NEW ALIGNMENTS IN IOWA

Kenyon's Vote Against Reciprocity Arouses Ire of Supporters.

TALK OF NEW CANDIDATE

Papers are Criticizing Both Senators for Refusal to Support Administration—Talk of Presidential Primary.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
DES MOINES, July 23 (Special).—The prospect of a big mixup in Iowa politics next year has been immensely increased by the attitude of local politicians and the determination to divide the Iowa delegation in congress. The action of Senator Kenyon in announcing that he has reached the conclusion that the majority of Iowa people do not want the passage of the pending reciprocity pact and that therefore he will not vote for it has aroused the ire of some of his supporters here and they are threatening to bring out a new candidate for the senate in opposition to him. Senator Cummins has written a letter and had it published in Iowa papers that are friendly to him and this has angered the former progressive organs in Des Moines and they are refusing to print the letter and are sharply criticizing him for not supporting the administration. On the other hand, some of the leading journals that were active in the Taft club movement last year and fought Cummins and Dooliver are now threatening to support La Follette for president on the theory that the reciprocity pact is not so vital to Iowa people. Out of all this has also come the suggestion, first presented by the ardent admirers of President Taft, that the matter of the Iowa stand next year be left to a vote of the people at a special primary informally called next winter, and that the delegation be organized on the basis of any issue in case the vote goes that way. This plan would eliminate the presidential matter from the state fight, though it is known that a coterie of Des Moines politicians will oppose any such arrangements.

JEALOUSY AMONG MADERISTS

General Reyes Still Says Will Not Be Candidate for President, Though Will Not Be Made Minister of War.

MEXICO CITY, July 23.—That the period of reconstruction soon may be succeeded by another revolution is the fear frankly expressed today in many quarters of the capital. Reports of dissensions, amounting in few cases to the magnitude of battles, are not uncommon and almost daily the authorities are informed of the frustration of plots against Madero or the constituted government.

The muzzling out of the revolutionary force is not proving easy. In some cases bands of former rebels have refused to give up their arms and are demanding money for past services. So anxious is the government to accomplish its purpose, however, that in a few instances these demands have been met.

Jealousy in Ranks.
To further complicate conditions the feeling in the ranks of the Maderists is not brotherly. Jealousies have aroused antagonisms among the leaders of the late rebelion.

Difficultly encountered in satisfying the people of states in naming provisional governors has in a few cases resulted in the appointment of several executives. In one or two states the state house has been occupied by as many as four governors since the retirement of the governor under the Diaz regime.

Although no official statement has been made, it appears doubtful if the elections will be held in October.

Both Madero and De la Barra minimize the importance of plots thus far discovered and profess scepticism regarding reported activities of men of the old regime.

Despite the breaking of the agreement that General Bernardo Reyes should be minister of war in the cabinet of Madero, and notwithstanding Madero's assurances that Reyes was free to enter the presidential race, the general tonight insisted he would not be a candidate. Supporters of Madero shrug their shoulders and express their disbelief in Reyes' statement. Reyes said he offered to release Madero from the promise relative to making him minister of war solely because of the growing opposition in the senate of the Maderists, as expressed by the anti-Reyesista clubs.

Madero was prompt in answering him. He said he not only would release the general from the agreement but he assured him he was at liberty to become a presidential candidate, regardless of any promises.

Co-operative Creamery Company.
GLENWOOD, Ia., July 23 (Special).—Sixty out of 100 members of the Co-operative Creamery company, organized in Glenwood this spring, met at the city hall this afternoon and elected the following officers and directors: President, Joseph Stille; vice president, J. W. Carter; treasurer, Rudolph Horn; secretary, L. E. Galt; directors C. W. McManis, Rudolph Dettcher, Frank Terry, Simon Stille, Samuel P. Stranathan, D. G. Jamison and George Phelps. The company will incorporate at once. The creamery building is practically completed and the machinery installed. The first run will be made early next week.

