The revised and corrected contract was read by City Clerk Duff, while members of the council closely scanned copies. The corrected copies included the amendments decided upon at the previous conference and made the present rates for private consumers now prevailing in Omaha the maximum to be charged in Council Bluffs during the five-year period of the contract, with the provision that any reduction made in Omaha rates for either current President Nash, who was again present, declared that the Kearney figures were the only quotations showing the prices of current as low as those contained in the Council Bluffs contract. Attorney Kilipack attacked the royality clause, delaring it to be filegal, and that it should not be enforced. The argument lost its force when Mr. Tinley pointed out that the withdrawal of the royalities would compel the reduction of the present number of lights one-fourth.

The revised and corrected contract was with the provision that any reduction made in Omaha rates for either current or gas should at once apply to Council Bluffs.

Alderman Harding began the discussion by declaring that he favored aerial wires and iron poles on the streets in preference to the underground and pedestal post system and would not ask Mr. Wickham to hold off paving work any longer. He thought that no further action should be taken in relation to the street lighting contract until next fall and moved to indefinitely postpone the pending contract.

He received no second and Robert Wallace, for the Commercial club, came forward with a handful of telegrams received from other cities in reference to prevailing rates all of which Mr. Tinley claimed, in reply, were fully corroborative of the figures he gave the council on the previous day. Superintendent Beveridge has begun the work of notifying all merchants who intend handling school supplies during the next school year that a full list of the materials to be used in drawing and writing may be had by applying to him. The board has approved the recommendations of the supervisor of drawing and penmanship, micking many important changes in the character and class of materials to be used, and unless the merchants familiarize them selves with the new list they may buy stuff that cannot be used.

D. B. Lawrence was arraigned in police court yesterday upon the charge of stealing grain frem an Illinois Central freight car. Investigation, however, has satisfied the police that the charge is groundless. Lawrence happened to go through the yards and pass the car while three other young men were engaged in extracting three bags of grain and stepped forward to identify them. At this moment the raftroad detectives arrived. The others jumped from the car and escaped while Lawrence remained and was taken into custody. When the facts were disclosed Judge Snyder took his own recognizance and released him. He will probably be used as a witness against the others.

The school board has selected Prof. J. E. Marshall of Boone, Is., to fill the vacancy in the Council Bluffs High school faculty caused by the resignation of Prof. Reed, who left to take a place in the Omana High school. Prof. Marshall at the present time is principal of the high school at Boone. His pay was fixed at $1,00 a year. Owing to the necessity of providing quarters for the new manual training department to be installed in the high school building, the board instructed Superintendent Beveridge to remove his office to the Cak street building. Convenient quarters will be fixed up for the head of the city schools at the new building, which is not now all occupied. While removing him from the high school, it will place him where he can more readily reach all of the other schools, as he will be located for the first time can a car line. The beard authorized the purchase of six sectional bookcases for his new office.

A gust of wind which toppled over a sixty-foot ladder, which painters had raised at the Christian Home orphanage yesterday came near causing a tragedy. It was only prevented falling among a group of children by the alertness of one of the painters, who seized and turned it so that in struck the downspout on the building, ripping it off from the roof to the ground. The painter sprang forward while the ladder was falling and snatched away a little crippled child that would have been crushed when the heavy weight finally reached the ground. The ladder strapped to the top and the wind caught it just as the man who had been perched near the top had reached the ground. But for his prompt action it would have fallen partially away from the building and into the crowd of little people who were intently watching the work of the painters.

Dar Hows, an old resident of Council Blufts and extensive property ewner, left yesterday for Buffalo, N. T., where he will make his home in the future. For several months Mr. Hows has been seriously ill, and his only surviving relatives, two nephews, came here several days ago to look after him. They decided that the care he would require would make it pecessary to take him to their homes. His extensive financial affairs were found to be in a rather tangled condition, and they applied to the court to name a competent person here to look after them. Upon their recommendation the court appointed Hubert Tinley as special guardian. Mr. Hows was very ill when put aboard the Pullman coach and feared that the fatigue of the journey would be very great.

Farmer Jumps Down on Crowbar in Ground

John Pullman of Silver City Receives Injuries Likely to Prove

John Pullman, a well known farmer residing near Silver City, received injuries yesterday afternoon that are feared to be of a fatal character. He was brought to the Edmundson hospital last evening and was operated upon by Dr. Macrae.

Mr. Pullman was engaged in moving a power sheller and jumped from the top of it to the ground without noticing a crowbar that was sticking upright beneath him and struck squarely upon it. The end, an inch in diameter, penetrated the abdomen nearly a foot, perforating the intestines in several places. Dr. Macrae was called by telephone to Silver City and when the terrific nature of the man's injuries were disclosed immediately took him to the hospital in an automobile.

Mr. Pullman is 46 years family. He rallied from the operation and his condition was favorable last night, but the physicians say he has very few
