AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Friends of Charles E. Bogart Learn with Surprise of His Death.
WELL KNOWN AT STOCK YARDS.
Frank Bates Arrested Because He Was Too Persistent in Starting in Vicinity of Sixteenth and H Streets.

Old timers at the Union Stock Yards were shocked at the news of the death of Charles E. Bogart, a hog inspector at the yards. Mr. Bogart was one of the oldest members of the Live Stock exchange and had been in the stock trade in this section of the country. He was well known by the shippers throughout the United States. His home was in Omaha, from which place his body will be sent to Chicago for interment. The body will be buried Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Frank Bates was arrested Monday night in the vicinity of Sixteenth and H streets as a suspicious character. The man was observed near the Monroe home at Sixteenth and H streets several times during the evening. A Vancove, a neighbor of the Monroe family, gave chase to the prowler, who fled, only to reappear at the same place a little while later. He was said to have made an effort to raise the windows of the Monroe residence.

John Killelea Died.
John Killelea of Twenty-eighth and D streets died at his residence this morning after a lingering illness. Mr. Killelea, the time of his death was only 25 years of age. Death was due to kidney trouble. He is survived by his wife and a young child.

Veteran Judge is Dead.
While the precinct election officers were engaged in counting the ballot that was to determine whether or not his successor should be elected, Judge King died at his home in South Omaha. During his long residence here he is said to have enjoyed the confidence and respect of all classes and creeds. He held the office of police judge for many years, and it is said might have continued in office for a longer period except for the encroachments of the disease that finally sapped his life.

Edwin Gould Yields

When Frank Presents Ultimatum on Road Conflict in St. Louis Southwestern Railway Averted by Agreement to Do Away with One-Man Power.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 16.—Edwin Gould has averted a conflict in the St. Louis Southwestern railway, according to information from New York current here, by acceding to a demand from Frank Jay Gould for a stronger representation in the company, and it also was said that Frank Jay Gould and R. Lancaster Williams of Baltimore, his banker, will be elected to the railroad's directorate some time this autumn. The ultimatum was presented to Edwin by Frank in Europe.

Frank told his brother, Edwin, that the Gould family desired to avoid trouble in the St. Louis Southwestern similar to that encountered in the Missouri Pacific and he, for one, was no longer willing to trust to one-man power.

For months it has been the confident belief of financiers that the Illinois Central longed to buy the St. Louis Southwestern and that negotiations had gone so far that Edwin had fixed a price. The probable effect of Frank's move will be the prevention of the purchase of the St. Louis Southwestern by the Illinois Central.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Directors of the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad company and the Iowa Central Railway company, "Haywire" roads, in annual meeting today elected Newman Erb president of both companies. Mr. Erb recently acquired a large interest in the properties. Announcement was made that the Minneapolis & St. Louis road would be extended to the Canadian border, affording to the two Canadian roads now being built to the Pacific an entrance into Minneapolis and St. Paul.

RUSH FOR NEW CATALOGUES.
Beginners in Booklovers' Contest Feel They Must Use Book.
GAME TO BE BETTER THAN FIRST.

Interest in Growing Rapidly and Indications Point to Entrance of Thousands of Contestants Before Long.
If you could have seen the way in which contestants rushed into the office of The Bee yesterday to secure title catalogues for beginning the second Booklovers' contest you would have declared that this game is going to be by far the best of any ever conducted in the west. You would have guessed that the first one would be outdone by many points. Yes, the contestants came into the office in droves.

People from out of the city have written many letters to the contest editor within the last two days inquiring about this second contest and asking whether they would be permitted to enter. The territory for this game is the same as it was for the first, and the contest will be much more interesting. The same number of pictures are to be printed, but the prize list is much more attractive.

Triple Votes Thursday

Thursday, August 17th, every vote in The Bee's Ad-Get-ter Contest will count triple. The contest closes Saturday, August 19th, at 6 p. m. Now is the time to run up your standing.
