New Man to Head the Nebraska Dairy Department

Prof. Frederik Rasmussen, who has been elected professor of dairy husbandry of the University of Nebraska, begins work at his new station September 1. Prof. Rasmussen is a native of Denmark, where he grew up on one of the best dairy farms in the country. Later he came to the United States and graduated from the Iowa Agricultural college in 1906. After his graduation Prof. Rasmussen was instructor in butchery of Purdue university and later became professor of dairy husbandry of the New Hampshire state college at Durham, N. H. Prof. Rasmussen has had wide experience in dairying, under different conditions, having visited Denmark twice since his graduation to study the dairy methods in that country. He is at present acting as inspector of butter for a large order being manufactured for use of the United States navy, and will come to Nebraska as soon as his duties in this connection are ended.

DEMOCRATS AID INSURGENTS

Coalition Pushes La Follette's Wool Bill Through Senate.

FENROSE PREDICTS A VETO

Chairman of Finance Committee Says that President Will Be Justified in Disapproval of Bill Pending Board's Report.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, July 28.—(Special Telegram.)—The adoption of the La Follette compromise to the house wool schedule did not come in the nature of any surprise to those who have been following tactics of the democrats and the insurgent republicans. When the democrats agreed last night in caucus that they would support the house bill first, falling in which they would support La Follette's substitute, the jig was up so far as the regular republicans were concerned. The insurgents had taken control of the senate away from the regular organization.

Fenrose on the Situation.

Senator Fenrose, chairman of the finance committee and leader of the regulars, took the defeat of his forces with his usual calmness. Imperturbably he watched democrats play into La Follette's hands and gave no outward sign of the pent-up feelings within him. After the vote he said to The Bee correspondent that the action of the senate would strengthen President Taft instead of embarrass him, for he expected, if a veto was issued, the wool schedule should reach the chief executive. It would be vetoed on the ground that congress had not had the benefit of the findings of the tariff board, which could not possibly report until next December. It was the opinion of Senator Fenrose that a many, straightforward message concerning the reasons for the veto, would help the president immeasurably and once more show that he is a man of iron, with tenacity of purpose and a wide grasp of conditions.

"My judgment is," said Senator Fenrose, "that Taft will grow bigger and bigger from this, because he has the courage of his convictions, and as for the wool schedule it ought to be vetoed, because the American people have not had a chance to study the question, and they can only have full knowledge of conditions when the tariff board reports. I am still of the opinion that we will get away from Washington not later than August 15, for the democrats will see by that time how futile their hope is that tariff legislation will be enacted in this session."

Senator Brown voted with La Follette on all questions wherein the wool schedule was a factor.

Aid for Crawford.

The house committee on military affairs today ordered a favorable report on the bill to permit the city of Crawford to construct a pipe line across the Fort Robinson military reservation in order to tap the White river above the fort and thus secure more abundant and purer water for its needs. Representative Kinkaid appeared before the committee this morning and made a statement which appeared very convincing, as a short while afterwards the bill was favorably reported. All that Crawford is asking is permission to construct a pipe line across this reservation, being willing to bear all the expense. Representative Kinkaid said this afternoon that he had strong hope that he could pass this bill through the house at this session, and has assurances of the support of Senators Brown and Hitchcock in the upper branch.

Representative Kinkaid today recommended Mrs. Louise I. Montgomery to be postmaster at Rice, McPherson county, to succeed Charles H. Miller, resigned. He also recommended the appointment of H. Clay Robinson as postmaster at Wallace, Lincoln county, vice James S. Robbins, resigned.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Liggett of Hebron, Neb., are in Washington today taking in the sights of the capital. This afternoon Representative Sikes escorted them to the White House to meet President Taft.

OTHER MEETINGS TO BE HELD

Council Meeting Postponed Until Next Thursday—Mrs. MacInnes Suffers Attack from Husband While ill Herself.

In accordance with the notice of the Nebraska Railway commission a meeting of the members of the Live Stock exchange was held yesterday afternoon in the Exchange building to consider the petition of the Union Stock Yards company looking to the advance of prices on hay and corn.