COLE DISMISSES THE CASE

Content Proceedings Against Mother of Child in Divorce Case Are Dropped.

AUBURN, Neb., July 23 (Special).—A short session of the district court was held yesterday and today with John B. Raper of Pawnee on the bench. The case of content proceedings against Florence R. Cole for suffering from insanity, and for leaving her child at her home after the court had awarded the custody of the child to J. F. Cole, was dismissed by J. F. Cole, when the case was called for trial. An order was made permitting Cole to take the boy to Oklahoma on a visit. This is done with a view of weaning the boy from his mother.

Rettie M. Dye was granted a divorce from Ira B. Dye, and Charles E. Hadley was granted a divorce from Eva M. Hadley. They all reside at Peru.

The ground for divorce was the alleged insanity of the wife, and her refusal to live with her husband. Mrs. Dye and Mr. Hadley left Peru early in April. All the property by Dye was awarded to Mrs. Dye and she was given $20 per month as alimony and support of the minor children. Court was adjourned until August 3, when the case of Housing and Renting will be tried before Judge Raper.

Reports from in the vicinity of Waverly are to the effect that the crop of sugar beets grown for consumption by the sugar factory there is unusually good this year despite the dry weather and that the quality is sure to be excellent. A large average was planted and the factory, which is a comparatively new one, will be run to full capacity.

Prison Management Good.
In view of many recent accusations against the management of the state prison at Fort Madison a number of individual investigators have gone there to look into conditions. They have generally found that the prison is well managed and that considering that the cell house is antiquated and out of date the conditions are the best that can be had. There has been much complaint among prisoners this year because of the fact that the heat has been intense, but aside from that the prisoners are satisfied.

Keeping Tab on Accounts.
Appointment of a committee by a Des Moines committee to investigate city and county accounts and to keep tab on the public expenditures has aroused a storm here. The city and county officials say that the action is "entirely unwarranted and that it reflects unjustly upon public officials. It is a question whether or not a private checking up of accounts will be permitted.

HEARING IN THE CARR CASE

Governor Aldrich Will Extend One to Woman Held in Omaha.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Neb., July 23 (Special).—Mary J. Carr, now under arrest in Omaha on a statutory charge alleged to have been committed in Chicago, has asked Governor Aldrich to extend her term of detention for her return to Nebraska by the state executive.

The complaining witness in the case is Mary Dohney of 633 Parnell avenue, and she alleges in the information that she is acquainted with Mrs. Carr, and that the two women lived together in Chicago, Ill., on the following day the two came there to live. Mrs. Dohney says that Mary J. Carr was masquerading as Mrs. Cochran and that after she had staid at her house a short time both went away. Now she wants the woman returned to Illinois, there to stand trial on the charge of maintaining improper relations with the man to whom the flat was rented.

The matter will be heard by Governor Aldrich Tuesday morning at the executive office.

MURDER CHARGE FOR BEATTIE

Man Accused of Killing Wife Taken to Another Jail.

YOUNG GIRL IN SAME PRISON

Cousin Who Confesses Burying Gun Falls on the Witness Stand—Public Feeling is Greatly Aroused by Case.

RICHMOND, Va., July 23.—Accused by the coroner's jury Saturday of murdering his young wife, Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., tonight in the Henrico county jail here, apparently unconcerned and still smoking cigarettes. He calmly insists upon the truth of the story he told last Tuesday night when he drove his automobile into Richmond from the Middleburg turnpike, holding the bloodstained body of his dead wife in his arms.

Seventeen-year old Beulah Binfeld, the pretty girl, whose relations with Beattie are believed to have led to the tragedy, and Paul D. Beattie, cousin of the accused man, who testified at the coroner's inquest that he fought for Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., the shotgun with which the killing was done, are held in jail as witnesses, the police refusing to release them except under heavy bonds.

