Nebraska Woman Who Speaks Ten Languages

Mrs. E. A. Russell of Ord, Neb., was one of the first persons in the United States to become convinced that the nations of the world, each with its separate language, should have one language in common by which to carry on their international affairs.

And so she began the study of Esperanto, the universal language invented by Prof. Zamenhoff of Warsaw, Poland, about five years ago, even before text books and readers in the language arrived in this country, sending for them to London. When she had mastered Esperanto, Mrs. Russell started a club for the study of the language in Ord, and from that sprang up many clubs throughout the state, one of the most enthusiastic of which is the Omaha Esperanto society, of which her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Howard, has been secretary since its beginning three years ago.

Mrs. Russell, who is a New England Yankee hailing from New Hampshire, has as many languages at the end of her tongue as she has fingers—for she knows ten different languages—her native English, the Latin and French, which she studied in her school days, and German, Welsh, Swedish, Danish, Spanish, Esperanto, and another universal language, Adamu. Mrs. Russell is also an active club woman, being secretary of the Ord Daughters of the American Revolution and ex-president of the Woman's club.

Mrs. Russell is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Howard, and is looking forward to the picnic which the Esperanto are going to hold in Hanscom park August 13.

MRS. E. A. RUSSELL.

Track Washed Out Between Holbrook and Cambridge

Train Service Over Burlington from Hastings Blocked—From Six to Nine Inches of Rain.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 5.—(Special Telegram.)—Train service on the Burlington between Hastings and McCook is practically blocked as a result of many rains in that section of the state. All eastbound trains into this city are from eight to twelve hours late. Between Holbrook and Cambridge 2,000 feet of track is reported washed out and similar reports are coming in from the Burlington's line between Oxford and Superior. While facts as to the amount of rain which fell in western Nebraska and the Republican valley are not ascertainable on account of the wires being down, it is known that between six and nine inches have fallen in the last twenty-four hours in that section. Rock Island trains, which have been detained via the Union Pacific to Denver since Wednesday night's rain will be sent over the Burlington as soon as the main line west from this city is again in operation. Reports from northwestern territory show that between one and one and a half inches of rain fell last night along its line from Linwood to Harvard.

GRANDSTAND NEARLY DONE

One of Most Impending Structures on State Fair Grounds, on the Race Track.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Aug. 5.—(Special.)—The grandstand at the state fair grounds, over which there was much discussion and considerable bickering out at the close of the last session of the legislature because of the reticence of the house to allow a $100,000 appropriation therefor, is no wearing completion. The amount finally appropriated by the state for the structure was $120,000, the balance of the cost of the stand coming out of the pockets of the State Fair association.

The new grandstand is one of the most imposing structures on the fair grounds and was spoken of by one man who saw it for the first time as being "as big as all out-of-doors." It will cost when completed $25,000 and will seat almost as many people and to as good advantage as the Iowa grandstand, which cost $100,000. Four miles of main line are in its construction. It is 440 feet long, 30 feet wide and will seat comfortably 4,000 people. The roof is forty-six feet above the ground. The frame is of steel, while the roof and superstructure are of wood.

The judge has not passed upon the matter yet, but is holding the case under advisement until he learns the facts more fully.

KIDNAPING CASE IS DISMISSED

Evidence Against C. F. Dooley of Wynmore Is Not Sufficient to Hold Him.

WTMORE, Neb., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—The charge of kidnaping against C. F. Dooley was dismissed yesterday when the case was called for trial in Judge Crawford's court. County Attorney McElroy recommended that action because of insufficient evidence. There is also much doubt that Dooley is the right man or that a crime had been committed. Last Monday a man thought to be Dooley took the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Shimerdia into his buggy and drove off with her. Women who saw the act tried to stop Dooley and falling told Mr. Shimerdia that his daughter had been kidnaped. A party started in pursuit, but failed to find Dooley. The little girl showed up about an hour later crying, and was unable to tell what had happened.

Dooley was arrested the next day at Liberty near where he lives. He was brought here and arraigned, pleaded not guilty and released under $500 bond. He says that he did not take the girl riding, but that his brother might have. The little girl says that the man she saw took her a few bloody days and let her out near the stores up town and gave her four pennies to buy gum with. She was not harmed.

CRABTREE CALLS FOR CASH

Asks Secretaries of Board of Health to Turn All Money Into State Treasury.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Aug. 5.—(Special.)—Following the pace set by other departments to hasten in under the provisions of the General accounting law enacted at the late session of the state legislature, State Superintendent J. W. Crabtree, as secretary of the State Board of Health, has requested the board of secretaries of the State Board of Health to turn all cash coming into their possession into the state treasury within thirty days of its receipt, all expenses to be paid therefrom by voucher through the office of the governor's chief clerk, Lou Fierabend, who latter construction one of Superintendent Crabtree's own.

The new act has lately been compiled with by the different departments which formerly handled their own cash and which after paying bills turned the balance over to the state treasury, after retaining such amounts as it needed to supply a working fund for the month.

other places of interest. If the snow isn't too deep they expect to drive their car to the top of Pike's Peak. Two years ago this summer they spent three months touring through most of the eastern states and part of Canada in the same car. Dr. and Mrs. Young of this place will accompany them on their Colorado trip in their car.

Pemberton Will Case Is Decided

Judge Day Decides that Adopted Son Is Not Entitled to Tract Willed to Mrs. Pemberton's Nephew.

BLAIR, Neb., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—A short session of the district court was held here on Thursday afternoon for the hearing of a few cases in equity, and the rendering of a decision by Judge Day, in the Pemberton will case, which has created more than general interest in this county and may yet be carried to the supreme court. The sitting of four district judges on the bench at the same time is without precedent in this county. Judge Troup, who has the assignment to this part of the district, was accompanied by Judge Day for the above will case and Judge Kennedy and Redick, who were invited to the bench through courtesy. In 1853, before the laws of adoption in Nebraska were in effect, the late Attorney John Y. Redick of Omaha, drew up a contract for George C. Pemberton, a will to adopt a son, if Mr. Pemberton, a well-to-do farmer, living near Arlington, in which he agreed with the mother of a small boy to adopt the child and make him his heir.

The Pembertons had no children and the boy, known as Thad Pemberton, grew to manhood, and went west for several years, returning upon the death of his adopted father, who left no will and claimed the estate under the contract making him the heir. The estate consisted of 240 acres of valuable land and considerable money, held by Pemberton and his wife, Mrs. Pemberton, also owned forty acres of land and a residence property in her own name in Arlington. At her death, she willed to a nephew, a son of her brother, the forty acres of land held in her name. The property in Arlington she gave to Thad Pemberton.

Mrs. Pemberton's brother, Mr. Swort, is almost blind and a cripple, so bad as to be almost helpless of every moderate means, owning a small fruit farm in Michigan. Mr. Swort, the brother, who once lived in Arlington, was present with his son, a small boy, who inherited the forty acres. At court last spring, when Thad Pemberton entered suit to contest the boy's title to the land. A great deal of sympathy was created here and in Arlington for the boy and his father in their hard fight for the small part of the estate left to them. Judge Day decided in favor of the boy and his father. The claiming of this small portion of the estate by Pemberton, who had received so much, is generally deemed a feature of the case. A decision rendered, in which was involved a contract written by his father forty-eight years ago.
