Ball Games in Several of the Towns in Nebraska Are Called Off When the Rain Makes the Grounds Too Wet.

The South Platte section of Nebraska and the east half of Kansas were given a good soaking Saturday night and Sunday morning. On the eastern division of the Union Pacific in Kansas rain fell to a depth of from one-eighth to two and one-half inches. There was a sprinkle from Central City to Grand Island, with one-half inch from Grand Island to North Platte.

Rain also fell on the Union Pacific branch from North Platte to Northport. Half an inch fell at Chester and Blue Hill. An inch fell at Edgar.

At Grand Island rain began to fall Sunday just before the ball game, forcing the players and spectators to seek shelter from the downpour, which thoroughly soaked the ground.

MASON CITY RESTAURATEURS SELL MILK BELOW GRADE

Proprietors of Three Cafes Pay Fines and Others Will Plead Today.

MASON CITY, Ia., July 16.—(Special.)—Inspector O. M. Thompson dropped down on the restaurant and lunch counter keepers Thursday and had warrants issued for their arrest, charged with selling milk that was not up to standard. Saturday was the day of reckoning and the proprietors of the Delmonico, Vermilya cafe and McBride cafe stepped up to the captain's office and paid a fine of $25 and costs. Monday more of them will make their pies. It is stated that there is hardly a restaurant keeper in this part of the state who sells milk that is up to the standard. Drawing from the large tanks the cream rises to the top and the bottom is nothing stronger than skimmed milk.

VICIOUS HOG ATTACKS MAN

Ernest Frahm of Bryant, S. D., Bitten by Animal and May Die of Blood Poisoning.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., July 16.—(Special.)—Ernest Frahm, a well known farmer living near Bryant, had a thrilling fight with a vicious hog and narrowly escaped with his life. As it was he was severely bitten, and blood poisoning now has developed and he may yet have to fight for his life. During the fight Frahm was able to grasp a hammer which had been left near the point where he was attacked by the hog, and with this he rained blow after blow upon the head of the hog until it had been killed, thus saving himself from more severe injuries.

Death of Watchman From Cholera Causes Fear of an Epidemic

Increasing Number of Cases at New York Quarantine Station Creates Apprehension.

NEW YORK, July 16.—The death today of Patrick Cushing, a resident American and former day watchman at Hoffman island quarantine station, from Asiatic cholera, has aroused apprehension in New York of the spread of the scourge and vigorous steps were taken to stamp out possible sources of infection.

Health Officer Doty says there is no cause for alarm. A strict quarantine has been established at the home of Cushing's widow and four children.

In the opinion of Mr. Doty, Cushing contracted the disease from a cholera carrier, as there had been no recognized case of cholera on Hoffman island for seventeen days prior to his leaving there. As soon as the first case occurred among passengers of the detained steamer, Moltke, Dr. Doty instituted a search for Cushing and learned he was in the hospital.

A deputy health officer examined Cushing and ordered his removal to the Swinburne island hospital, where he died.

While Cushing's death reveals the first native case of cholera in the present epidemic, three deaths from the disease have occurred at Swinburne island in the last three days. According to Dr. Doty, six other cases exist at quarantine. Two of these are serious.

This tally does not accord with that of Charles Dushkind, counsel for immigrants, who recently made charges against Dr. Doty that are being investigated by a special commission. Mr. Dushkind attempted at the inquiry to prove by Charles Leavitt, a carpenter at Hoffman island, that there are ten new cases there. Leavitt said he had heard such a report, but did not know how authentic it was.

State Refuses to Take Merrick County Bonds

Objection is Raised to Low Rate of Interest and Another Election May Be Necessary.

CENTRAL CITY, Neb., July 16.—(Special.)—Will it be necessary to hold another bond election before Merrick county can begin building the new court house for which $100,000 was voted at the special election of May 31 last? This is the question that confronts the Merrick county Board of Supervisors. When the election was called the proposition specified that the bonds should draw but 4 per cent interest. Now the state has declined to take the bonds at so low a rate, and no private capital sems willing to be risked on the proposition. The board has determined to go ahead and advertise for bids on the bonds now that they have been registered, but the prospects of selling them are scant. At the election in May the proposition carried by an overwhelming vote and there is much regret now that the rate of interest was placed so low.

ATTORNEY WHITE DIES SUDDENLY

Counsel for Northwestern Spends Afternoon on Golf Links and Returning Home, Passes Away.

HEALTH RECENTLY OF THE BEST

Returned Late in March After Spending Winter in South.

HAD WIFE AND FIVE CHILDREN

Oldest Son at Douglas, Wyo., at Time of Death.

SEIZED WITH PAIN IN THE HEART

Doctor is Called, but Patient Soon Becomes Unconscious, Dying About Twenty Minutes Later in Evening.

Benjamin T. White, aged 50 years, general attorney for the Northwestern Railway company west of the Missouri river, was stricken with neuralgia of the heart immediately following an afternoon of golf at the Country club Saturday and died at his home at 8:45 o'clock Saturday night.

