Sealed bids will be received at the office of the secretary of state, at Lincoln, Nebraska, until noon, September, 8, 1911, for the construction of two hospital buildings

Hogs-Receipts of hogs this morning were extremely light, the run being the smallest for a Monday since the first of the year. The market was fully 5c higher and while the trade could not be described as exactly active, there were so few hogs in sight that practically everything was cleaned up in a very short time. A considerable proportion of all the hogs in sight sold at $7.15w.20, as against $7.1097.15 on Saturday. There was not a single load of good light hogs in the yards to make a top, but there was a piece good enough to bring $7.35. Everything was sold and weighed up at an early hour, the trade the construction of two hospital buildings for the insane at Lincoln asylum. OMAHA LIVE STOCK MARKET

They constituted the big buik of the receipts as noted above. Owing to the large number received and to the fact that a good many trains were late in arriving it was after 10 o'clock before the arrivals had all been yarded. Additional time was consumed in shaping up the stuff and making them ready to show, so that it was well along toward midday before buyers and sellers got down to business. As usual on a Monday, country buyers and sellers were slow in arriving, which added still further to the duliness at the beginning. Thus it happened that the early trade was very slow, with buyers generally talking lower prices and with the prospect that lambs would sell a little lower than last week's cose. Heavy receipts are anticipated for the next day or two and it would look very much as if it were a good time for parties wanting feeder lambs to get their orders in while they can be filled.

the run a year ago today was a record breaker.

The first cattle to sell this morning were the dealrable kinds of feeders, which were in good demand at fully steady prices. Buyers were out in the yards early in the morning and everything having quality changed hands very readily, as noted. Common and inferior grades were naturally neglected until the last, and the market on that kind of stuff showed more or less weakness.

ENDEAVORING TO MAKE ADDRESS Stands in Balcony in Heart of Capital of the Country-Rocks Are Showered Upon Him Till He Flees.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 2.-Stoned and forcibly robbed of 3,000 peacs today by a nob of Maderistas in the principal thoroughfare of the capital, General Bernardo Royes, candidate for the presidency in opposition to Francisco I. Madero, was forced to abandon an effort to address his constituents and to run the gauntlet of a jeering crowd, upon whom the police had last resort.

Repeatedly the police charged the turbu ent element, however, and the records of the Red Cross, the White Cross and the commissaries account for forty-three wounded as a result of the day's disorders. Most of these were injured by stones, but many show bruises and gashes made by the sabers of the mounted police.

The stoning of the aged general was the climax of a riot that began about 10 o'clock this morning and had not been entirely quelled at a late hour tonight. Since its beginning police and soldiers have patrolled the streets, but because of the gov ernment's desire not to use the iron hand the heavily armed horsemen had but an intimidatory effect upon the rabble.

The police, hated by the populace as the instrument used by Diaz to maintain order with an iron hand, had drawn their sabers and charged the crowd stoically, riding into the mass of shouting humanity, trusting to the force of the rush to keep the crowd moving.

Escapes in Automobile. Inside the building Reyes' friends had succeeded in convincing him it was useless to try to carry out his program. The party had an automobile brought to the entrance and in it they started for the Rayes home in Santa Maria.

The chauffeur drove the car down the street at racing speed and the troop of mounted police which had been detailed to act at Reyes' escort galloped far in the rear. The flying automobile escaped most of the stones hurled at it, but the escort of police was stoned at every jump by the crowd, which now lined the avenue the length of the Alameda.

Less than 100 yards away, in the center of the Alameda, the usual Sunday band concert was in progress and the hundreds of promenaders were in igornance as to what was transpiring until a squad of mounted police clamored almost into their rioters had begun to pour.

President Taft's Message Revives Speculation About Them,

All Available Valuables Have Alread: Been Taken from Them, but More Prizes Undoubtedly Are Left.

SANTIAGO, Cubs. Sept. 4-Preside Taft's recent message to congress, ask n that it be determined whether the Span men of war sunk in the battle of Sant'a :.. thirteen years ago should be given away. and Secretary Knox's opinion that the wrecks belong to the United States, have revived speculation here as to the possibility of refloating the ships. Engineers who have studied the location of the three battleships and two torpedo boats are of the opinion that their salvage is practicable and would warrant the expense of saving the hulks.

Seven miles west of the narrow mouth to Santiago harbor lies the first of Cervera's battleships, the Almirante Oquendo. It is beached in the breakers of Juan Gonzales, with about one-third of its hulk visible above the white tops. Long ago it was stripped of every portable article by wreckers who braved a watery grave for the prizes it was reputed to have held. They took everything they could pry loose, including, report has it, many golden coins from the ship's safe. Recent inspection shows that the ship was sacked even of the rivets which held its fixtures in place.

Might Recover Flagship.

Admiral Cervera's fingship, the Vizcaya, lies eight miles further down the rocky coast, as much a victim to the depredations of ocean junkmen as the Oquendo. The third of its form breaks the land line, and it is believed there would be comparatively little difficulty in recovering it, with other ships of the Spanish fleet, although it would be entirely worthless, it is thought, as a vessel of war. Nearly two hours' sail from the Vizcaya, at Rio Torquino, forty-eight miles from this city, is the third of the four Spanish ships, the Christobal Colon. The Colon has been preserved from the hand of the vandal by four fathoms of water above it. Locked in its safe there is said to be a large amount of money; aboard it nothing has been disturbed since it was silenced by American guns and run ashore to prevent its capture. The water is comparatively deep at the point where it lies submerged, and the land rises from the sea, a sheer precipice of considerable proportions. Its salvage would probably be the most difficult of the three, engineers as-
