Judge A. O. Lucas in the circuit court. The sentence is a result of an extended controversy over the payment of salaries to certain employees of the water department. Under a new civil service ruling men who had passed the civil service examinations were put in the places of nine old employees. The old employees refused to pay their salaries even when the court ordered it. Both men gave bond and filed a motion for a new hearing which will be considered Monday.

SEEKS TO RECONSIDER THE VOTE
Convention is of a Different Mind and Votes on Adjournment.

JUDGE ENGLAND IN ORATORY
Frank Harrison, Harry Bushnell and Other Progressive Leaders Present in Vain in County Convention.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., July 7.—(Special.)—Telegrams from the Norris forces lost the first round in the senatorial fight today when the Lancaster county convention selected Frank H. Edgerton, deputy attorney general and late a clerk to Senator Norris Brown, as member of the state committee from this district. The Edgerton name was reported by a committee, and met with much opposition from the progressives. Postmaster Sizer ended the rumpus by moving to table a motion to reconsider the vote by which Edgerton was named, and the convention adjourned with the Norris name still wondering what had hit them.

Frank Harrison protested against the naming of Edgerton, but was turned down when the vote was taken. Later when the convention was waiting for the committee on delegates to report, Judge W. H. England was called upon for a speech. He immediately flung into the faces of those who named Edgerton that they were doing wrong in placing a man on the state committee who had been so closely allied with a United States senator in the past and who virtually owed his present position to his relationship with that man.

H. H. Wilson, a law partner of E. J. Burkett, late United States senator, took up the gauntlet and asserted that the convention should hesitate in taking any action against a rising young man such as Edgerton.

H. M. Bushnell, an active member of the Progressive Republican league of the state, described the methods of selecting a member of the state central committee under such circumstances and with an important senatorial race coming on. He moved a reconsideration of the vote which had named the recommendation of Edgerton, declaring that the matter should be left entirely with the delegates sent to the state convention.

Postmaster Sizer concluded his short talk with a motion to table the motion to reconsider. This was carried by a two to one vote. The naming of the fifty-six delegates to the state convention followed and the convention then adjourned with little delay.

In the neighborhood of 800 delegates were in attendance. Other than the Norris Brown-George Norris tilt, which occurred when the convention was idle, the affair passed as smoothly as could be wished for. Nels P. Hansen, a prominent local republican, was named as chairman of the county central committee and fifty-six delegates were selected by a committee, with no dissension.
