FRANK GOTCH HAS NEW HOLD Ankle and Thigh Lock Said to B Superior to Famous Toe Hold.

Hold.

HOMBOLDT, Ia., Aug. 25.—Frank Gotch will not depend on his famous toe-held to defeat Hackenschmidt at Chicago Labor day, according to statements made at the Gotch camp here today. The champion is said to have a new hold, which is styled the "ankle and thigh lock." While its exact detail has not been made public, a camp follower said today:

"It has the toe hold looking like a plugged nickel. Besides, it is easier to execute. Gotch need only to exert one pound of pressure to get fourteen pounds of strain on the subject of his attack on the knee and that one pound of pressure on the thigh joint is equal to twenty-two pounds of strain."

SEVEN ENTER GOLF TOURNEY

Lists of Amateur Meet Close.

Golf Association Drops Hint to Ultra-

Amateurs Not to Congest Course When They Have No Chance to Qualify.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.-Entries for the amateur golf championship do not close until Monday, September 4, yet there are seven names on the list to date. These include Secretary Robert Watson of the United States Golf association.

On August I the executive committee of the United States Golf association sent out a circular to all clubs urging that incompetents should be asked to stay away. The dictum was not expressed so bluntly as this. Instead, after calling attention to the 208 contestants who appeared last year township yesterday before a large number and marred everything by congesting the course, the committee proceeded with this dijpiomatic utterance:

"The United States Golf association invites and welcomes to the contest any player who has a chance to qualify, but the committee desires to avoid the uncomfortable congestion of the course and the possible necessity of requiring a preliminary elimination round on the Saturday preceding the week of the tournament. "To that end the committee asks the officers of the several clubs of the association to say to their members that in consideration of the best interests of the game and of the success of the tournament none should enter who has not a reason able chance of qualifying and that it is inconsistent with the spirit of a true perience of playing over the course." If the plan falls to work and a preliminary elimination round is ordered, the congestion so baieful last year will not be in evidence, yet the surplus entry will stretch out the tournament another day and bring extra work on the committee. With 300 and an extra elimination round the tournament will be a great playing success. Should it fall to come up to ex-

Ralph Newell Puts Out Red and Gan

Club's Hope, Joe Adams, Who Found Conditions Far Beyoud His Control.

Leo Wilson and Ralph Newell of the Omaha Young Men's Christian association park tennis band effectually captured all the honors of the championship singles in the semi-finals of the inter-club tournsment at the Rod and Gun club courts Friday. The championship which iles between the two will be played off this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Newell put out the Rod and Gun club's last hope in the tournament, see Adams, the champion of the club, but like other hopes Adams found circumstances beyond his control. Newell played a great game, outelassing Adams, who did not play up bis standard.

The first set went to the "Y" man, 5-3, and was the hardest fought of any of the matches. Newell's quick cut on the ball was hard of judgment and Adams found lenty of trouble in handling it. Adams played the ball deep back in the court on the majority of his shots, but Newell was too active to be caught. Adams possessed the net a good part of the time, obbing the ball with careful shots to seep Newell working from the back line.

Newell Plays Steadily.

The second and third sets Adams played the ball with greater speed and a little recklessly, but Newell steadily worked his way to victory by carefully returning the ball into the middle of the court and allowing the younger player to lose his own game by misjudged shots to the