Public Feeling Aroused.
Public feeling has been so aroused by the developments in the tragedy that the authorities were afraid to keep Beattie in the Chesterfield county jail, after the coroner's jury returned its verdict this afternoon. Re-arranging his case on the charge of murder of the wife buried him through the great crowd which had gathered outside Coroner Lovins' home, during the inquest and took him into Richmond. Before Magistrate Jacob he had waived the preliminary examination and he was committed to jail to await the action of the Chesterfield county grand jury, which meets August 14.

In other cells in the same prison Paul Beattie and Beulah Binfeld, both almost prostrated by the situation, were locked up, neither being able to furnish bail bonds. The developments today were sensational in the extreme. The hearing yesterday culminating in the arrest of Beattie excited the popular feeling to such a pitch that the police reserves were ordered out to maintain order. The crowd surged and muttered but there was no attempt to harm the prisoner nor interfere with the proceedings.

Paul Beattie Faints.
Paul Beattie, exhausted from the effects of the convulsions which seized him when he was arrested yesterday, was the chief witness before the inquest. While he was telling her, at the request and with money furnished by the latter, he brought the gun with which Mrs. Louisa Beattie was killed, the witness fainted. Physicians were summoned and he was revived after fifteen minutes.

The cousin's testimony, forming the missing link of the chain of circumstantial evidence forged by the detectives, satisfied the jury.

LIGHTNING KILLS CUSTER MAN

Ed Wilcox, While Riding in Wagon, Receives Shock and Death is Instantaneous.

BROKEN BOW, Neb., July 23 (Special Telegram).—Ed Wilcox was killed by lightning last night. He was riding in a wagon with his uncle and cousin, A. Dusenberry and son, thirteen miles south of Broken Bow. A storm was on and they were driving rapidly toward home when the bolt came.

Wilson was knocked out of the wagon, but the others received no shock. Death was instantaneous. He was 19 years old and his mother lives in Amesbury, where the body probably will be taken for burial.

The rain here was 1.60 inches but where Wilcox was killed the storm was more severe and the rainfall heavier.

VANDUSEN GOES TO LINCOLN

Elected Delegate by Convention at Blair, but Not from Own Ward.

BLAIR, Neb., July 23 (Special Telegram).—The republican county convention met at the court house yesterday with Representatives H. H. Heron of Blair as chairman and Ray Lippincott, secretary. The proceedings of the convention were a lively nature with a hard fight put up to keep Editor D. C. Van Dusen, vice president of the progressive republican league of Nebraska, out of the list of delegates to go to Lincoln to the state convention. Van Dusen won out, but goes as a delegate from the First ward, not his own ward.

The majority of the delegates elected are progressives and John H. White was re-elected as chairman of the republican county central committee. White is a progressive and was in the fight as Van Dusen's best man.

The following resolutions were adopted: That we, the republicans of Washington county, Nebraska, in convention assembled reaffirm the principles of the republican platform of 1892 and urge that all republicans get together and work for a grand republican victory in 1912. That we are in favor of the nomination of E. Z. Russell of Blair for the position of railway commissioner. Mr. Russell has been a resident of this county for nearly twenty-five years and we know him to be honest, upright and fair in all his dealings and commend him to the republican voters of the state as being a man who if elected will bring credit to the party and to the state.

The delegates elected are: Don. C. Van Dusen, W. E. Hatten, J. P. White, J. E. Lutz, Fred Hinerman, C. Balco, H. H. Heron, J. C. Neal, William Graham and L. D. Warrick and E. Z. Russell at a delegate at large.

To those who opposed the bill we would say that it will do harm to the farmer, we can only say that we have supported the passage of the bill for forward to the test of the actual operation of the reciprocity measure to disprove those who are ailing and their fears. The satisfaction that actual experience in its working will give, we confidently hope, will secure its permanence. GEORGE HAYWOOD DROWNS IN SHALLOW WATER

SPRINGFIELD, Neb., July 23 (Special).—George Haywood was drowned in the Platte river five miles east of here last night. Haywood was bathing in shallow water with several others and no notice was taken of him until the parties saw his body lying in shallow water and found that he was already dead. One of Mr. Haywood's neighbors was state treasurer of Pennsylvania several years ago. George Haywood had lived in this vicinity for several years, but of late has made his home in the Murray hotel in Omaha. Coroner Fisher held an inquest and the verdict of the jury was accidental drowning.