Mr. White left his office at the Northwestern headquarters Saturday at 1 o'clock and went to the Country club, where he ate a light lunch and after a short rest went out on the golf links, accompanied by N. H. Loomis, W. F. Gurley and Frank Brogan, and engaged in a nine-hole match, as had been arranged earlier in the week. At no time did the men exert themselves, having two hours and a half to complete the game. The men parted and Mr. White went home in an automobile, reaching there at about 6:15 o'clock. He was met at the door and reminded of an engagement he had for the evening. He, however, was suddenly seized with a pain in his heart. He went to his room at once. His condition was such that Dr. J. S. Alexander was at once called by Mrs. White. The physician stayed with Mr. White until the end. Mr. White became unconscious about twenty minutes before death.

Apparently in Good Health.

For the last few weeks Mr. White had been in the best of health and had remarked about it several times. He had been troubled with his heart since February, 1910, but of late had not experienced any bad feeling. In October, 1910, his health necessitated a trip south. He remained there until December 23, when he returned home for the holidays and went back south until March 25.

Mr. White was born in Wisconsin on February 2, 1861. When but a small child he was taken to the Pacific coast by his parents in a covered wagon. He remained in the west for a few years and went to New York. He received his early education in the common schools in Binghamton and Elmira, N. Y. Later when the west began to grow he followed the tourists and homeseekers and landed in Iowa. He remained in Iowa for a few years and came to Nebraska. Working days to earn a livelihood, Mr. White managed to get into law offices during his spare time and thus early picked up a knowledge of law. His night studying was not in vain, for in October, 1884, he was admitted to the Nebraska bar. Immediately after being admitted Mr. White went to Norfolk, Neb., where he entered into partnership with H. C. Brome of Omaha. He remained in Norfolk four years. January 1, 1888, he was married to Alice A. Schwenk of Norfolk. In November of the same year he came to Omaha and was appointed assistant to General Attorney John Hawley. On the death of Mr. Hawley, William B. Sterling was made general attorney and Mr. White was made first assistant.

Becomes General Attorney.

In the fall of 1897 Mr. White succeeded Mr. Sterling as general attorney for the Northwestern lines west of the Missouri. He had held that office ever since. At the time Mr. White went into the employ of the railroad company it was then the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley Railway company, but under the supervision of Mr. White the Northwestern Railway company secured the lines. At the time of his death Mr. White had as his assistants B. H. Dunham and Herman Aye.

Mr. White was probably one of the best known men in Omaha. He was a member of the Country club, the Field club, Omaha club and the Commercial club. He was not a member of any fraternity. He was not an enthusiast over golf, but played the game for the exercise he derived from it. It was his custom to go out to the Country club every Saturday afternoon with the three men who played with him yesterday and play a nine-hole game.

Kirke, the oldest son, at the time of his father's death was in Douglas, Wyo., spending his vacation. He was wired at once and left last night for home and will arrive in Omaha some time today. Mr. White is survived by his widow, three daughters, Gwendolyn, Jean and Ruth, and two sons, Kirke and Horton. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Gasoline Explosion is Fatal.

NEW HARTFORD, Ia., July 16.—(Special.)—Edward Needham, a former old resident of New Hartford, was fatally burned and Mrs. Needham was badly burned in an explosion of gasoline at their home in Lake Preston, S. D., according to a telegram received here today. A later message said Needham died this morning. The explosion occurred while Needham was filling a gasoline stove while it was burning.

Count Stefan Tisza in the Role of Neglected Husband

VIENNA, July 16.—(Special Cablegram.)—Vienna society is enjoying an "unkissed bride" story which has gotten into the divorce courts. The bridegroom is Count Stefan Tisza, a younger member of one of the best known aristocratic families in Hungary. He recently contracted an alliance with the Countess Ilona Csaky, and the bridal pair left for their honeymoon after the usual rejoicings. But to the husband's amazement, the bride behaved as though she were still unmarried. Without having given any warning, she arranged to be accompanied by a duenna on her honeymoon, and it was only on their arrival at Venice that he discovered that his wife had asked an elderly friend to await them and to stay at the hotel with them.

Count Tisza, believing his wife had been studying contemporary literature with too much ardor, and was carrying out some of the freaks perpetrated by modern heroines, submitted with the best grace that he could master.

The duenna, who is a widow of a consul, never left the side of her friend, and at Mentone the two women left the bridegroom and took passage to Tangier, without any explanation.

Tired of his role of neglected husband, Count Tisza returned to Hungary, and visited a distant estate in order to escape being questioned by friends. Countess Tisza has now returned from her journey, and her husband promised to forgive her escapade if she would live with him without further trouble. The countess, however, refuses to go to her husband's house and he has begun proceedings against her in the divorce court.

Infant Paralysis Near Central City

Asney Wilder, Twelve Years Old, is Stricken with the Disease and Dies in Few Hours.

