IN LINE FOR THE PRIMARY

Ticket Republicans Will Present for the Voters' Selections.

MAIN CONTEST OVER SHERIFF

Fred Hoye Apparently Leading the Race, with Joe Hummel, Nels Lundgren and Fred Bruning Trailing After.

With the time closed for withdrawals, the lineup for the coming primary is assuming more fixed conditions, as the republican side. On the democratic end things are more or less chaotic, but the makeup of the republican county ticket, with three or four exceptions, is fairly well outlined.

For clerk of the court Robert Smith has an unopposed nomination for a second term, and practically unopposed renominations are assured to Coroner Crosby, Surveyor McBride and County Superintendent Yoder.

What looked like a tug-of-war for county clerk has been settled in favor of the present deputy, Frank Dewey, by the withdrawal of Sam K. Greenleaf the other day. For county judge the general talk is that Police Judge Crawford will have the nomination in a walk against J. T. Dysart, a recent newcomer here, presumed to be taking this means of getting better acquainted.

Contest for Sheriff.

That leaves the offices of sheriff, treasurer, police judge, and possibly county commissioners, to be contested, and the main contention seems to center on the sheriff, for which there are four entries, and in which the stock of Fred Hoye has been steadily going up. Hoye is standing on his record in the city council and as member of the Police board. Unless he is nominated the county ticket would be without any candidate south of Farnam street to attract the voters of the south side to its support. His most active competitor, Councilman Hummel, is marshaling the forces controlled from the city hall, and is backed particularly by the franchised corporations who have enjoyed the favors of the dominant council combine, of which Hummel has been a main factor. The third candidate is Nels P. Lundgren, now a deputy in the sheriff's office, who is counting on Swedish support. The fourth candidate is Fred Bruning, ex-county commissioner, who thinks his sell-out of republicans on the county board entitles him to the sheriff's nomination as a reward.

For treasurer three candidates are bidding: W. G. Ure, formerly the militant member of the county board; D. D. Miller, the well known furniture man, and I. Baisel, one of the deputies. The deputy, E. G. Solomon, had entered the race, but retired, simplifying it to that extent. At this stage the odds seem to favor Ure.

For Police Judge.

The police judgeship looks like a free-for-all with three entries: Charles E. Foster, a young lawyer, once deputy county attorney under Judge Shabugh and for many years officing with Baldrige & DeFord; E. F. Morearty, a police court practitioner, who has ambitions; Charles E. Fields, who publishes the Protector as official organ for the Retail Liquor Dealers, association and once justice of the peace, and H. H. Genua, real estate and law, who tried unsuccessfully for a legislative nomination last year.

The commissioner contests are only beginning to develop. In the district which comprises the north end of the city Henry Ostrom, who served on the county board two terms and the present clerk of the board, is after the nomination, and Frank C. Best, once elected to the legislature and twice defeated, is trying to overtake him. In the country districts the contestants are Harry Reed, former county assessor, living in Dundee; D. E. Kirschenr, present post-

Hot Weather Cracks Many Paving Brick

Fanning Suggests a New System of Inspecting the Brick on the Cars.

Hot weather in June was responsible for much of the difficulty which the city engineer is having now with paving brick. The Purlington vitrified brick block manufactured in Illinois which is used for most of the Omaha pavements is being turned back in car loads because the inspectors for the city are finding so many cracked brick. The cracking was caused to a certain extent by the weather conditions which prevailed at the time of firing the kilns.

Dog Case is Won, but Little Fido is Gone

Mrs. Brown Unable to Get Her Dog After Securing a Court Order.

Isn't it provoking to find that after having been called into justice court for trial and bringing in all your neighbors as witnesses and sitting through two days of sweating heat in a crowded court room to win the case, and when you think you have the prize within your grasp, to have it suddenly disappear. This is what befell Mrs. Flora Brown of 1309 Leavenworth street, who was the defendant in the dog case tried in Justice Leeder's court last week.

When Judge Leeder decided the case in favor of the defendant he gave Constable Mittendorf an order for the dog, which was in the care of a veterinary surgeon. Mittendorf turned the order over to Mrs. Brown, who in turn gave it to her lawyer, Mr. Kuhn. When he went to the doctor to get the dog he found that some one else had been there before him with an order and got possession of the dog.

Constable Mittendorf alleges that Sheriff, the plaintiff in the case, was the one that came to the doctor with an order from some one and received the dog.

The city is protected in any case against individually imperfect brick since every one laid is examined by an inspector right on the ground. He throws away all "culbs" or imperfect brick and only good ones are allowed to be laid.

The brick which have been used for testing carloads are being sent to the city rock pile. Vitrified brick broken up into the proper size make excellent concrete and since many carloads are tested every day the forty specimens taken from each car which are spoiled for other use, count up to a large quantity of material for the rock pile gang to work upon. The city is keeping several carloads ahead of its needs for street work by just using the product of the rock pile and it is being produced at a saving to the city of about 50 cents a ton.

DENY REFUSAL OF ANY AID

Jewish Societies Assert They Were Not Called Upon to Aid Family in Distress.

In the account of the eviction of a family named Huffman the statement that requests for help from the Jewish charity organization had received no attention is denied by the officers of the Associated Jewish Charities, who say that the case was never reported to them at all and that the family, although known, has never been an object of charity. The Associated Jewish Charities extends relief without discrimination to all deserving persons of Jewish faith who are in real need. The inference that help was not forthcoming because of a rule against helping any family of which the father or supporting member is alive is declared entirely incorrect, the only Jewish organization so limited being a Jewish Ladies' Aid society which does sewing for widows and orphans.

ROCK ISLAND TRACKS ARE WASHED OUT IN KANSAS

Trains Are Being Diverted Over the Union Pacific and Burlington Tracks.

The heavy rains of Wednesday night washed out big sections of track of the Rock Island road between Bellair and Phillipsburg, in Kansas, and no trains can be run over the line until at least Sunday, from present reports of the force working there. One train, No. 8, was at Gretna, Kan., the first station this side of Phillipsburg, when the washout occurred and it has not been able to move since the accident.

Trains of the road are being run over the Burlington and Union Pacific lines until the break is repaired.

"We've only one consolation," remarked J. E. Utt, general agent of the road in Omaha, "the rain that hurts the tracks will help the corn."

Seven inches of rain fell in this territory Wednesday night.

Through the energy and resource of Sheriff Bralley and his deputies and office force so much entertainment has been planned for the sheriffs who will assemble here Monday, when the annual conventions of the National Sheriffs' association and the State Sheriffs' association goes into session, that there will scarcely be enough time left to transact the business of the meeting. After the organization of the convention in the morning, an afternoon's enjoyment has been planned for the crime preventers, and in the evening all of them will be initiated into the mysteries of the order of Ak-Sar-Ben, and all will be given special attention when Samson's mill is reached. The Midland Chemical company of Dubuque, Ia., has arranged for entertainment at the Hotel Rome and at the Paxton hotel throughout the convention, and the Stora Brewing company and the Worrel Manufacturing company of St.