MANY IDENTIFY THEFT AS TEMPLE

Frank Vavra, upon whose land the body of the dead man was found, told police of meeting two men down near the river bank about a block or two within the city limits. The men were hidden in a clump of willow trees, when Vavra, who was in a boat, caught sight of them. One of the two called to Vavra and asked for a ferry across the river. Vavra replied that he was not going across, whereupon his interlocutor told him to "take him over or he would shoot him."

Vavra laughingly replied that "he guessed that he was pretty 'hot,' referring to the man's revolver. At this the stranger quickly disappeared among the trees. During the conversation of the man and Vavra, another man was lying in the weeds with his head covered up. Vavra could not give any description of the man lying down, but he did give a good description of the two men who came down a ferry across the river. Vavra replied that he had seen the man and that the two fugitives are hidden somewhere in the weeds on this side of the river and that they will attempt to make their escape soon. All descriptions seem to agree that one of the two men has red hair, while the other is well built and dressed in dark clothes. He is said to wear dark striped trousers and appears not to have been shaved for several days.

POLICE HOLDING PASAVOY

Man Wanted in Milwaukee May Not Be Given When Officer Comes.

Attorney Charles S. Elgitter and the police indulged in an altercation last night over the liberation of Morris Pasavoy, who was arrested Tuesday on information of the chief of police of Milwaukee.

It is said that Pasavoy is wanted in the Wisconsin city for embezzlement and the police are holding him for a Milwaukee detective who is coming to Omaha for the prisoner.

Elgitter went to Lincoln yesterday and had a talk with the governor about his client, after which he wired to the police that the governor had denied requisition and asked Pasavoy's release.

Pasavoy is being held at the police station, awaiting the official word from the governor. Specialists

Thieves Kill Clerk, Steal $5,000 Worth of Diamonds from Shop

Three Armed Men Escape in Auto and Elude Scores of Pursuers in New York.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Three armed thieves invaded the heart of the tennery at its gayest hour last night, smashed a Sixth avenue jeweler's window, shot his clerk dead, seized $5,000 worth of diamond rings and escaped in a taxicab, pursued by scores of persons who had witnessed the murder and robbery.

A woman, who the police believe was a confederate, entered the store of Jacob Jacoby, a few minutes prior to the shooting, and asked Mr. Jacoby to test her eyes for glasses. While she engaged him the window glass was smashed, and Adolph Stern, a clerk, rushed to the street. A small man with a revolver stopped him at the door. Stern tried to brush past him to get at a man who had poked his hand through the broken window and grasped a tray of diamond rings. The small man shot twice and Stern fell down.

Fassberly saw the man at the window withdraw the tray of rings, tuck it under his coat and dart across the street. He disappeared through the open door of a red touring car and was gone, with half a hundred men pursuing. There, it soon outlanded, but not until the first three numbers on the machine had been noticed. They were hit and constitute the chief clue left for the police.

URICISOL

TRADE MARK

CURES ALL RHEUMATIC DISORDERS AND AIDS THE DIGESTIVE FUNCTIONS

"No man is healthier or stronger than his stomach."

The fact that certain drugs can be relied upon to neutralize uric or lactic acid is well understood. The trouble is, and always has been, that these drugs without exception antagonize and damage the digestive tract, rendering impossible their use for a sufficient length of time to accomplish a cure.

Uricisol Solves the Problem

Uricisol not only effects a cure, in rheumatic disorders, but it does it without disarranging the stomach or any other bodily function.

Both C. Cooper, 11544 Santa Fe, Los Angeles, writes: "Not only Uricisol almost cured me of rheumatism of the heart, but it has also increased my weight and given me an appetite hard to equal."
