The Rourkes came to bath in the seventh inning, and, after two had gone out, Hall saved the day with a perfect three-bagger to the left field fence. Moore followed with a neat single to right and Hall ambled across the place, deadlocking the score.

Sloux City came in for a hit in the eighth with intentions of forcing another run, but Hall settled down and Breen, who had made the hit, died on first. Thomason led off for the Rourkes in the eighth with a pretty infield hit. A stolen base and a hit placed him on third and from there he scored when Stem failed to catch the ball on a throw following Williams' infield hit. In the ninth inning Hall worked hard and the men who faced

In the first inning he kept Sloux City from scoring after two men had gotten on bases by catching the ball about two liches from the ground after a wild chase. In the second inning Stem reached first on an error by Kneaves, but the plucky Omaha shortstop made-up for it on the next play, when he threw Stem out at second after making a circus stop. Niehoff made the only other error in the sixth in-ning, and it cost the Rourkes a run run. Fitzgerald had reached second on a pretty double, when Breen sent a bunt down the
