DEADWOOD IS FIGHTING TO SECURE LOWER RATES

Effort Will Be Made to Bring Out in Freight that Comes from Pacific Coast.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Aug. 31.—(Special.)—Discrimination of freight rates against this city is to be taken up next month at Omaha by State Railroad Commissioners W. G. Smith of Sturgis, backed by the local business men's club and merchants. One particular complaint is in the matter of fresh fruits shipped in here from the state of Washington. A table compiled shows the discrimination, it being $14.50 cheaper to ship a car of fresh fruit to Omaha from Kansas City and other eastern points than it is to ship it in here. This table also shows that fruit can be shipped cheaper to New York City from Washington than to Black Hills points. Potatoes from western Montana will be shipped in here in large quantities next month and Commissioner Smith will endeavor to secure a lower rate for these shipments.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL MEN HERE

Freight Traffic Manager and Others Out on Inspection Tour.
"While I have never been here before I am impressed with Omaha and the great amount of business that it transacts," remarked W. D. Longstreet, freight traffic manager of the Illinois Central Railroad over the western divisions of the Ill. Central system and is accompanied by J. S. Brown, general freight agent, Chicago, and L. A. Downs, superintendent of the Iowa division, with headquarters at Fort Dodge.

The Illinois Central men arrived in the city Thursday morning, coming down from Sioux City, and at once went to the Union stock yards, where they spent a greater portion of the forenoon, meeting the live stock men and packers of South Omaha. Then they came back to Omaha, inspected the terminals and met a number of the business men.

As spokesman for the party, Freight Traffic Manager Longstreet said: "Our trip at this time has no significance whatever. We are simply out getting acquainted with the people along the lines of road. So far as I am concerned I know nothing relative to a strike of the Illinois Central shopmen, aside from what I have learned by reading the newspapers. I can't say whether or not there will be a strike and if one should be called I am unable to even express an opinion as to how long it would continue and what it might result in."

"When this was opposed Speaker Clark offered as a compromise a resolution milder in language but having the same general object.

"Mr. Underwood opposed both these resolutions.
"Mr. Bryan's informant took an active part in the caucus and in giving the information which led to the preparation of the resolution as Mr. Bryan first stated, on the authority of the Omaha World-Herald.

"It is strange that Mr. Underwood, in denouncing Mr. Bryan was not candid enough to admit that Mr. Clark introduced the resolution.

"The issue, then, is not one of fact, as Mr. Underwood would have it appear, but a difference as to conclusions. Why did Mr. Underwood oppose the preparation of an iron and steel schedule at this season, or until after the president acted? The fact that he asked the committee to revise him of embarrassment by reporting a bill in the beginning of the extra session is evidence of good intent at the beginning, but is not conclusive as to his reasons for favoring delay at the close of the session.

Opinion Still Same.
"Those who have confidence in Mr. Underwood may accept his reasons at their face value, but Mr. Bryan does not have confidence in him and does not accept his reasons. Mr. Bryan believes him tainted with protection and regards his selection as chairman of the committee as unfortunate. The committee will have more work to do next winter. Mr. Bryan will be pleased if Mr. Underwood's conduct next winter proves him a real opponent of the principle of protection, but Mr. Bryan does not expect such proof to be furnished."

In this wise Mr. Bryan declares that several mistakes were made by the democratic house. One was putting a tariff on raw wool, another in adjoining without substituting an amendment for direct election of senators, another in not passing an anti-trust bill, and another in permitting a secret caucus to control legislation. Greatest of all, he puts down the making of Underwood chairman of the ways and means committee. "It is not a thorough-going tariff reformer, and the environment is against progressive democracy. The party has a right to expect that a positive and aggressive opponent of the whole protective policy should be placed at the committee's head. The mistake has already cost the party dearly," he says.

Replying to the request of the Jacksonian club of Omaha asking him to lend his aid in nominating Woodrow Wilson, Mr. Bryan says:
"Mr. Bryan acknowledges with appreciation the compliment paid. He recognizes the merit and popularity of Governor Wilson, but is not yet prepared to discuss the relative strength of those who can be classed among available. Mr. Bryan has but one desire in the matter, namely that the best man may be chosen. He has hesitated to argue any one man over others, because
