

Council Bluffs SALOON CASE IS SUBMITTED

Judge Wheeler Takes it Under Advice- ment with Briefs.

WALKINGTON MADE DEFENDANT

His Case Covers Three Points at Issue Which Will Decide Mooted Features Under Moon Law in This City.

The saloon cases in which every saloon man in Council Bluffs is interested, and which is to go to the supreme court to determine whether the present fifty-three men engaged in the business shall be permitted to continue or the number be reduced to the number fixed by the Moon law, has been submitted to Judge Wheeler, upon an agreed statement of facts. Which ever way he decides the loser has agreed to appeal to the supreme court at once. The appeal will represent but two saloon men, although every one in the city and county is named by the general list and agreement by which they waive all rights and privileges to carry on the fight. J. F. Walkington was selected yesterday as one of the two and an affidavit was filed by County Attorney Cappel charging him with contempt of court in violating an injunction issued on June 21, 1909, when all the saloon men voluntarily went into court and had themselves enjoined and three days later closed up for one day to begin anew the next.

Walkington is also one of the men to whom the city council issued permits on June 19 of this year, and the case includes this feature, with the additional feature that he was enjoined under the name of Frank Walkington and within a month has transferred his license to J. M. Walkington. His case thus covers about all of the issues raised that can be touched by the contempt proceeding. The case will simply cover the injunction features in which injunction is asked on the ground that the Moon law only permits the existence of one saloon to each 1,000 population, or twenty-nine in the city instead of fifty-three.

The case will go to the supreme court with a full history of every saloon in the city with the facts agreed upon. It was submitted to Judge Wheeler with the briefs of both sides fully completed and ready for filing so that appeal may be taken to the higher court immediately after his opinion is received.

JULY BUSY FOR THE POLICE

Officer Allen Takes Prize by Peculiar Duty at Courtland Beach.

July was a busy month for the Council Bluffs police department, the month ending with a total of 128 arrests credited to the various officers. The largest number was charged up in the drunk column, the footing showing a total of seventy-five. The vagrants came next with twenty-five and the same number of persons were held for investigation. Eleven were arrested for disorderly conduct, ten for disturbing the peace, ten for violating city ordinances, the majority being automobile speeders, five for larceny and five for drunk and disorderly. The remainder were distributed over a long list of offenses, few of which were serious. There was a remarkable absence of serious offenses.

The wide range of activities of the members of the department started early in the month with a remarkable feat performed by Officer Allen while on duty at Courtland beach. A young woman, while attempting to bend down to pick up a woman's silver purse forced the frame of the purse over half a dozen of her front teeth, the narrow metal edges slipping between the teeth and becoming locked there by the spring of the metal. She could not release it nor could any of her companions. She was in great pain and the blood was flowing from the lacerated gums. Then her friends told her trouble to the policeman. Among the numerous odd instruments attached to the key ring he found one that could be used to spread the purse frame and break the wedding grip on the young woman's teeth. In addition to such things as this the officers investigated and reported six accidents, prevented one suicide, frustrated one burglary and reported eight others, posted nine contagious disease signs, took four dead bodies to the morgue and one to the home, three of which were found by members of the department; reported 211 dead animals, suppressed seventy-five disturbances without arrest, reported sixty-eight nuisances, recovered eleven packages of stolen property, stopped eight runaway horses, returned lost children to their parents, cared for five sick and injured persons at the station, caught two runaway boys, and did many other things.

FAST GAME NEXT SUNDAY

Merchants, with New Pitcher, Will Try to Take Heat in Rowing Association.

The Council Bluffs Merchants will play the Council Bluffs Rowing association base ball team Sunday afternoon at Athletic Park in the Bluffs.

The Merchants will be strengthened by having Pitcher Smith of South Omaha, one of the leading pitchers of the Tri-Cities. He was with the Shamrocks all summer. The Sailors have the best record of any team in the Tri-Cities having won seven straight games this season.

This is one of a series of three games to be played for the championship of Council Bluffs. The Sailors will have their mainstay, Peterson, in the box for them. A large crowd of rooters will turn out to see the best team win.

The Sailors think because they have been winning and the Merchants have been playing in hard luck, they will wipe them up next Sunday afternoon. Each team will have its best lineup for this game.