CENTRAL CITY, Neb., July 16.—(Special.)—The community was somewhat alarmed this week by the appearance of a case of anterior polio myelitis, or infantile paralysis, which resulted fatally in a short time. The victim was Asney, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilder. The boy had been working in the fields and was apparently in the best of health, when he was attacked by the malady, and in less than four days was dead. There was an epidemic of this disease prevalent in this part of the state two years ago, particularly in Polk and Hamilton counties, with some cases here, and the people dreaded its reappearance. As soon as the nature of the disease was known the County Board of Health convened, ordered that no public funeral should be held over the body and placed the family and the premises under the strictest quarantine. No new cases have appeared.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Announcement was made at the Department of Justice today that the government had recovered $75,000 from John F. Gaynor and Benjamin D. Greene, the contractors who were convicted of frauds with Captain Oberlin M. Carter in the Savannah harbor contracts several years ago. Records show that approximately $500,000 has been recovered from Captain Carter. That sum includes, however, real estate and securities, some of which have not been sold. The courts allowed $111,000 for Carter's counsel fees and expenses.

DAHLMAN RULES; JEERS AT BRYAN

Douglas County Democratic Convention Under Domination of Mayor and His Friends.

PEERLESS LEADER IS ROASTED

Resolutions Calling Him Traitor Are Noisily Adopted.

DUNN MAKES VAIN PROTEST

Ignatius Begs for Bryan, but Jim Howls for Vengeance.

HARMON OF OHIO ENDORSED

Convention Chooses Candidate for President, Delegates to State Convention and Names Its State Committeemen.

William J. Bryan was derided by the Dahlman Democracy at the democratic convention Saturday night and the slogan of "Harmon and Harmony" was adopted.

Mayor Jim worked himself and a majority of the delegates into a wrathful frenzy, drowned out the protests with his own shouting and yelled for a rising vote on the resolutions before remarks could be made. Protests had been made, notably by I. J. Dunn and E. E. Howell, but the South Omaha delegates were out in the hall, the county delegates were in committee meeting and the Dahlman club members shouted as with one voice, "Down with the sting of ingratitude."

In addition to selecting a candidate for the party for 1912 and paying off Mayor Jim's debt of vengeance, the convention selected members of the state committee for Douglas county, endorsed State Chairman Byrnes for another turn at the job and congratulated Senator Hitchcock and Congressman Lobeck for their records in the present session of congress.

Pillory for Peerless.

The resolutions, couched in the eloquence of Dan Horrigan, H. B. Fleharty and John Moriarty, the committeemen, had been drawn up during the afternoon in a heated conference in which the party in favor of hanging the Peerless Leader in effigy compromised with those who wanted merely to reprimand him, and the following remarks were the result:

"The democrats of Douglas county, in convention assembled, send greetings to the loyal democrats of the state of Nebraska, about to assemble in delegate convention at Fremont. Standing on the adamant foundation of democracy that in the party councils the majority should rule, we deplore and condemn the action of William J. Bryan, who, having repeatedly received the loyal support of the democratic party of Nebraska, turned treacherously upon it in its hour of need and accomplished its defeat.

Congratulates Loyal Democrats.

"We congratulate the loyal democrats of the state:

"First, on the success attained at the polls at the last general election, notwithstanding a bolt from the state convention held at Grand Island, led by him, who, as a democrat, had received more loyal support at the hands of the democratic party of the state than had any other democrat in its history.

"Second, that at that election there were enough loyal democrats, notwithstanding the betrayal by the man who had been its leader, to elect a majority of democrats to each house of the legislature.

"Third, that that majority in the legislature passed laws fulfilling every platform pledge of the party, and consistently supported and voted for measures in the interest of the state and its people.

"Fourth, that in spite of that betrayal Honorable Gilbert M. Hitchcock was elected to the United States senate from this state by a democratic house and a democratic senate, in obedience to the wishes of the people of the state and of the democratic members of that house and senate.

Hurrah for Harmon.

"The Douglas county democrats, believing in the principles of the national constitution and knowing the patriotism and loyalty of that great leader of democracy in the state of Ohio, and with profound belief in his ability, his integrity and his patriotism, send greetings to him and to the people of Ohio, who on his second election of governor gave him 100,000 majority over his opponent. With 'Harmon and Harmony' as the slogan, the democratic host will march on to glorious victory in 1912.

"They endorse the action of the party representatives in the last legislature, as well as the course of James C. Dahlman in his two administrations as mayor of Omaha, and for his upholding the banner of democracy against betrayal and treachery.

"We heartily endorse and approve the splendid record of our United States senator, Honorable Gilbert M. Hitchcock, and of our congressman, Honorable Charles O. Lobeck."

Harmony Soon Forgotten.

The adopted slogan of the convention might have been "Harmon and Harmony," but the working principle seemed to be "Dahlman and Dissension." With L. J. TePoel in the chair and Ed J. Waters as secretary, the surface seemed smooth and calm at the beginning of the affair.

Nothing happened, except according to the specifications known for several days as to committees and such minor arrangements, until Dan Horrigan brought back after an imaginary conference the resolutions which had been concocted during the
