PROTESTS ON FEED CHARGE

National Wool Growers Take Hand in Stock Yards Feed Case.

HEARING ON TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Allegation Made—Recent Rise in Prices of Hay and Corn Does Not Justify Proposed Charges at Stock Yards Market.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, July 31.—(Special.)—Since the Union Stock Yards company of South Omaha made application to the State Railway commission several days ago to change the price of corn to $1.10 per bushel and hay from $20 to $25 per ton complaints galore have come in to the commission, and the hearing on the matter, which is to be held Tuesday afternoon, promises to be lively.

Among the complainants is S. W. McClure of Goehring, Idaho, a prominent grower and secretary of the National Growers' association. Mr. Goehring also represents an organization which has many members in the west, and particularly in this state. The proposed increase, he says, would prove burdensome, especially to owners of single flocks, who have in the past been forced to sell wool at the lowest possible price, and have for years been compelled to get but meager returns from South Omaha markets. The raise, he believes, would work a severe hardship upon them and would make them dispose of their sheep and wool for less than the cost of production.

L. D. Watson & Son of Pilger are sure that the proposed increase is out of reason and they are of the opinion that present prices do not justify the raise. The Pilger men call attention to the fact that when corn was selling for 25 cents per bushel the stock yards people were charging 10c per bushel and now that it is higher they believe it should not be raised to the amount asked. Further, those who have represented against the raise say the recent price of hay does not justify the 5c per ton increase.

Chancellor Avery Returns.
Chancellor and Mrs. Samuel Avery returned today from Pacific coast points, where they have been visiting since the National Educational association meeting adjourned. While in the west the head of the university said he found many former Nebraska men in business and asserted that in spite of the fact most of them had been unusually successful they still maintained a warm spot in their hearts for the old state. The San Francisco Nebraska Alumni association gave the chancellor and his wife an honor dinner while they were in that city and many well known former students of the university were in attendance at the function.

Pardon Denied Pumphrey.

Upon recommendation of E. G. Magill, the only member of the advisory board of pardons sitting in the matter, a pardon has been denied to Charles Pumphrey of Omaha who with two other men was convicted of having a hand in the murder of Hans Fain, a German, in the metropolitan district of Omaha, a member of the board, did not sit in the matter because he was retained as an attorney in the case while it was before the courts.

Magill believed that the commutation to seven years made by Governor Shallenbarger was sufficient, that, with the good time allowance, will make a total term of a little more than five years. The conviction was in the district court in Douglas county in October, 1907.

Committee Talks February.

The republican county committee will meet to discuss the changes in the primary law enacted at the last session of the legislature and to be tried out the first time on August 15. It is the intention of Chairman Heaton to urge upon the members of the committee to be especially vigilant in their efforts to protect members of other parties from voting the republican ticket.

REPUBLICANS WILL HAVE THE AID OF THE NEW ELECTION LAW IN SEEKING TO SECURE THIS END.

That law was closed when the legislature got at the task. Before the open primary law of 1909 any member of one party who wished to vote the opposition ticket had to look ahead almost a year to do so, long before the candidates of the respective parties were placed in the field. They had to register the fall before the primary as belonging to the party whose ticket they desired to vote. In country precincts where no registration exists the use of the challenge was the only way in former years to keep members within their own party, and this will still be the only safeguard. But in the country there will be but little effort to cross over to another party ticket. Such tactics are usually employed in the cities, especially in Omaha and Lincoln.

Mrs. Manker and her three children, all of whom live at Eagle, have heard no word from their husband and father since this letter. They have had no news of his arrest save the press dispatches. Mrs. Manker will not attempt to join her husband until she hears definitely from him as to what the next legal step is to be. It is presumed that he will be removed to Illinois and Mrs. Manker may go there later.

T. R. Adams, stepfather of Mrs. Manker, reiterated today earlier statements to the effect that Mr. Manker was guilty of no intentional wrong, but rather a victim of circumstances and of unfaithful friends and business associates. Mr. Adams was at one time engaged in business with Manker and insists that he is scrupulously honest.

Fred G. Hill of Lincoln Complains Air Hose When Head is Caught.

Saloon Men of Lincoln Get First Decision from District Judge M. Lancaster.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Neb., July 31.—(Special.)—Frank W. Hollingsworth, whose license to operate a saloon in this city was recently revoked by the excise board, scored a temporary victory today when he obtained a writ of mandamus from Judge W. B. Stewart of the district court directing the board to rescind the action which cancelled his license. The writ was served at once and the excise board was not long in meeting and complying with the order of the court. A motion for a new trial in the matter was later overruled, and City Attorney Foster

MAN'S ACTION WAS NOT GREAT SURPRISE TO FAMILY

Man Who Gave Himself Up in California Had Anticipated Purpose in Letter.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Neb., July 31.—(Special.)—News of the voluntary surrender of Carey A. Manker to the San Francisco police as a result of financial troubles in which he became involved at Peas, Ill., and St. Louis did not cause an entire surprise to Mrs. Manker, according to advice which reached this city today. Mrs. Manker, who lives with her stepfather at Eagle, Neb., received a letter from her husband Saturday morning in which he said that he was ready to give up his person to the officers of the law. He announced his intention to surrender within a few days at San Francisco or some other Pacific coast city.

Mrs. Manker answered the letter Saturday, advising her husband at San Francisco. This letter, which Mr. Manker has not yet received, has not been made public.
