Report that Erb and Hawley Interests Are About to Be Merged.

Minneapolis & St. Louis Road to Absorb the Iowa Central, thus Gaining an Outlet to the Southern Country.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—A new through route from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico, which is expected to rearrange the railroad map of the west in important particulars is provided for in plans made known today by Newton Erb, who, with Edwin Hawley, is actively engaged in the undertaking. The first step in the project is to be the leasing of the Iowa Central railroad to the Minneapolis & St. Louis. The directors of the Iowa Central authorized the president of the road to appoint a committee to confer with a similar committee representing the Minneapolis & St. Louis and arrange the terms of the lease.

Fire Marshal is Busy

The state fire marshal is investigating several cases of alleged arson out in the state, and expects to secure conviction. A remarkable case is reported from Havelock, Sioux county, where a blacksmith named Loterman is accused of setting fire to his shop to get the insurance, making use of a clever electrical and clock device. Another suspicious case is at Dumont, Butler county, where it is alleged Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Pfeffer set fire to a shop by means of bottles filled with oil and lighted candles.

INDIANS HAVE GOOD YEAR

Winnabagoes Coming to Front with Farming Operations.

CHIEF CLERK TELLS OF WORK

W. W. Small of Macy Says Red Man Takes Kindly to Suggestions of Government—Abbott to Make Trip West.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—W. W. Small, chief clerk of the Omaha and Winnabago Indian reservations, stationed at Macy, Neb., accompanied by Mrs. Macy, arrived in Washington today and called to pay his respects to Acting Indian Commissioner Abbott. Mr. Small is east partly on departmental business and, that concluded, will take a short trip along the Atlantic seaboard for pleasure. The plan inaugurated by Assistant Commissioner F. H. Abbott some three years ago of appointing a number of practical farmers to teach the Indians the more modern methods of agriculture is now bearing out the wisdom of these appointments. Not only in the Winnabago and Omaha reservations have the Indians taken kindly to the suggestions of the government farmer, but upon many other reservations gratifying reports are being received as to crop conditions on reservations, where allotments have been entirely cultivated by the Indians.

On the Omaha reservation the progress is not so marked as among the Winnabagoes. Still, their work has been fair this year, considering weather conditions. Two years before the practical farmer arrived on the Winnabago reservation there were but 3,000 acres under cultivation by the Indians. This year there are 11,000 acres under profitable cultivation. In addition, it is reported that at least 100 homes have been built by the Winnabagoes upon their allotments.

Good Year for Winnabagoes

In speaking of conditions among the Winnabagoes, Mr. Small said: "The Winnabagoes have had the best year of their history. Dozens of them have gone upon and are farming their allotments; dozens of little homes have been built; they are handling 11,000 acres of land and are growing crops of an estimated value of $200,000. There are not more than 37 per cent as many chattel mortgages on growing crops as there were last year, with at least 25 per cent more crops. There are now in the course of construction twelve homes and plans for as many more are being discussed.

Drunkennes, which was so prevalent among these Indians a few years ago, has practically disappeared.

Assistant Indian Commissioner F. H. Abbott will leave Washington on September 17 for a couple of weeks' official business, first at Chicago, to superintend the opening of bids for the food supply for the Indians for the next fiscal year. From Chicago Mr. Abbott will go to Fort Totten, Indian reservation in North Dakota to attend the first annual Indian fair during the week of September 20. Mr. Abbott is no stranger on the Fort Berthold reservation, having, in company of Representative Hanna, visited the Indians two years ago and in council with them a treaty was drawn whereby some 25,000 acres of this land will be thrown open to settlement.

During that visit Commissioner Abbott gained the consent of the Indians to the appropriation of $25,000 out of their trust fund to be used in the development of a demonstration farm.

Abbott Goes to Fargo.

