GOOSE EGGS FOR THE ROURKES

By Superior Playing Pueblo Takes the Game by a Score of 5 to 0.

DAVIS SUSTAINS A BROKEN LEG

Fielder for the Orphans' While Sliding to the Third Base, Meets with a Bad Accident and is Carried off Field.

Jackson, a tall ungainly looking indidual, known as the star twirler of the cueblo Orphans, dished out a beautiful assortment of goose eggs to the Rourkes resterday afternoon in the first battle of the series, winning the game for the Isbell crowd by a 5 to 0 score.

There was nothing doting from the besinning to end for the home boys. Everyone who stepped to the plate looked the same to Jackson. He bewildered the Colts with his mysteries and sent eight of them to the bench by the strike out route. Even the best Rourke hitters, such as Kane. Thomason and Williams, were unable to to better than get one hit. Pop-ups and casy grounders were about the best that could be sent out. He sure had the spitter breaking for fair and it continued to break until the end of the game. But one thing spoiled the game for the fans, this being in the seventh inning when "Lefty" Davis, the Pueblo right fielder, broke his left teg just above the ankle in a slide to third bag.

Leg Doubles Up and Breaks. Davis came to bat with two men bases in the seventh. He hammered the first ball hit to the left field fence. He made second base easy and in trying to stretch it into a three-bagger, slid for third. His left leg doubled up under him, snapping in two. He was taken from the field to a local hospital.

Demott, who was on the firing line for the Rourkes, pitched stellar ball for the first six innings, not giving the Orphans a run, but in the seventh he was found for two bits, which netted the first two runs of the game. In all eight hits were garnered off Demott's delivery. He fanned one man and did not pass a man during lyn the entire time. The most of the hits made off Demott were not dangerous, but five of these were doubles.

during the entire game, it being the first time such an incident has occurred on the home grounds this season.

Taking the game as a whole, it was the best one which has been played in the last five games played at home.

Pueblo put up a classy article of ball and won the game on superior playing. McKee and "Buck" Weaver were there to do the umpiring and they got away of the fans. McKee worked at balls and ball: By Fugate, I. Double plays: Giffin strikes and made a good job of it. He got the players to work better than any umpire has done this year. The game took up but one hour and forty minutes of time. "Buck" was watching the bases and also got away good. Score:
