Amusements for the WeekLYON BROH LORRAINE
IN "A REHEARSAL AT HOME"

Lyon, Broh & Lorraine in a musical sketch entitled "A Rehearsal at Home," are heading the bill at the Rome summer garden for next week. These clowns and players have one of the finest and most expensive vaudeville acts ever in Omaha and their engagement shows that it is the intention of the management to continue the policy of presenting only the best. Miss Lyon sings "Slip Him to Me" which has made a hit wherever sung; Mr. Broh sings the ballad "Mine" in a pleasing manner. The acting and singing of Miss Lyon and Mr. Broh in "Wedding Bells" is ten minutes later than the latest, while "Girls, Girls, Girls" by the trio that appears in the act, Miss Lorraine plays "My Hero," a pantomime in which always receives great applause. This trio will present an entirely new act during the last half of the week.

Miss Marie Showden, Omaha's talented young entertainer, will do some clever dancing and singing. This young lady has pleased Omaha audiences for so long that it is not necessary to dwell at length on her talent. For good measure, the management has re-engaged Leo D. Hickman, the favorite baritone, who will sing several new illustrated songs. The Rome orchestra has been improved and is now the best in the city. Only the latest and most popular music is presented and any desired numbers will be gladly played upon request.

The photo plays shown are the largest, best and newest in the west. Coupled with all of the above is the genuine comfort and pleasure of being outdoors in the coolest place in Omaha. The garden is on the east side of the hotel, where it is completely shaded during the afternoon and by evening is decidedly refreshing.

While the stage offers its attractions, the audience and garden present a fascinating background. Diners are served, cooling drinks are sipped, and the smoke curl's from innumerable cigars; all these with the flashing fountain of many colorful, pretty goldfish, waving palms and beautiful flowers combining to form a most attractive picture. There is nothing like it in the city and it is the ideal hot weather diversion. The seating capacity has been increased to 700 and there is plenty of room for all. The programs are given continuously from 7 to 11 p. m. daily and admission is only a dime to adults and 5 cents to children.

Additional features will be provided by the management as the season goes on. Watch the papers for announcement of the same. Excellent street car service from all parts of the city.

An overwhelming success has been the week of the Gayety's coatless vaudeville this season. So great has been the attendance the past week that the management is encouraged to present even a more expensive bill to open this afternoon than was last week's satisfactory program. Conspicuous on the list of Miss Carrie Barge said that the social condition of the majority of the people in the country was very bad. The working class could very seldom give its children a good education. As soon as they grow into their teens, where they are put to work in the factories, where they usually stay all their life, working six days a week. On Sundays instead of worshipping God, they usually spend the day at some resort. She said religious holidays have become commercialized, and instead of spending these days as willed by the church, they are spent in pleasure and amusement.

Miss Isabelle Horton gave a short talk on missionary work in the cities, stating the work as necessary there as in pagan countries. She said the churches are moving out of the crowded districts and the foreigners are moving in. There being no churches, missionary work is an needful there as any place else.

For holders of tickets to Missionary summer school, being held at the University, the seats in the middle rows at the Methodist Episcopal church will be reserved until 7:30 p. m. for the address, which William Jennings Bryan will deliver at the mass meeting under direction of the Laymen's missionary committee.

Miss Barington then directed investigators to a dog kennel at the Armour home where about $25,000 of the securities were found buried in a corner. She promised to restore the remainder. It developed that thousands of dollars had been spent by Miss Barington for fine jewelry and works of art for which she had paid fabulous prices, in some cases apparently with the use of little judgment.

Jewelry and Rug Found.

From storage houses in this city, under Mrs. Barington's direction, Mrs. Armour's representatives recovered $10,000 worth of jewelry bought from one firm in the course of eighteen months. $8,000 worth of oriental rugs and $4,000 worth of mezzo tints purchased from a local art dealer, whose shop she had frequented a great deal. Other gaudy and flashy art works were found in Miss Barington's apartments at the Armour home.

Miss Barington came to Kansas City from Rochester, N. Y., and entered Mrs. Armour's employ about three years ago. Mrs. Armour is 35 years old. Gradually she came to learn more and more upon her companion until eventually she gave her a large part of the control of the financial management of the household. When told by her attorney of the disappearance of securities, Mrs. Armour refused to take any action against Miss Barington and for weeks afterward kept her in her employ.

The amount named in the suit, $12,000, is stated to cover the entire amount of alleged peculations, including the bonds and the value of her property returned. Vouchers showing the amount returned must be presented in court and credited against the entire amount of the suit.

According to art dealers and jewelers at whose establishments Miss Barington spent thousands of dollars, she paid little attention to price and upon taking a fancy to any article ordered, it without further consideration. In explanation of her purchases, she usually said she was making them for a brother in South America. No trace of this brother has ever been found by those interested in the recovery of Mrs. Armour's property.

National Criminal Suit.

"I believe this suit is brought merely to take Miss Barington's deposition," said Joseph E. Stacey, Miss Barington's attorney.

"Mrs. Armour is anxious to learn where the other property is and I believe the purpose of the suit is merely to force Miss Barington to tell how she disposed of it.

I do not believe a criminal suit will follow the civil one."

"I would work my hands to the bone if I could thereby recover all the property that I took from her," Miss Barington said today. "Mrs. Armour was my friend and I would never have taken the things if I had not been temporarily demented. If there is any other property left to be discovered, I can be of no help, for I can recall no place in which I have hidden it."

There are supposed to be other such institutions in the city, but they have not complied with the law.