After the fair Mr. Abbott will go to Fargo to confer with Representative Hanna to confer and discuss various methods relating to the opening of this reserve. It appears that underlying these agricultural lands are large deposits of coal and it is the purpose of the department to so frame legislation that only surface entries may be made upon these lands, the coal beneath remaining forever the property of the government. This matter will be thoroughly discussed by Commissioner Abbott and Representative Hanna with the Indians and it is hoped an amicable agreement may be reported. Mr. Abbott will also visit Devil's Lake and Cheyenne in South Dakota and hopes to have time to visit the several Indian reservations in Nebraska.

His last stop on his eastward journey will be at Omaha to look into affairs pertaining to the Indian warehouse.

Great Chinese Flood Reported by Wilder

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The enormity and horror of the famine situation confronting China, caused by the overflow of the Yang-Tze river, was officially reported to the State department by American Consul General Wilder at Shanghai, and the question of tendering Red Cross assistance is under consideration.

The entire territory between Hankow and Shanghai—a distance of about 500 miles—has been overflowed, Mr. Wilder declares. Cities and towns are under water, many dwellings being entirely submerged. Because of the scarcity of rice and the destruction of the fields the cost of living has risen to the highest point ever attained.

NEW WITNESS TO THE CRIME

I could not hear, and then I heard him say: 'I'll show you I'm going to end it.' He got out of the machine and walked across to the opposite side of the road from where I was, and then, after he had been there a minute, he came back with something in his hands. I could not see what it was in the dark. The woman was standing in the machine in front of the left hand seat in the front part of the automobile when the man came back.

Heard the Woman Scream

"Just when the man came back I heard the woman scream once. Then the man, who was standing in the crowd, swung with his hand in his hair and hit the woman on the right side of the face. She fell from the machine to the road and did not make a sound.

For a minute the man stood looking at her and then I heard him say: 'Damn you, you're dead now. I'll fix you.' Then he up with a gun, which was what he had in the road by the front seat of the automobile. I did not see where he shot her. I saw him throw the gun somewhere and he ran to lift the body to the front seat of the automobile, and I came out from the trees.

The man turned around and saw me and said to me: 'Did you see this?'

"I told him yes I had seen it. 'D-n you, what the h— are you going to do about it?' he said. I didn't say anything. Then he began to threaten me. He said he was rich and had lots of friends in Richmond and if I told on him he would have me killed somehow. He said nobody would believe my story if I appeared in court against him anyway and I had better get out. He said he would give me some money and a suit of clothes if I would go away.

"I told the man I would go away. Then he told me to come to Beattie's store the next day and there would be some money for me. I went and he got some money and bought a suit of clothes. I stayed in South Richmond for two days then, but I was so scared and got so nervous after that two days that I took the train to this place."

Court convened at 10:30 o'clock. Judge Watson declared in court that the testimony today might refer to portions of testimony "not fit for women to hear," and requested all women in the court room to leave.

The jury Watson then read the instructions to the jury. The prisoner listened intently to the reading of the instructions and smiled when they had been concluded. J. M. Gregory began the argument for the prosecution at 10:35 o'clock.

"The record in the case shows," he said, "on a dark night, July 18, the soil of this country was stained by some high assassin with the blood of an innocent woman. I believe I can show that no other man committed the crime but the husband of that woman, with the very gun, you gentlemen of the jury, have examined here.

He was the only man seen on the spot that night and he was armed with the same gun he has here identified."

Attorney Gregory, after referring to the crime as "hellish," reviewed the evidence of the boys who came from a dance at Bon Air the night of the murder, arguing that it was the prisoner that saw and none other, crouching in front of the machine and a woman on the running board.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 7.—Boush Binford and Paul Beattie, detained as witnesses for the commonwealth in the Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., murder case, were released from the Henrico county jail today by Chesterfield Circuit court.

J. W. Coppeland of Dayton, Ohio, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for his boy who had a cold, and before the bottle was all used the boy's cold was gone. Is that not better than to pay a five-dollar doctor's bill? For sale by all dealers.
