

NEW SANITARIUM FOR OMAHA

Group of Doctors Buy the Old Holdrege Homestead.

NERVOUS DISEASE HOSPITAL

Large Sum of Money to Be Used in Making the Place Modern in Every Way—Faces Hanscom Park.

Omaha is to have a first-class sanitarium on the site of the old Holdrege home on Thirty-second avenue, the place having been sold for $50,000 by T. M. Matters to Dr. F. S. Dunham through H. A. Tukey.

The incorporation papers of the Hanscom Park sanitarium, as it is to be called, were drawn up and signed by the following well-known medical men of the city: Dr. C. C. Allison, Dr. H. Gifford, Dr. F. E. Coulter, Dr. J. E. Aikin, Dr. A. E. Dunn, Dr. W. O. Bridgman, Dr. J. W. Koutsky of South Omaha, Dr. F. S. Dunham.

The new sanitarium and hospital will be for mental, physical and nervous diseases. Activities for converting the Holdrege home into a thirty-room fireproof building will begin in about thirty days.

"Omaha for many years has been a prominent medical center. However, it has been the opinion of many of the medical profession, as well as prominent men of the city, that it lacks one institution which they are in need of, namely a first-class sanitarium," says Dr. Dunham, who is well known throughout the western part of the state and has lately located in Omaha. The property has a frontage of 400 feet facing Hanscom park on Thirty-third street, a like frontage on Thirty-third, and a depth of 300 feet. It is planned to make the old Holdrege house and the cottages on the south end of the block merely the temporary start for a future entirely new building which will have about 150 rooms. It is estimated that in the neighborhood of $50,000 will be employed in bringing the new sanitarium to its completion, when, according to predictions, it will be one of the finest places of the kind in the west.

George W. Holdrege, general manager of the Burlington, built the home in 1882 and lived there with his family until two years ago, when he sold it to T. M. Matters and took apartments at the New Hamilton. John L. Kennedy and family took the house and now occupy it pending the completion of their new home in Fairview.

The cottage, which stands south of the Holdrege house, was first used as a kindergarten for the children of the neighborhood. John L. Spencer later took the cottage and his family lived there thirteen years. It is now occupied by Berger Kenwald. This cottage will be used as a nurses' residence for the new sanitarium.

Pa Rourke Gives a Box Party that Does Not Turn Out Well

Clever Young Man from the Signal Corp Succeeds in Cashing Bogus Checks.

"Pa" Rourke was host in a grand way at the ball game Thursday when he gave a box seat to cashing man claiming to be "Charles Moore, a base ball magnate from Port Worth, Tex." There were a number of chance acquaintances with Moore, who also enjoyed the hospitality of the father of the Omaha team.

Today the police and the army department are searching for "Mr. Moore" on the charge of passing forged checks on unsuspecting business men throughout the city, and some of his new-found friends are wishing they had never seen him.

The name of Lieutenant Butler of the postmaster's department at Fort Omaha was signed to a check for $25 which Moore passed on a storekeeper in the Public Market. Earlier in the day Moore met Charles White, an employee of the Nebraska Fire Apparatus company, and after a social chat Moore induced White to vouch for the genuineness of a check for $25 drawn on the First National bank on a regular War department blank. White was suspicious at first, but as Moore wore a Knights of Pythias badge became convinced the check was good after Moore swore on the triangle that it was genuine. Later the trip was made to the ball park, where "Pa" Rourke fell for the conversation which brought forth the box seats.

Last night Mr. White became suspicious again, but before he could notify the police a warning had been received from Fort Omaha, stating that a member of Company H, signal corps, had either deserted or was absent without leave and probably would be found cashing forged checks around Omaha. The description tallied with that of Moore, who had not been located late this afternoon.

War is Declared on Installment Houses

Inspector Declares that They Are Evading the Peddlers' License Ordinance.

Richard Schneider, license inspector, has started a war on installment houses who sell wearing apparel and other materials through peddlers. Schneider says that many concerns in the city are evading the payment of a peddlers' license, though they are profiting by the practice, for which individual peddlers pay $2 a year. He has sent out notices to the different concerns, but so far they have paid no attention to them. Schneider has asked the co-operation of the police and declares that every peddler operating without a license will be arrested and prosecuted. Officers will be forced to take out a license for every wagon they operate.

FEDERAL JUDGE CELEBRATES HIS FIFTIETH BIRTHDAY

F. C. Manager Spends His Natal Day Anniversary in the City of Omaha.

Thomas C. Manager, United States district judge of the district of Nebraska, celebrated his fiftieth birthday anniversary with his family at Lincoln Friday.

Mr. Manager was born at Mendota, O., July 8, 1861. He attended law at the University of Chicago and was admitted to the bar in 1886. On June 5, 1886, he was appointed to the office of chief clerk of the court.

