NEW HOME FOR THE MASONS

Scottish Rite Masons to Build at Once at Twentieth and Douglas.

WILL NOT WAIT FOR SHRINERS Letter May Join in the Undertaking Yet, but the Building Will Be Erected Anyway—Plans Are Drawn.

Scottish Rite Masons of Omaha have definitely decided to erect a $150,000 temple on their grounds at Twentieth and Douglas streets, whether the Shriners join with them or not, though there is still time for the Shriners to join in the proposition before working plans are completed.

John Latenser has been engaged to draft plans, and at a meeting of the board of directors of the Scottish Rite, Thursday night he will submit two sets of preliminary plans, one of which probably will be adopted.

Mr. Latenser's sketches are for a building three stories in height, ninety feet wide by 132 feet long, with a handsome classical front, which includes forty-foot Doric columns on either side of the entrance.

The Scottish Rite property is directly across Douglas street from the Omaha club and was bought two or three years ago. It is wide enough to afford a glass plot and trees on both sides of the building.

Many Scottish Rite Masons who are also Shriners are very anxious that the two bodies join in erecting the building, but so far the Shriner body has taken no action toward doing so, though many Shriners will have stock in the building.

The blue lodges own the present Masonic temple at Sixteenth and Capitol Ave. and are not interested in the new proposition.

Lobeck Says Champ Clark Will Be Dark Horse of the Race

Congressman Says Wilson and Harmon Forces Will Have to Turn to Champ Clark.

Congressman Lobeck has returned from Colorado, where he has been rusticated with his family. "While gazing at the snow on the mountains out in the high altitudes," said the congressman, in a reminiscent mood, "I began to give deep consideration to the most available man for the democratic nomination for the high office of president of the United States."

"We will have one candidate with us pretty soon, as an official visitor, and hence it behooves the thoughtful democrat of the land to get busy in providing a foe man worthy of his steel. I think that's the way to put it, in a case like this."

"Viewing day after day the snow on the mountain tops of Colorado, it occurred to me that we must this time avoid anything like a cold proposition, or the business men won't take it warmly, and after a good deal of serious thought I am willing to name Champ Clark of old Missouri as the real thing to give a rosy tinge to democratic prospects in 1912. And in certain contingencies I think Clark is bound to win."

At present Wilson and Harmon have the inside track, so far as public consideration and agitation goes, but eventually these two factions must turn to a third man, and that will mean Clark. He is a double-distilled dilldabbler dipped in his own dew, and when he takes the stump with the presidency lingering just over the horizon the people will be given an opportunity to listen to an orator who deals with tariff, protection and other republican programs just as a Missouri mule deals with Nebraska alfalfa. He will eat 'em up, sir. The speaker is a friend of the glad and golden west, and he will stir the electorate into a frenzy that will stir the free silver campaign."

The Omaha congressman did not have a picture of W. J. Bryan with him.

Wolcott Arraigned on Forgery Charge

Also Accused of Embezzlement When He is Brought, Worn and Haggard, Before Judge.

Orville C. Wolcott, former general agent of the Prudential Insurance company, was arraigned in district court Monday morning on charges of forgery and embezzlement. Stanley Ross-water, attorney for the prisoner, entered a plea of not guilty for his client.

Wolcott appeared haggard and worn when brought into the presence of the judge, his arrest and attendant humiliation telling greatly on his physique. Judge Babson says that the prisoner has been in very poor health ever since his arrest.

The first charge upon which Wolcott was arraigned was one of embezzlement, in which he was charged with appropriating $113, paid by Dr. F. Owen as premium on a policy for the doctor's son, Hubert Owen. The second was one of forgery, it being alleged that Wolcott forged a note from William O. Anderson of North Bend, Neb., for $142.26 and induced a bank in North Bend to discount it.

Wolcott is said by the Prudential company to have defrauded it of nearly $3,000. This sum is said to have been taken in small amounts, ranging from $100 to $300. No reason for Wolcott's alleged thefts is known. He refuses to talk. When arrested he had been drinking heavily.

SUGAR IS STILL SOARING UP

Some of the Local Jobbers Are Now Completely Sold Out.

QUESTION OF GETTING SUGAR Some Predict that it Will Advance to Eight Dollars Per Hundred in New York—Jobbers Cannot Get Supply.

A threatened sugar famine confronts Omaha and the entire country, according to local jobbers and retailers of that article. Some of the local jobbers are completely out of sugar, and are selling only in small quantities and many retailers have a sufficient supply for only a couple of weeks.

Sugar is quoted in New York today at 47 per 100 pounds, which is equal to 87¢ at Omaha, and which would mean only about twelve pounds for $1 for the Omaha consumer. But New York reports none to sell at even this figure.

Dealers here are selling on the basis of what they had to pay for the small supply on hand and one can yet buy fifteen pounds for $1 at some of the stores, and fourteen at others. But unless new supplies arrive soon it is predicted that only twelve or thirteen pounds will be given for $1.

"I look to see sugar go to $1 per 100 pounds in New York," said A. King, manager of Hayden Bros. grocery department, "and it is now higher than I can remember."

"It is not now a question of price at all, but of getting the sugar," J. F. Ferguson of Paxton & Gallagher, jobbers here, said. "Refiners declare there is a shortage of raw sugar. Retailers complain they are having a hard time to sell fruit on account of the high price of sugar, which a month ago could be had at $1 for eighteen pounds and three or four months ago at $1 for twenty pounds. Western beet sugar promises no relief of the situation for some time, as the sugar mills will not begin to grind for two or three weeks."
