Beisel Makes Gain in Today's Canvass

Canvassing Board Continues Work of of several towns of the county. Going Over Votes Cast at the Primaries. Beisel gained stateen more votes on W. G. Ure for the republican nomination for treasurer by the official canvass of returns from the First precinct of the Sixth ward at Wednesday morning's sitting of the canvassing board. He still is about 150 votes behind Ure. The canvaes of the Fifth of the Sixth showed no change from the unofficial returns; but the board noted that the sum of the votes for all candidates for sheriff is 74, while there are but 153 names on the poll book. Some clerical error is supposed to be responsible for the discrepancy. It is practically certain that Belsel and Joe B. Hummel, defeated candidates for treasurer and sheriff, will demand a court of the ballots. Therefore the canvassing board figures, not being final, are not considered as important at this time. In examining the poll book of the First precinct of the Fifth ward Tuesday afternoon the board found that the judges and clerks did not show the vote, tally by tally, in the book. For each candidate the book showed tallies in the first tally column and the last. The board took this as meaning that the spaces between should be considered as filled with tally marks and recorded the vote accordingly. It corresponds with the unofficial clerk's return of the

The board adjourned to Wednesday morning after completing the canvass of the Fifth ward.