He was elected to the legislature of Nebraska for the term of 1886-87. For the next two years he served as county attorney of Lancaster county. On March 1, 1891, he was appointed as United States district judge, which office he has held since. Mr. Manager makes Lincoln his home, but divides his time between that place and Omaha.

GIVES HIS LIFE FOR FRIENDS

William M. Doty of South Omaha
Drowns in Indiana Tuesday.

FUNERAL FRIDAY AFTERNOON

He Goes Beneath the Water in Saving the Lives of Two Struggling
Women, Who Also Step Into Deep Hole.

Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends—John 15: 13.

This was the favorite passage of scripture of William M. Doty of South Omaha, who gave up his own life to save that of others.

With the arrival Friday of the body of William M. Doty, head of the Medical Chemical company of South Omaha, who was drowned last Tuesday night in Little Barbee lake at Muncie, Ind., came the details of the story showing that the dead man had given his life to save two women—Mrs. Aida McCormick, his sister, and Miss Pearl Heffernan, both of Muncie, Ind.

Adam McCormick, the husband of Mrs. McCormick, told the story of the unfortunate accident. "We had all gone out on the Little Barbee, two boatloads of people. In the company were Mr. and Mrs. Doty, Miss Elizabeth Moore, Miss Pearl Heffernan, Mrs. McCormick and myself.

"After we had reached the farther side of the lake the company got out of the boats for a swim. Mr. Doty led the party walking backward into the deep water. He held Mrs. McCormick, his sister, by one hand and Miss Heffernan by the other.

"And then I don't know how the rest happened. The three seemed to have stepped off into a hole. Mr. Doty seemed to realize the danger, and, though the water was over his head, he kept struggling to push the two women back to safety. When we reached him he had gone down."

The drowning occurred on the night of the Fourth about 8 o'clock. The body was found about an hour later by A. K. Brenner of Lima, O. Mr. Doty was about 44 years of age. He is survived by his wife and one son, James. He leaves also his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Doty of Council Bluffs; four brothers—George T. Doty, St. Joseph, Mo.; J. W. Doty, and J. J. Doty of Shenandoah, Ia.; B. L. Doty of Lafayette, Ind., and five sisters—Mrs. C. R. Andrews, Mrs. L. W. Andrews and Mrs. L. A. Gale of Council Bluffs and Mrs. F. A. Wood of Lafayette, Ind.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the late residence of the deceased, 201 B street, South Omaha. Services were in charge of the Christian Science church, with Charles Dunham presiding. Interment was in West Lawn cemetery.

Six Aspire to Wear the Judicial Toga

Four Democrats and Two Republicans File for Places
Friday.

Six aspirants for a judicial toga filed for places on the fourth judicial district bench Friday morning. The list included four democrats and two republicans, the latter being Judge Lee S. Kestler, presiding judge of the district, and W. A. Foster, chief deputy sheriff and former justice.

John W. Greenwood, representative from Omaha, was among the list of democrats. The others are Mark O. Marchand, George W. Cooper and Robert W. Patrick, an attorney and a former member of the house. One other filing was made, that by William Kahn, who aspires to a constabulary in South Omaha. He is a democrat. Judge A. C. Kappas of Clay Center has been visiting in Omaha for several days, getting acquainted with the citizens, in the interest of his candidacy for a place on the republican state ticket for the ensuing month.

GLOBE TROTTER HELD HERE

ifornia by the Bureau
Here.

A 25-year-old globe trotter on his second tour of the world was Friday placed in the custody of Matron Gibbons at police headquarters pending advice from Tulsa, O., where his father resides.

The lad gave the name of Harry Norton when arrested by Special Officers Tighe and Chestnut of the Union Pacific railroad while he was holding down a high seat on the roof of an Overland limited coach as the train pulled into the Union depot this forenoon.

When taken to the police station Harry admitted that he was stealing his way to California, where he expected to get a job as bell boy in one of the large hotels. He exhibited several clippings from newspapers all over the country showing that he successfully beat his way and was arrested in many cities during the last eighteen months.

Reflected Rays Set Fire to Barn. MARBLE ROCK, Ia., July 7.—(Special.)—Many misdeeds have already been charged to the automobile, but the latest is incendiary. Yesterday when the temperature ran far above 90 here, the rays of the sun reflected from the glass of the windshield of an automobile, set fire to a pile of canvas lying in the door of the Robert Fletcher barn. The flames caught the barn, completely destroying it. The loss was $1,100.

Woman Dies of Tetanus. MARSHALSTOWN, Ia., July 7.—(Special.)—As a result of having pricked her finger with a sewing machine needle two weeks ago, Mrs. Carrie Cook, aged 31, wife of William Cook, died of tetanus at her home today.
