NEW YORK, Aug. 4 .- Admiral Count Heihachiro Togo, sea fighter and conquerer of the Russian fleet in the Russo-Japanese war, made ready today for the formal amenities of his twelve days' visit to the United States. Admiral Togo reached here late last night from England on the Lusitania and was welcomed down the bay by representatives of the government at Washington and the Japanese government here and brought to this city on the derelict destroyer Seneca.

"When I have seen a little more of your country, I may have a little more to fay," said the admiral, as he made ready to make an official visit to Mayor Gaynor. The admiral was later visited by Mayor him at dinner.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.-Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel company and former president of the United States Steel corporation, faced the house committee of inquiry into the steel corporation today.

He was questioned about the incorporation of the United States Steel corporation; just prior to that he said he was president of the Carnegie Steel company.

The chairman asked Mr. Schwab to tell the whole story about Andrew Carnegie's desire to dispose of his property, the preliminary conference with J. P. Morgan and his part in the plans which developed into the formation of the United States Steel corporation.

"I am very glad of the opportunity," Mr. Schwab began, "once and for all definitely to tell the story about which there have been so many misstatements and so much misinformation. In the fall of 1899, J. Edward Simmons, a prominent New York banker, and Mr. Charles Stewart Smith, tendered me a dinner at the University club. There were present Mr. Morgan, Mr. Carnegie and seventy or eighty prominent New York financiers. There I made an address and chose for my remarks the future development of manufacturing steel in the United States. I explained the great advantage to be gained by the organization of such corporations as United States Steel. There I outlined what became later the steel corporation. I gave my reasons in
