

NEW TRIUMPH FOR WOODWARD

Opening of the Stock Season at the American Great Success.

MISS LANG GETS WARM WELCOME

Popular Leading Woman Made to Know that Her Omaha Friends Are Loyal—Others in the Company Liked.

For a woman who has spent several years full of labor and achievement in trying to show the people of Omaha the true artistic successes that can be attained by an intelligent stock company when headed by a capable actress, it must have been gratifying to receive such a welcome as Miss Eva Lang received at the American Saturday night when the Woodward Stock company opened the season there.

The other returning members of former seasons were given a like greeting. Mr. Clinton Tustin, who did vaillant service last winter, came first upon the stage and was not allowed to juggle a single bit before he had thanked everybody for thanking him.

In a Beautiful Home. The beautiful theater which will make an attractive and worthy home for the Woodward company this season was packed to the roof trees.

The company opens in "The Chaplain," a farce comedy. It is just the sort of thing that Miss Lang does particularly well because of her poise, her charm and her infectious humor.

The most important of the newcomers, Mr. Harry Burkhardt, succeeds to the difficulties of a long line of capable men who have taken the masculine leads in the Woodward Stock company.

Charming faces are not new in the company, but Miss Lotus Robb is a discovery as an ingenue, and is a sweet and most agreeable surprise.

Raise Taft Flag to National Air in Seventh Ward

Addresses Eulogizing President and Military Music Mark Republican Celebration.

The handsome wool hunting American flag, the gift of President William H. Taft to the Seventh Ward Republican club, was formally presented to the club, unfurled, and raised with impressive ceremony at a meeting of the club on the corner of Twenty-ninth and Hickory streets yesterday afternoon.

Ben E. Baker acted as chairman, and as personal representative of the president for the occasion presented the flag to M. J. Greevy, as president of the club. Briefly he eulogized the president and at some length paid tribute to the American flag.

"Wherever Old Glory floats it sheds the light of liberty and freedom to the people of the world and it carries within its folds the eternal principles of liberty and equality and the guarantee of security and safety to every American citizen on the face of the globe."

"As we stand beneath it today may we with one heart and one thought, as in silent prayer, whisper, 'Our country—our God, one people and one flag.'"

Upon behalf of the club, Mr. Greevy accepted the flag and promised to guard it and keep it flying from the handsome steel staff erected for it. He expressed his own gratitude and that of the club for the gift of the president.

William F. Gurley spoke in praise of President Taft, saying he has put into operation the ideas of former President Roosevelt. The former president was so busy conceiving ideas for improvement in government, he said, that he lacked the time to put them into practical effect.

A. W. Jeffers made the concluding address, eulogizing the president and declaring that the next thirty years will see the vindication of his ideas and acts on reciprocity, the permanent tariff board, and other measures.

A Great Advantage to Working Men. J. A. Maple, 125 S. 7th St., Steubenville, O., says: "For years I suffered from weak kidneys and a severe bladder trouble. I learned of Foley Kidney Pills and their wonderful cures, so I began taking them, and sure enough I had as good results as any I heard about. My backache left me and to one of my business expressions, that alone is a great advantage. My kidneys acted free and normal, and that saved me a lot of misery. It is now a pleasure to work where it used to be a misery. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me and have my highest praise." For sale by all druggists.

Man Teaches Theft, Say Arrested Boys

Charged with Looting Store, South Omaha Lads Beg to Be Allowed Liberty.

Pleading that they have been taught to steal by a man of mature years, four South Omaha boys begged for their release when arrested by South Omaha police department detectives on charges of looting the Lewis & Meyerson store last night. The boys were unable to give the names of their teacher of crime, but said it sounds something like McNulty or McNulty. The boys, with three others, are being held for investigation by the juvenile authorities.

The Lewis & Meyerson store was severely damaged by fire Wednesday night. Thursday night it was looted, considerable clothing and other merchandise being taken. Last night the detectives recovered the stolen property and arrested the seven boys.

The lads' ages range from 12 to 15 years. They are James Grady, George and Ed Rabin, Joe Brady of 2600 Jefferson street, and Phil Mitchell, Teney Zader and Virgil Davis of Twenty-seventh and Jackson streets. The last four are the ones who say a man led them into crime. Grady and the Rabin boys declare their innocence.

LECTURE COURSE AT LIBRARY

Prof. Paul H. Grumann of Lincoln Will Give Series of Talks, SCHOOL TEACHERS IN CHARGE

German Mythology and Poetry of Wagner Operas Will Be Treated in Fifteen Lectures—Also to Talk on Ibsen.

Plans are being made at the public library for courses of lectures to be held in the lecture room. The most important of these lectures will be the course inaugurated by Paul H. Grumann, professor of modern German literature of the University of Nebraska, who will give a course of fifteen lectures on German mythology and the poetry of the Wagner operas. The lectures will be divided into two periods, the first being devoted to German mythology and the second to Wagnerian opera. Prof. Grumann will also introduce several of Ibsen's plays.

The general outline of the course of these lectures is as follows: For the first hour, German superstitions, Indo-European relations, the Germanic tribes, religion and myth, Indo-European gods, sun worship, Thor-Donar, Odin-Wodan, Loki-Alcyon, Heppnator, Baldur—classical and Christian relatives, Germanic goddesses—classical parallels, the Eddas, Voluapa, Yule and Christmas, Easter and Aurora, day and season myths, myth and literature.

For the second, Ibsen's ghosts, an enemy of the people; Brand; or the Lady from the Sea; Peer Gynt; or Hedda Gabler; Wagner—general lecture, Tannhauser, Lohengrin, Tristan and Isolde, the master-singers of Nuremberg, Ibsen—The Vikings, Wagner's Ring; (a) Rheingold, (b) Walkure, (c) Siegfried, (d) Gotterdammerung; Parsifal.

The management of the course of lectures is in the hands of a committee of Omaha High school teachers, consisting of Misses Jeannette McDonald, Jeanie Towne, Abba Bowen and Zora Shields.

His Lectures Popular. The public will recall the great popularity of Prof. Grumann last year, when he gave his course at the library building on the modern German drama. These lectures were the most popular of any ever given at the library building and were of interest to people of all classes and interests.

Prof. Grumann appealed to the scholarly and literary classes, to those who are fond of the drama and to those who are interested in the problems of the day as represented in these dramas. It is probable that his subjects for this year will be equally popular and as the lecture room at the library building will seat only 125 persons, it will be well to make early arrangements for attendance.

Tickets may be purchased later at the high school building or at the committee previously mentioned or at the public library. The price of these will be $5 for the course of fifteen lectures, $2 for each hour, and $1 for one hour each. Single admissions will be 50 cents.
