BOYLES COLLEGE
OPENS MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 4TH.

Now let's consider some indisputable facts about BOYLES COLLEGE: BOYLES COLLEGE has an enrollment now and has had during the entire year, 1910-1911, of more Omaha students and more out of town students, than all other Omaha business colleges. It simply could not have done this unless it had proved itself the best business college in Omaha.

BOYLES COLLEGE BUILDING

Is kept absolutely clean at all times by means of vacuum cleaners; the rooms are aired with sanitary odorless preparation which absorbs the dust; the supply of air is constantly refreshed by the Pullman system of ventilators; there is light, bright, wholesome sunlight everywhere; sanitary drinking fountains have been installed, and individual drinking cups are provided for those who desire them. The free gymnasium is a big, airy room well equipped with apparatus for exercise.

SCHOOL AND COLLEGE NEWS

High School and College as They Compare in Influence.

PROBLEM IN EDUCATION IS UP

What is Necessary to Get the Best Results for All the Young Folks is the Question.

A few years ago in the rivalry between the high school and the college, the college had the better of it, and a commission with President Eliot at its head "articulated" the high school on the college. It was the needs of the college which was in mind, and the high schools were authoritatively told what they should teach and how much. The colleges set the standard; they dictated the subjects, even selecting the texts in English literature to be taught. The college was master; the high school was servant.

Education we possess. It is the chief real education of the most of our people. Real education begins in the high school. Its tremendous development will not be stayed, and it must supply what the bulk of the people need. To be sure it does not give a complete education, and the chief leaders of public life, our thinkers and guides, will be those pre-eminently who have passed from the high school on to the college and university. Education has no limit, but for the bulk of the people the high school will rest on it. For a comparatively small number of its graduates of exceptional ambition or opportunity it will open a narrow door by which to pass up to higher halls of study, but for the multitude it will open a broad gateway into the activities of life. No limit can be set to its development, certainly no limit can be set by the college.

BROSS PRIZE FOR WRITERS.

Trustees of Lake Forest University Announce Second Decennial Prize.

In 1878 the late William Bross of Chicago, lieutenant governor of Illinois in 1860-70, desiring to leave a permanent memorial of his son, Nathaniel Bross, who had died in 1854, entered into an agreement with the trustees of Lake Forest university "whereby there was finally transferred to the trustees a large sum of money, the income of which was to accumulate perpetuity for successive periods of ten years, the accumulations of one decade to be spent in the following decade, for the purpose of stimulating the production of the best books or treatises "on the connection, relation and mutual bearing of the practical sciences, or the history of our race, or the facts in any department of knowledge, with and upon the Christian religion."

In his deed of gift the founder had in view "the religion of the Bible, composed of the Old and New Testaments of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, as commonly received in the Presbyterian and other evangelical churches." His object was "to call out the best efforts of the highest talent and the ripest scholarship of the world, to illustrate from science or any department of knowledge, and to demonstrate, the divine origin and the authority of the Christian scriptures; and, further, to show both science and revelation coincide, and to prove the existence, the providence, or any or all of the attributes of the living and true God, infinite, eternal and unchangeable in His being, wisdom, power, holiness, justice, goodness and truth."

The scope of the gift is thus so comprehensive that any phase of science, of literature, of human history, or of modern life, that may throw light upon the Christian religion, or upon any phase of the same, as it is received by the great body of Christian believers, would be a fitting theme for a book offered in the competition for the prize announced in the next section.

submitted in typewriting. If the competitor prefers to submit his manuscript in printed form, he is at liberty to do so, provided the book has not been published. Prospective authors of books on any of the mentioned lines, who might otherwise expect to publish such books about January, 1915, may, if they so desire, send in the proof sheets of such books for this competition, provided the following conditions are complied with, viz:

- 1. That the proof sheets be anonymous.
- 2. That the books remain unpublished until the award is made.
- 3. That the author arrange with his prospective publisher to transfer the copyright to the Lake Forest authorities, in the event of his book receiving the Bross prize.

In addition to the Bross prize, the trustees, in pursuance of the donor's purpose, instituted the Bross lectureship, from time to time inviting distinguished scholars to give courses of lectures at Lake Forest college, such lectures having been published and forming, with the prize books, volumes of "The Bross Library." The Bross lectures thus far have been President Francis Landley Patton, D. D., of Princeton seminary; the late Prof. Marcus Dods, D. D., of New College, Edinburgh; Prof. J. Arthur Thompson, M. A., of the University of Aberdeen; and Frederick Jones Bliss, Ph. D., of Beirut, Syria. The next series of Bross lectures will be given at Lake Forest college in November, 1911, by Prof. Josiah Royce, Ph. D., of Harvard university.