The care of the nipples is especially important. The simpler the safer. Do not use complicated nipples, and especially do not use a bottle with a long rubber tube. It is impossible to keep it clean and it will certainly cause bowel trouble. After a bottle is finished the nipple should be removed at once, turned inside out over the finger and scrubbed with cold water and a brush kept only for this purpose. After use always boil the brush. The cleaned nipple should be kept in fresh borax water (one teaspoonful to a pint of water) in a covered glass. Rinses the nipple in boiling water before using it. Do not put the nipple into your own mouth to find out whether the milk is warm enough. Let a few drops fall on your wrist; if it

Iowa State Board of Health Gives Important Advice.

HELPS FOR HOME TREASURES

What Mothers and Nurses Should Do to Conserve the Health of Infants—Care of Food Receipts.

Something must be done to prevent the excessive mortality among children, much of which is unnecessary. The Iowa State Board of Health is anxious to enlisted the services of all agencies taking an interest in the prevention of infant deaths.

It is earnestly desired that charitable associations, nurse associations, settlement associations, infant welfare associations and the medical profession work together to organize an "Infant Welfare" campaign to "Save the Babies."

The Iowa State Board of Health recommends that the local boards of health designate a trained nurse to visit the homes of the people to ascertain the true condition of our "Baby Kingdom." In the time not ripe just now to begin an onward march to conserve infant life? The life of every baby has a value that cannot be measured in dollars and cents. Let the communities "wake up" and study the conditions that are robbing our nation of the little ones. The boys of the country are being well cared for and great societies are being formed to conserve our national resources, and ought we not to take into consideration at the same time the immense loss of human life caused by preventable diseases?

Ifous diseases are becoming more prevalent every day and health authorities are constantly sending out warnings to the people to change the unhealthy conditions in order that sickness and death may be prevented. In full view of all these warnings which are given free to the people, there are those in our country who are trying to break down all health instruction and the results are apparent that people are needlessly being sick and innocent children are dying.

Alarming Infant Mortality.

The State Board of Health has observed that in all sections of our country there is an alarming infant mortality from entirely preventable diseases, the causes of which are definitely known and should be eradicated. As the greatest asset of Iowa is its healthful population, it is important that every baby be kept well and for these reasons the board makes the following suggestions to fathers and mothers:

The hot weather of this season of the year is extremely dangerous to the lives of infants and young children, not only because of the depressing effect of high temperature in general, but especially because it is harder to preserve all articles of food, especially cow's milk, in hot weather.

For this reason it is especially important that cow's milk be used for feeding babies should be the purest and freshest that you can afford to buy. During hot weather ice is absolutely necessary for the preservation of milk, where a cool springhouse is not available, and no milk should be fed to a baby which is not cooled by ice around the bucket as soon as it comes from the cow, and it should be kept next to the ice until ready to be used. A little money spent for ice may prevent illness and its much greater expense for nursing, medicine and medical attendance. Unless you are absolutely sure your water supply is pure, it is safest to use water which has been boiled for drinking and for the preparation of the baby's food.

Natural Food.

In practically all cases the mother can and should serve her own baby. Breastmilk is the natural food for the newborn baby. No other food can compare with it. Ten bottle-fed babies die to one that is breast-fed.

Immediately after birth do not use any kind of artificial food or tea for the baby while waiting for the breast milk to come. Put the baby to the breast every four hours and give nothing else but water that has been boiled. The new baby needs nothing else and will not starve. After the milk comes under no circumstances should the baby nurse oftener than every two hours during the day and two or three times at night.

Do not nurse the baby whenever it cries. A moderate amount of crying helps to develop the lungs and every baby should cry during the day. Babies who are nursed irregularly, or whenever they cry, practically always get indigestion and then cry harder from the pain. Nurse regularly and the baby will soon learn to expect its nursing at the proper time. Give the baby a little water which has been boiled, several times a day. After two months the time between nursing should be two and one-half to three hours in the daytime, with only one or two feedings at night.

Mother Wisdom in Play.

Do not wear the baby as long as he is gaining weight and never do so except by advice of your doctor. Do not follow the advice of friends or neighbors about weaning. If the baby remains well, but after a time stops gaining weight, do not think that your milk is of no value, but consult your doctor about adding one or two bottles to help you out.

If it becomes necessary to feed the baby either entirely or only in part upon the bottle, remember that absolute cleanliness is necessary in all details of the feeding. Because some babies have lived through filth is no argument that yours will. As soon as a bottle is finished it should be thoroughly washed with cold water, then cleaned with hot water and borax (one teaspoonful to a pint of water) and set aside in a sunny place for further cleaning before being used again. If you have only a few bottles and it becomes necessary to use the same one for the next feeding, boil it for a few minutes with a little soda in the water before putting fresh food into it. Never let the baby nurse from the remains of a bottle which he has not finished. Take it away from the crib, pour out the milk and clean at once. Stale milk curds sticking to the inside of the bottle, becomes poisonous after a few hours and may contaminate fresh milk coming in contact with them. It is better and easier to have as many bottles as the daily number of feedings so that all can be boiled together before the food is prepared in the morning.

Cleanliness is Life.

The care of the nipples is especially important. The simpler the safer. Do not use complicated nipples, and especially do not use a bottle with a long rubber tube. It is impossible to keep it clean and it will certainly cause bowel trouble. After a bottle is finished the nipple should be removed at once, turned inside out over the finger and scrubbed with cold water and a brush kept only for this purpose. After use always boil the brush. The cleaned nipple should be kept in fresh borax water (one teaspoonful to a pint of water) in a covered glass. Rinses the nipple in boiling water before using it. Do not put the nipple into your own mouth to find out whether the milk is warm enough. Let a few drops fall on your wrist; if it
