OMAHA. Sept 8, 1811.

The weather map shows cool and rainy over a large portion of the apring wheat country, which is unfavorable for the wheat that is still in the fields. The temperatures in the Canadian northwest are cool, but the extent of wheat to be out yet is unknown. yet is unknown.

With the failure to see the volume of export business expected on the recent bullen Russian naws and the official report on spring wheat to be issued at the close today gave the market a duil tone and ranges BATTOW were narrow.

Long corn has been sold steadily, anticipating a bearish government report today. The trade generally expects an improvement in the average condition since the August report. However stooks are small and shipments will likely continus heavy, following the recent heavy cash males, and opinions are that the crop will be a short one at best. one at best.
Wheat ruled slightly weaker pending the government report and on more favorable Argentina advices. Cash wheat was 1691sc

HOGS—Hog trade started out at a very fair pace, but finished in lame condition. It was a market safely so higher on about three dozen loads that were sold early, the period of improvement being followed by a dead luil. When business finally reopened, practically all of the early gain had vanished, and iste sales averaged no better than steady. Movement in the latter part of the session was decidedly dull, a condition due largely to reports of cautious buying at Chicago, and clearance at il o'clock found several loads still in first hands, with poor prospects of clearing.

Size of receipts had no appreciable influence upon the demand, as estimate called for only sixty-two loads. Ordinary butcher animals made up the big bulk, and many classes that brought $6.5597.60 early had to sell at $5.9096.50 after the "recess."
Long strings ranged from $6.90 to $7.00 and tops reached $7.10, a high price that was paid early by a shipper.

Orders from outside concerns were generally hard to locate and the aggregate shipping purchase did not exceed twelve or fifteen loads. Bacon hogs were favored by margin buyers, but quality, rather than weight, was the main consideration.

The feeder market was the largest and busiest of course, as western ranges are furnishing thin and in-between classes rather than finished offerings at present. Packers tab last night placed the four days purchase by country and speculative buyers at 97,000 head, about 70 per cent of total receipts, Spreads between ratend feeder lambs have narrowed consoderably, the margin being less than a half-dollar in most bases.

W.L. Fisher Arrives in Seattle from Alaska

Secretary of Interior Says Controller Bay's Harbor Facilities Have Been Exaggerated.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 8 .- Secretary of the Interior Walter L. Fisher, who left Seattle August 16 on a tour of Alaska, arrived here today on the revenue cutter Tacoma.

over the whole mlleage of the three rallroads of Alaska. He talked with everyone he met who had suggestions to offer on the policy of the Interior department. Mr. Fisher said today that he did not wish to make a statement of the conclusions he had reached as to the betterment of conditions in Alaska. In conversations in Alaska and on the steamer the secretary declared himself in favor or wagon road construction, aids to agriculture and the expediting of settlement of titles to coal

Mr. Fisher expressed disappointment with the Bering river coal deposits. The coal, he said, seemed much broken up and where exposed to the air orumbled at the touch. Controller bay did not impress the secretary as offering the harbor facilities that had been represented.