The association decided to appoint a committee to consider the advisability of protest against the advance of prices.

The stock yards company has asked for an advance from $20 to $25 per ton on hay and from $1.00 to $1.25 per bushel on corn. The Traders' exchange will hold a meeting this afternoon at which the same subject will be discussed. It is expected that further action will be taken by the two bodies.

Council Meeting Put Off.

Owing to the long session of the board of review the expected meeting of the city council was postponed from Thursday until next Monday. A meeting had been called for last night in order to have the council vote the $2,000 which will be due on August 1, for interest on the improvement fund.

It was also proposed to put some important improvement ordinances on second reading. City Treasurer Gillin informed the mayor that the Monday meeting of the council would give ample time to the treasurer's office to get the money to the fiscal agents in New York in time for the opening of the new fiscal year.

Mayor Trainor at the meeting took occasion to say that he had instructed the city clerk to send out notices to all who held claims against the city to get them in before the next meeting of the city council.

Husband Attacks Wife.

Mrs. MacInnes, 222 North Twenty-eighth street, sick and destitute with three children to support, was attacked and threatened last night by her husband, Joseph MacInnes, who is said to have just been discharged from the insane ward of the county hospital. To add to the already sad statement which appeared she was evicted from her home yesterday and is now being cared for by the Associated Charities.

Mrs. MacInnes, who is in a delicate state of health, has been making an effort to support herself and three helpless children during the incarceration of her husband in the county hospital.

Wednesday evening, MacInnes came home supposedly cured. Towards dusk the man is said to have made a violent assault and grave threats against his wife. The assistance of the neighbors was invoked and MacInnes was arrested by Detective John Zaleski.

His wife, who is no longer able to work, was taken in charge by the representatives of the Associated Charities and placed in a room where she will be maintained until she is able to work again.

Jerry and His Campaign.

Several members of the packing house listened yesterday noon while Jerry

Howard, candidate for the democratic nomination for sheriff, delivered a touching philippic on his two opponents of whom he said that their heads were filled with more hair oil than brains.

The Honorable Jerry in his dissertation on the follies and foibles of his rival "Doc" Tanner claimed that the "doc" had fought the recall movement tooth and nail until he saw that the wish of the people was too strong for him. Mr. Howard said that when the senator had come to the point in his work on the recall movement where he saw himself a loser he had with admirable foresight and presence climbed into the band wagon and joined heartily in the shouting. Mr. Howard will continue his campaign among the packing house men today and tomorrow.

New Baptist Church.

South Omaha Baptists are jubilant over the determination of the board of trustees to start work at once on the new church at Forty-third and J streets.

The church has been in course of construction for some time and the basement is already completed. The plans contemplate an auditorium and several classrooms for Sunday school. Rev. T. C. Wiley is a study for the pastor. Rev. T. C. Wiley.

It is proposed to make the church one of the most complete in the city from a standpoint of comfort and decoration. Mr. Wiley, the pastor, is especially rejoiced over the fact that the work is being done on a cash basis.

Fire Board Inspects.

The members of the Fire and Police board made the annual trip of inspection to the city fire halls this morning. Chairman of the board, P. J. Trainor, reported the department seemed to be in a most efficient condition as regards equipment and discipline.

The board found that fire hall No. 2 was in need of repairs and it is planned to transfer the equipment and men of the company to one of the new fire halls until the repairs have been made on the old one. The board also found that there would be need of more hose for the new companies about to be installed. It is probable that one new company will be organized August 1. This will add six new men to the roster of the department. Another company will be organized later.

Two Iowa Farmers Bite Hard on Fake Horse Race Game

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 28.—A man who said his name was Morlan and that he was one of two Iowa farmers who mortgaged their homes for a fortune and sent the money to "J. B. Haggin" in Chicago, who was to bet it on a horse race and "clean up" a small fortune, came here today to get $8,000, the amount he put up, and his share of the winnings. He has failed to find "Mr. Haggin."