THE STORY OF 1847-1850-1850 OR THREE WEEKS PAY.—Goes on to relate that if you have solved the problem in dollars by placing ten of them away every month for the 31 months and getting $100 interest you have 1,000 dollars or 100 more than the average earner has three weeks after pay day. If you have saved this once you can do it again. One of the best methods is to place your money where funds are safely invested in first mortgage security and earning six per cent. Do it now. Arthur Brown was placed under arrest last evening, charged with the larceny of a fine diamond ring belonging to Mrs. Robinson. Brown was found by Constable Humphrey at the residence of a neighbor, and was well acquainted with the environment of the cow. His arrest was made on the evidence of a neighbor, O. E. Stevey, who said he had seen Brown driving the cow across the Douglas street bridge one morning about 4 o'clock.

During the thunderstorm at 1 o'clock yesterday morning lightning flashed along the main feed wire in the dining room and dormitory building at the Christian home and spread over the building on the electric light wires. The main chandelier in the dining room was knocked down and the woodwork of the ceiling where it was attached was set on fire. The firemen were called and laid 600 feet of hose, but only a small quantity of water was thrown. Except for the wrecking of heating fixtures the damage was immaterial.

On the eve of his departure for his summer vacation in the wild west J. J. Hughes gave a stag party Wednesday night for his friends. It was very informal as well as very pleasant. The only unpleasant feature was the rainstorm that came before the guests were ready to depart and made it necessary to secure automobiles to take them home. Among those who were present were John P. Organ, George F. Hughes, Pat McBride, Charles F. Pachel, C. D. Walters, James Michener, Herman Schurz, Charles L. Kendrick and Will Jenkins.

Constable Humphrey went to Omaha yesterday afternoon and caused the arrest of Tom Etherington, accused by the Iowa Land and Loan company with delinquency in connection with contested property. Etherington was found at 1812 1/2 street and consented to return without a requisition. Immediately after his arrest Constable Humphrey went to 1505 Avenue A and placed John Reynolds under arrest upon a warrant charging him with disturbing the peace, and immediately afterward went to the residence of a neighbor, where he arrested on a warrant charging assault and battery, making four arrests during the afternoon.

A gas explosion that badly frightened but did not injure L. Olson, residing at Avenue C, occurred at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning when he entered his cellar and struck a match. A volume of flame burst from the cellar door and the room and made it uncomfortably warm for Olson. The force of the explosion was all above his head and the expanding atmospheric gases found easy egress through the open doors and windows. This prevented any damage to the building. A fire alarm was turned in and the firemen climbed from Olson sitting on his front porch pain from the explosion. The house is owned by G. B. Hardell.

During the vacation period the lad has manifested a disposition to get away from parental restraint and has frequently run away from home. Judge Snyder continued his hearing until August 12, with orders for the boy to report regularly to Mr. Harns. If he manifests a willingness to attend his school he will be released, but if he is taken but otherwise he may be sent to the state reform school.

E. A. Morehouse of Morehouse & Co. yesterday began suit in the district court against the Council Bluffs Savings bank and the Embossing company to recover three checks for $250 each, which the bank is holding for the co-defendant. Each note is for $250. Morehouse claims that the notes were obtained by fraud and were without consideration. He asserts that he purchased from the Embossing company a process for embossing printing without the use of plates upon the representation that it was the exclusive property of the company and that he should have the sole right to use it in Polkville, Iowa. He now alleges that the embossing com-

American Flags Are Taken Down in London

Protests from Citizens Cause Chairman of "Old Boys" Association to Change Decorations.

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 4.—As a result many protests from citizens, Alderman Mitchell, chairman of the decoration committee of the London "Old Boys" association today ordered down all American flags which had been included in street decorations.

Poles along the main streets had been draped with bunting and on top of each were four Canadian and four American flags, the latter being included because many of those returning to their home town for the "Old Boys" celebration are now residents and citizens of the United States. Alderman Mitchell's action was sustained by the East London Progressive association. During the discussion members said they had been compelled, while visiting in Detroit, to remove Canadian flags which they were wearing on their coats. One member said that he saw the American flag cheered and the Union Jack hissed while in a theater there.

Lord Gets Fine.
CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Word was received here tonight from President Johnson of the American league that a fine of $50 had been imposed upon Captain Harry Lord of the Chicago team for misconduct in the second game of last Saturday's double-header in New York.
