Prices of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade. CHICAGO, Aug. 8-11 was a tricky speculative market today in wheat. The trade was filled with selling orders to catch an expected higher opening. A quick break resulted, and notwithstanding canadian fears of frost as well as rusi the close was 3%6% under last night. Latest trading left corn 3%6% to %c up, oats ir regular %c lower to 3%6% to %c up, oats ir regular %c lower to 3%6% to %c up, oats ir regular %c lower to 3%6% to ighe and pro-visions varying from 7%6% de decline to 7% advance. Der down as an advance, but practically it amounted to nothing; as the selling orders instead of a bulke. September fluctuated between 2% c and 25% c, closing easy 3% down at 25%. Corn traders feared bullish crop figures from Washington. September ranged from 6%5%6%4% to 6%c, and closed firm 3%6% c for hog products. Pork closed 5c lower to 75c up, lard down 25 to 75g30c and ribs at a shade to 5675c decline. The leading futures ranged as follows:

A rather short supply sold readily on this basis and clearance was early as well as casy. Receipts consisted of only 106 cars, the run carrying the usual proportion of heavy sow stat. Quality on an average was none too good. Both local and outside traders entered the market in active fashion and compe-titive orders from shippers enabled the selling side of the trade to score gains with greater case than would have been possible had shippers' support been lack-ing, About 25 per cent of receipts moved through channels other than local pack-ing, quality in grades getting general pre-forence.

The big end of supply landed at a spread of $7.3067.35. Premiums were allowed for bacon weights and best hogs weighing around 200 pounds reached $7.55. This price is only a split nickel under February s top and stands far above any limit made since that month.