According to the story told by Morlan, "J. B. Haggin" of Chicago several months ago visited his section of Iowa and made many friends among the farmers. He was especially interested in Morlan and his neighbors. When he returned to Chicago the two often sent him small amounts of money, which "Haggin" would bet on races. The farmers won many times the amount of money they bet.

A short time ago, Morlan said, "Haggin" wrote to him advising him and his neighbor to raise all the money they could, saying he had inside information on a big race and would win a fortune each. The farmers mortgaged their homes for $5,000 each and forwarded the money to "Haggin."

The traders of the Stock exchange will hold a meeting this afternoon at the Live Stock exchange for the purpose of considering the proposed raise in the price of corn and hay.

Misses Neida and Nodie Wolf of Chicago, en route to Colorado, have stopped off in Omaha, the guests of the Misses Miss Katie Tombrink, 1313 North Twenty-fourth street.

Frank Barnhardt, said to have escaped from the Port Crook hospital, was arrested at 4 o'clock this morning by Detective Zaleski. Barnhardt will be detained until the arrival of the post authorities.

J. W. Bowers of Odell, arrived Thursday night for a visit with his sister, Mrs. W. W. Bowers, who is recovering from a surgical operation which underwent another one while he is in the city.

Mayor Trainor, speaking for the Board of Review, denied that the taxes were being raised. He said that the taxes were being raised at the same rate as the previous year. The apparent increase was due to the fact that the board was simply putting the taxes at the same rate as the previous year. The apparent increase was due to the fact that the board was simply putting the taxes at the same rate as the previous year.

Mrs. Agnes Machacek, who died Wednesday afternoon, was buried this afternoon from her late residence, 1214 W. 24th street. Mrs. Machacek was 59 years of age at the time of her death and is survived by her husband, Frank Machacek, and two children.

Chief of Police Briggs, after a pleasant vacation in Iowa and Wisconsin, has returned home to resume his duties at the head of the local police department. During the absence of the chief Captain Hank Kinkaid was acting chief of the department.

The price of hogs continues to advance on the light receipts coming to all the five principal markets, South Omaha being the highest at $6.75. Since the recent general rains the raisers have become confident and are not marketing as heavily as they did when the corn crop is more assured.

TARTARO LIKELY TO RECOVER

Man Shot by Sam Nallis Will Face Federal Charge Should He Get Well.

Carlo Tartaro, the Italian, who was shot Wednesday night by Sam Nallis in a quarrel over the lease of the building at 124 Capitol avenue, is now out of danger, Police Surgeon Harris says.

An operation was performed on the man and the bullet, which went through the abdomen was located. Unless peritonitis results, the Italian will probably live. Should he recover, Tartaro's troubles probably will not be over. It is said the government has a charge to place against him. He is accused of having enticed Alice Fell, a 19-year-old negro girl from Chicago and after getting her here placing her in a respectable house at 1215 Davenport street.

Detectives had been looking for Tartaro, because of this charge. For two days before he was shot by Nallis. His whereabouts was not known.

Tartaro was arrested by Detectives Fleming and Dunn July 23 on information from Chicago that he had seriously cut a man there. He was later released when word came that his victim refused to prosecute.

Suffered With Diarrhoea

For two days I suffered terrible agony with Diarrhoea and Griping pains, when a friend recommended Wakefield's Blackberry Balsam to me and I sent out and got a bottle. The effect it had on me was wonderful. It quickly relieved the pain, quieted me and I went to sleep once again commencing the Balsam. When I woke up I was cured and have not had an attack of the trouble since.

I have been subject to bowel trouble and have tried a good many other remedies with no satisfaction, but this one is just what I needed and I take pleasure in writing you this letter telling of my experience with it. Very truly yours,
R. STACE.

8th and Buffalo Aves., Chicago.

Hundreds of people (grown people and children) are living today who owe their lives to Wakefield's Blackberry Balsam. It has cured hundreds if not thousands of cases of Diarrhoea and summer bowel troubles in the past sixty-five years after other remedies have failed. No over-doses.
