Catholics Must Unite, Says James E. Quigley

Church Preparing to Meet Same Adverse Conditions in America as in France and Portugal.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—The Catholic church is preparing to meet the same adverse conditions in the United States that it has in France and Portugal, according to a statement by Archbishop James Edward Quigley, in an address today before the sixtieth annual convention of the German Catholic Central Verein.

"Organization is the hope of the Catholic church here," he said. "The question confronting the organization is what to do about the dangers now threatening Christianity in this country. In France and Portugal the Catholic church was persecuted, because the Catholics were not organized."

"Although there were thousands of devout and loyal Catholics, who would have given their lives for conscience's sake, they were merely without leadership, and were defeated. The ultimate object of Christian living is christianizing the whole world. It would be impossible for the enemies of Christian society to gain a victory over the church, as they have done in the old world. The troubles of the Catholic church abroad can be directly traced to lack of an organized, united organization such as this furnishes as the great need of Christian America today."

Cardinal Monsignor Diomedeo Falconio, papal delegate to this country, read a message from the pope, and German addresses were given by M. F. Girten of New York and others.

BABY PITIFUL SIGHT WITH ECZEMA

Completely Covered. Bandaged from Head to Foot. Dared Not Wash Him, Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment 4 Weeks and He Was Cured.

"A few days after birth we noticed an inflamed spot on our baby's hip which soon began spreading until baby was completely covered even in his eyes, ears and scalp. For eight weeks he was bandaged from head to foot. He could not have a stitch of clothing on. Our regular physician pronounced it chronic eczema. He was very able physician and ranks with the best in this locality, nevertheless the disease began spreading until baby was completely covered. He was losing flesh so rapidly that we became alarmed and decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment."

"Not until I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment could we tell what he looked like, as we dared not wash him, and I had been putting one application after another on him. On removing the scales from his head the hair came off, and left him entirely bald, but since we have been using Cuticura Soap and Ointment he has as much hair as ever. Four weeks after we began to use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment he was entirely cured. I don't believe anyone could have eczema worse than our baby. Before we used the Cuticura Remedies we could hardly look at him, he was such a pitiful sight. He would have until I would treat him, they seemed to relieve him so much. Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured by itself and the result they quickly and surely bring is their own recommendation." (Signed) Mrs. T. B. Roser, Mill Hill, Pa., Feb. 20, '11. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Send to Putzer Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 28A, Boston, for a liberal sample of each, post-free, with 32-p. book on the skin.

Rumors of Garage Stir the Select West Farnam Section

Handy Place for Car Pleases Some and Puts Others on the Warpath.

Plans for a big new auto garage in the fashionable West Farnam district not only promise residents of the district more convenient "stabling" quarters for their cars, but threatens to cause a rumpus on the part of those who do not relish the idea of a garage near their property.

West Farnam people have learned that a local real estate firm has completed negotiations, on behalf of an automobile man, for a two-story garage of handsome architecture that will take care of most of the cars in the neighborhood. Plans for the building have been drafted and the site secured, presumably in the neighborhood of Thirty-sixth street.

This pleases the inhabitants of the district generally, for nearly every man has a car and he doesn't like to wait for it to be sent out from a garage clear down town. He usually wants it in a hurry. When the new garage is built all he will have to do will be to take a walk of three or four blocks, just enough to put his blood into brisk circulation, and take out his car.

But everybody on or near Farnam street who has heard of the proposition fears that the garage will be located on some vacant lot close to his home. He doesn't want his landscape cluttered up with garages and he doesn't want to have his babies awakened at all hours of the day and night by motors puffing out of the building. So some opposition to the construction of the garage is promised as soon as the West Farnamites learn just where it is to be located.

Farmer Stumbles and Falls with Box of Dynamite Caps

Having dropped an armful of dynamite caps as he was carrying them from his farm house near Calhoun, Neb., Saturday, Gibson Hank is at St. Joseph's hospital in a serious condition as a result of the explosion.

The farmer was brought here on a special train and met at the Union station by Dr. E. R. Porter, who took him to the hospital. He was severely burned and bones in his legs and arms were broken by the explosion, which threw him nearly fifty feet.

Hank had bought the dynamite for blowing up stumps and had started to take it into his house when his wife objected. He started for an outbuilding to store it away and stumbled, dropping the big box of caps.

Lutheran Colonists Organize a Church

Rev. J. E. Hummon, Former Pastor, Speaks of Religious Side of His California Enterprise.

"One who wishes to go out into the west to help develop the country need not fear lack of churches and ministrations. Paul, said Rev. J. E. Hummon, former pastor of Kountze Memorial church, now land salesman, preliminary to a sermon Sunday morning in St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Nineteenth and Cass streets.

"On the land which my company is colonizing we already have enough people for an organized church of twenty-five members. This fall we will have 125 members or more and expect to erect a church before cold weather. A church grows naturally in a new land."

Mr. Hummon said he had not intended to say anything about his present work, but reading in The Bee that he was expected to do so, he would merely refer to the religious features of it. Mr. Hummon's Lutheran Colonization company is colonizing a tract of land near Red Bluff, Cal., and a number of former Omaha Lutherans have located there.

ACCIDENT IN THE OMAHA YARDS

Two Men Sustain Bad Scratches and Bruises and Two Coaches Are Knocked from Tracks at Thirtieth and Mason.

Two men were injured and two coaches were knocked from the railroad tracks at Thirtieth and Mason streets late Sunday afternoon, when a Chicago & Northwestern passenger train, hurrying into Omaha to make lost time, missed its block signal and collided with a Union Pacific switch engine.

E. M. Schoop and W. F. Mathews, railway mail clerks, sustained bad bruises and scratches, when the mail car in which they were working was struck by the engine. The car was toppled off the track and the mail clerks were violently jostled about as the car fell. The baggage car, which was next to the mail car, was badly damaged. None of the other coaches was damaged.

It was by a miracle that no one was killed. Engineer Sheehan and Conductor Muffey of the train could not explain how the accident had happened. It was said that the engineer either had missed catching the block signal or the signal was out of order.

Several doctors were called to the scene of the accident, but the two injured men

Street Railway Men Meet in St. Joseph

Four Hundred Delegates Refuse to Use Trolley Cars Because Local Union is Disbanded.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 11.—Four hundred delegates are in St. Joseph from all parts of the United States and Canada to attend the biennial convention of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electrical Railway Men of America, which begins tomorrow.

The international now has 5,000 affiliated members and Resain Orr of Detroit, international treasurer, said that during the last two years the wages of the members have been increased $1,000,000 each year. Salt Lake City is an active candidate for the 1912 convention.

On account of the local union having been disbanded through the efforts of the street railway company the delegates are not using the street cars and trolleybuses and other vehicles have been hired to carry them about the city.

MANDAMUS AGAINST ROADS

Judge Day Orders the Railroads to Appear and Show Cause.

NICHOLAS STREET VIADUCT ISSUE

City Attorney Rhine Follows Orders of the City Council to Carry Work on the New Structure Across Tracks.

Railroads entering Omaha were ordered to either start work on the city's proposed Nicholas street viaduct or else appear in court and show why they should not be compelled to do so by Judge George A. Day in the equity division of the district court Monday.

City Attorney Rhine filed application for a mandamus writ commanding the roads to go to work on the viaduct in district court Monday morning. The petition immediately was taken before Judge Day, who issued an alternative writ of mandamus. The city asked that the writ be made returnable within thirty days. Judge Day made it returnable October 11. On that date the roads must either show why they should not be forced to build the viaduct or else start building.

City Attorney Rhine's action executed an order of the city council.
